SAILING CAMPS - Ages 6-15 years old

If your kids are new to sailing, a sailing camp is highly recommended. Camps are designed to be fun, relaxed classes where kids will have a great first experience sailing. Each of the classes are primarily taught in X boats and possibly a day in Optimist Dinghys. These boats provide great platforms for teaching young sailors the basics of sailing. Each X boat will have an instructor onboard with two to three students. This will help students gain confidence in their skills while preparing them to continue on with another sailing class or a crewing position. Class size is limited to 10 students. Sailboats are provided. All you need to bring is a U.S. Coast Guard approved life jacket. CLYC membership is not required for these classes.

They will learn the very basics about sailing. It is fun, easy to do, and you even get candy! What kid (or parent for that matter) wouldn't love this class? Beginner Optis are designed to be a fun, enjoyable class where the students are taught in Optimist Dinghys (Optis). They will be sailing primarily with one other student with the goal of getting them comfortable sailing on their own. This class is designed as a course to help your child learn to have full control of their boat. They will learn how to go upwind, downwind or wherever they want. The goal is to enable them to get around singlehanded and introduce them to a race course. CLYC membership is not required for these classes.
