Acknowledgment

Bishop Moore was a powerful well-loved man who surrounded himself with people who he treated well, and they treated him well. Special thanks to his niece, Mrs. Bettie Johnson, and her husband, Mr. Billie Johnson, who treated him as a father and friend, ensuring that household things were cared for with his help and direction. He appreciated their early morning trips to countless appointments in Temple, TX. The Johnson’s dedication made life richer for their uncle. Special thanks to every other niece and their husbands who were available to assist their uncle in his time of need. Thanks to the King’s Christian House of Prayer family, who loved their pastor and treated him as one of their own. Finally, thanks to Felecia Moon, RN of Accent Health Care, for kind, compassionate, professional care and Mrs. Shirley Hayes of Angel Home Health for devoted care.

Thanks, Missionary Anita T. Farrish, Living Word GOGIC, for your faithful commitment as hospitality chair. Bishop and Sister Moore admired your service and looked forward to their love basket during the anniversary service and on trips to conventions. Dr. Gillum, thanks for sharing Missionary Farrish and for your visits while Bishop recuperated in Waco. Sister Lillian Cruz, Sister Doris Dove, and Sister Gladys Davis are appreciated for their help through the years.

The family gratefully acknowledges every expression of kindness and love extended to us during this time. Thanks, and may God bless each of you.

The Obituary

THE humble servant, King Moore, Jr., was born the fifth child to the late King Moore, Sr., and Mrs. Tennie Humphrey Moore on October 26, 1924. He attended public school in Marlin, Texas, and joined the United States Navy, serving his country honorably for a number of years. King Moore, Jr., fondly shared stories about his experience in the Navy. He shared a story of him being in a windstorm, and he had to hold onto a pole with the wind stretching him out, but God protected him from being blown overboard. After returning from the Navy, he worked for many years in different areas of the Veterans Affairs Medical Center before retiring as a nursing assistant.

KING was married to the late Mrs. Florene Jackson Moore, and to this union was born a son, Lonnie Joe Moore, who was cherished and loved and adoringly referred to by his dad as “My Boy.”

KING MOORE, JR., professed a hope in Christ as a child and remained steadfast in this hope until his last breath. He was baptized in Jesus’ Name and began pastoring after his calling into the ministry from God. He pastored the Free Church of God in Christ in Jesus’ Name under the leadership of Bishop Earl Evans, Sr. He never changed pastoring of the same congregation, but the name of the church was changed to King’s Christian House of Prayer in the late 90s, affiliated with Apostolic Pentecostal Fellowship of Churches. He served in this organization as an elder under the leadership of the late Bishop Horace Stacey. Elder Moore was recommended to become a Bishop and was ordained by Bishop Dwayne Williams. He was the oldest member still leading a church and was respected as a humble servant by those who encountered him. He NEVER refused to openly praise the Lord with a dance and “Hallelujah, Hallelujah.” Bishop Moore believed in testifying and sharing how good the Lord had been to him down through the years. He shared his calling at 33 years of age, his walk to Beaumont, Texas, preaching at his cousin’s church after being refused initially, being saved from injury in a truck wreck in Dallas, TX. At 97 years of age, he had many testimonies and always encouraged us to love and to “Be not forgetful: to entertain strangers for thereby some have entertained angels unawares.”

BISHOP MOORE had great faith, was a prayer warrior, FASTED, PRAYED, and was HEALED from being on DIALYSIS for KIDNEY failure. He would testify: “If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you Howbeit this kind goeth not out but by prayer and fasting.”

Together Again...

BISHOP MOORE was active in the church organization attending local joint meetings and state and national church conventions. He humbly rejoiced when we received first place for Sabbath School banner.

BISHOP KING MOORE, JR., was visible and active in the community which included the Juneteenth Club. He would purchase tickets for his members and ensure we were served whatever meal was on the menu that year. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge.

BISHOP MOORE had a passion for living off the land and was an avid fisherman. He would catch the fish and share it with the entire Marlin Community and those who visited his church. He picked berries, pecans, pomegranates, polk salad, tomatoes, and other vegetables. He shared all of these with the entire community and church family, who loved to see him coming.

BISHOP KING MOORE, JR., was preceded in death by his parents; wife, Florene Jackson Moore; sister, Winnie Moore Smith; brothers, Israel Moore, Tommie Moore, and C. L. Moore; and grandson, Malcolm Moore.

BISHOP KING MOORE, JR., was quiet, except when praising the Lord. He had a hearty laugh that brightened the room, loved his family and church, and, if you know him well, he would not say goodbye or bye. He left his beloved family, church family, and friends in the same way, quietly slipping away with the last words, “I’m alright,” in response to “Bishop, are you okay?”

HE leaves to cherish his memory: his son, Lonnie Joe Moore, Sr., and wife, Bobbie Rogers Moore; brothers, Howard Moore of Marlin, Texas, and Bill E. Moore, Sr., of Temple, Texas; grandsons, Eric Moore and Lonnie Joe Moore, Jr.; 9 great-grandchildren; special niece, Mrs. Bettie Smith Johnson and husband, Mr. Billie Johnson; a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, and his loved church family at King’s Christian House of Prayer and Apostolic Pentecostal Fellowship of Churches; and his doorbell, “Lou, Lou” the puppy.
