

Twin Cities Club Links

Minnesota Canoe Association

Website: <http://www.mncanoe.org>

The Minnesota Canoe Association is a group of adults and kids who love paddling in all forms. From canoeing to kayaking, racing to ambling, flatwater to whitewater, if you paddle in or around Minnesota, you've found your home!

Minnesota Rover Outdoors Club

Website: <https://mnrovers.org>

Minnesota Rovers Outdoors Club is a diverse group of people drawn together by a common appreciation for the outdoors. We enjoy hiking, biking, canoeing, climbing, skiing, snowshoeing, camping, sight-seeing, and we take an active role in the preservation of the wilderness with which Minnesota is so well endowed.

Rapids Riders

Website: <https://rapidsriders.org>

Rapids Riders seeks to promote the responsible enjoyment of whitewater canoeing and kayaking. We provide American Canoe Association (ACA) certified instruction in techniques and safety; coordinate informational activities, trips and competitions; and work with local agencies and private concerns to promote river stewardship and ensure the future of whitewater paddle sports in the upper Midwest.

SKOAC: Superior Kayak & Outdoor Adventure Club

Website: <https://www.skoac.org>

Based in the Twin Cities, SKOAC is a group of paddlers dedicated to fostering a supportive educational environment for those interested in sea kayaking and other outdoor endeavors. This club is a cooperative endeavor. It will continue to thrive as long as members commit themselves to contribute to the club activities. The club's mission is two-fold:

- To provide low cost, practical training and experience to members through mentoring, skill workshops, occasional pool sessions, and club-sponsored trips.
- To provide area paddlers with a community in which they can meet and befriend other paddlers with similar interests.

Three Rivers Park District

Website: <https://www.threeriversparks.org/activity/paddling>

Three Rivers offers canoe, kayak, rowboat, paddleboat and stand-up paddleboard rentals at several parks as well as instruction taught by certified instructors.