

Today we honor Lola and her sister Stella, the daughters of Dillon and Krystal Allen.

We acknowledge that we do not fully understand the mystery of Life or of Death.

Giving thanks for their brief time in this world, we now entrust Lola and Stella, with both sadness and faith, to God's loving care.

As you remember the anniversary of their birth and deaths, may you be comforted by the Spirit of Love and Peace, and sustained in this time of grief.

May you, their parents, continue to heal from the loss of your little ones. And may your memories of them be ever more gentle and peaceful.

Amen
