

A tribute to my lovely wife

JULIA YOUNG

I thank God for giving me a beautiful, sweet and loving wife for 36 years, the best years I will ever have. My life will never be the same without you. I thank you for giving me two wonderful children, CJ and Ashley. They were your heart and joy. Julia, you were the epitome of Proverbs 31, a virtuous woman, godly woman, a woman of strength, and love. You built our marriage, our family, and home in love and harmony. You poured out your love into each one of us. You made our home a loving and warm home, in which, I looked forward to coming to everyday after work.

Thank you for being so patient with me and helping me to grow into the man that I am today. You were a peaceful woman, not argumentative, you brought joy, laughter and happiness to our marriage. Even though we had ups and downs, challenges of life, you remained prayful, peaceful, and encouraging to us through difficult times. We kept our faith in God.

Julia, I love with all my heart. You are so precious to me. You are a precious jewel that God made especially for me. There is not another woman like you. I bless you and your children rises up and bless you. My heart aches because you are gone, but I know you are in a better place now and you are at rest. I rejoice in the fact to you have no more pain and suffering. You are with the Lord, wrapped in His love. I look forward to joining you and seeing when I get there. I will never forget and will always love you forever. Rest in peace my love!

Your dear husband, Clarence Young Jr.

Mrs. Julia Anna Lamb Young

Julia Anna Lamb Young was born on July 13, 1954 in Edenton, North Carolina to Lee-Etta Lamb and David Felton. She attended John A. Holmes High School, where she was a proud band, and gospel choir member. Julia then went on to attend Elizabeth City State University. After consideration of her next steps in life, Julia moved to Raleigh, NC and had a successful, 37-year career at Rex UNC Hospital. It was there that Julia's light touched the hearts, loved, and encouraged many people, of which became life-long friends. Julia retired from rex in May of 2015. Julia Married Clarence Young Jr. of Raleigh on October 6, 1984. Together, they raised two wonderful children, CJ and Ashley, worked in ministry, shared the gospel of Jesus Christ with many, and lived a beautiful life of 36 years together. Julia cherished her role as a loving wife, and outstanding mother. Julia adored her children. She will always be remembered for how she doted on them. She adored her husband and truly lived as a Proverbs 31 virtuous woman and wife. She was the epitome of grace, peace, patience and love, both in her home and everywhere she went. Julia never met any strangers. She was always kind and loving to everyone she met. When Julia called you friend, you felt her genuine love, concern, and care. Julia gave her life to Christ at an early age. She made it her mission to take younger people under her wings to walk a righteous path, be a big sister, and generous host to many of whom still cherish those memories today. She was choir director for many years and loved singing. She is most notable in her hometown of Edenton for her rendition of "Going Up Yonder" by Tremaine Hawkins. Her daughter, Ashley, was blessed to receive the gift of Julia's beautiful voice, and Julia was extremely proud. Many were drawn to her warm smile, big heart and humble spirit. She was a prayer warrior for her family near and far, and her friend, and everyone she came into contact with, that were in need of prayer. She would spend her time praying and seeking God on the behalf of those she loved. Julia will be sorely missed by her loving family, church family and friends. Her legacy of love, prayer, a salvation will carry on for generations. Julia is forever cherished and deeply loved. She will never be forgotten.

Julia is preceded in death by her late mother, Lee-Etta Lamb, father, David Felton, father-in-law, Clarence Young, Sr., sister, Mildred Lee Roulhac, brother, Jake Norman, and brother, David Lee Felton.
