

A Mother's Heart

A mother's heart is loving,
 A mother's heart cares,
 A mother's heart is gentle,
 A mother's heart shares.
 A mother's heart knows joy,
 A mother's heart knows love,
 But a mother's heart is broken,
 When their son is gone above.
 But I find a restful assurance,
 That the God who my heart knows,
 Will keep you in His loving heart,
 And protect my heart from woes.
 So Tyree, my son, take your rest,
 I know I will see you again,
 Until then, my heart will thank God,
 For the days I had with you to spend.

Love Always,
 Mom

Obituary

Tyree Jamal Coles, Sr., was born on March 2, 1993 to the late Tawanda Martin and Edward Martin. He was one of four children, including sisters, Shieema Simpson, Ebony Martin, and Diajah Martin. Although he would be separated from his sisters, their bond was unbroken. At the age of 11, Tyree's second family entered his life in the persons of Anita Coles, Anthony Coles, and Andre DeShields. Dennisha and Eric Coles would later join his second family. How blessed he was to have not just one family, but two?

Tyree found an extended family at the Mount Calvary Family Worship Center, where he became a member and joined the usher board. His family kept increasing. Lula Scott became his Grandma, Sharon Smith became Aunt Sharon, and countless other members of the Mt. Calvary Church family connected to him, not but blood but by love.

Raised in Philadelphia, Tyree attended the Philadelphia public schools. He was smart, enjoyed basketball, and loved music, especially R&B and rap. Tyree also liked to eat good food, enjoyed family gatherings, and loved to look good. He was proud to be a father, loved his son, Tyree, and was just getting to know his newborn daughter, Journee.

Sadly and suddenly, on June 18, 2021, Tyree transitioned from this life surrounded by angels and his beloved pastor/aunt, Sharon Smith. He leaves footprints on the hearts of his children, Tyree Jr. and Journee; his mother, Anita Coles; his father, Edward Martin; sisters, Shieema Simpson, Ebony Martin, Diajah Martin, and Dennisha Coles; brothers, Anthony Coles, Andre DeShields, and Eric Coles; nephews, Khaleem and Kahsin Harris, Nasir Coles, Andre DeShields, Jr., and Chase Coles; niece, Lyric Martin; grandmother, Lula Scott; his Mount Calvary Church family; and special ladies, Lexis Brown, Aneesah Young, and Jasmine Lowry.

Rest in peace, stand in His love, forever in our hearts,
The Family
