

How do you say Good Bye to the strongest woman you knew? Lottie went through numerous hardships in life. starting with a childhood in a war stricken Germany, during WWII. Culminating in her own decision to leave this life on her own terms. Sparring her children from having to make that decision for her.

How do you say Good Bye to a mother who explained the meaning of life? Who said to you when you lost your grandfather at 12 " In heaven every one of us have a candle burning there. Some candles are very very short. Those are for the babies who died too young. Some candles are very very long. Those are for the old who live long in life. There are many, many candles in between. These candles are our lives and nothing can change the size of your candle. When your candle burns out we go home.

How do you say Good Bye to a beautiful, smart friend? One who would love you for who you are. Who would tell you the honest truth even if you didn't want to hear it.

There is no way to say Good Bye to such a person. Our memories won't allow it. So instead of saying Good Bye. I will say to you strong woman, wise mother, and beautiful friend. Save a place for us till we meet again.
