> Dr. Creflo Dollar, Senior Pastor Pastor Carol Jones, Officiant Pastor Reginald Ezell, Eulogist

Dean Clark Phillips was born July 24, 1968, in Boston, Massachusetts, to Edith Clark and Leon Phillips. Up to ten years old, he attended school in the Roxbury School District in Massachusetts. Dean and his mother then relocated to Atlanta, Georgia, in 1978, where he graduated from Feldwood High School in 1987. Upon graduating from high school, he attended the Art Institute of Atlanta, where he majored in Photography.

Dean's professional career encompassed various management positions in Corporate America. Due to his hard work and determination, Dean developed a strong work ethic, leading him to become an entrepreneur and philanthropist. As the owner and proprietor of Pro Property Group LLC, launched in 2007, he provided employment opportunities to a magnitude of citizens in the community. Dean expanded his entrepreneurial endeavors and created Golden Eye Photography. While operating his own business, he provided knowledge and support to others to establish their own.

Dean's compassion and love for his community sparked the creation of the "Was and Now" Foundation Inc., an organization committed to providing beds for children sleeping on the floor in underprivileged communities. The motto "A Bed for Every Little Head" has spread throughout the community and brought significant awareness to this need to care for others. His community outreach was broad as the official photographer and logistics coordinator with the Stewart Foundation, a youth leadership development program whose mission is to strengthen the mind, body, and soul of children. Dean was a community pillar and mentored many young people across Atlanta.

Dean united in holy matrimony to his beautiful wife Sandra on October 30, 1999, and God blessed them with a blended family of five children. Dean was a protector, provider, and man of valor, honor, and dignity. His family and friends held him in the highest esteem for the community, and all those who encountered him respected him.

Dean was a distinguished man with a strong sense of fashion. He recognized the importance of making a great first impression and instilled that value in other young men in his family and community. His hobbies included hunting, deep-sea fishing, golfing, traveling, biking, and spending time with family and friends. Dean was a courageous man whose spirit and nature sought justice for all. He stood for righteousness and the protection of humankind to his very end.

Dean is preceded in death by his stepfather Marion Underwood Jr., mother-in-law Bessie Rush, and brother-in-law SFC (Ret) James Albert Rush.

Left to cherish his memory are his loving and devoted wife, Sandra Phillips (Stonecrest, GA); mother, Edith Underwood (Fayetteville, GA), father Leon Phillips (Los Angeles, CA); children Daimon (Akia) of Riverdale, GA, Mikayla (Fairburn, GA), Darien (Knoxville, TN), LaCharity & Destiny (Stonecrest, GA); four grandchildren Daimon Jr., Deon, Daylen and Jesse; paternal siblings Lauren Vinson (Boston, MA), Tia Bottom-Towns (Dallas, TX), and Jheneen Vinson Jason (Orlando, FL); In-laws: Lerna, Rosalyn & Aric Rush (Columbus, GA) and Charles Rush Jr. (Stonecrest, GA), and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, extended family, and friends.

Dean accepted Christ as his Lord and Savior in the early 1990s and served in various positions in ministry. Under the leadership of Pastor Creflo Dollar at World Changers Church International, he served as the Pastor's assistant; in Crusade Ministry and served in the Media Department for over ten years. In 2004, Dean joined World Covenant Christian Center under the leadership of Pastor Reginald Ezell. As a servant leader with many roles and responsibilities, he was the personal assistant to the Pastor while planning all crusade conferences and serving as the Crusade Director. As the Media Director, Dean was responsible for book publications, tape distributions, packaging, and inventory of materials available for each conference. He also served as a Sargent & Squad Leader of the Lord's Volunteer Boot Camp.
