“Exploring Planet Word: Where Language Comes to Life” with Rebecca Roberts, Curator of Programming, Planet Word

Please join us for an exciting online tour of Planet Word, an immersive language experience located at the historic Franklin School in Washington, DC. It is the world's first voice-activated museum bringing words and language to life. Through the magic of online programming, we will tour the museum and be able to ask questions of our guide for the session. Rebecca Roberts, Curator of Programming, will serve as our docent for the evening. She is also a nationally recognized author and former program Coordinator for Smithsonian Associates.

Thursday, January 28th

“Rediscovering the United States” with Peter Greenberg, Travel Writer

Considering the time in which we find ourselves, it may be time to rediscover America in 2021! Please join us for a wonderful session on the important locations of the United States and how to rediscover them. Our host for the evening will be experienced American journalist and travel writer Peter Greenberg. He serves as the CBS News Travel Editor and may be best known as the Travel Editor for NBC's Today, CBNC and MSNBC from 1995 to 2009. He also writes for seniors through AARP.

“With a Truncated Transition, How Can President-elect Biden Catch Up?”

with Martha Joynt Kumar, Director White House Transition Project

Please join us for a timely presentation by Martha Joynt Kumar, Director, of the White House Transition Project. Begun in 1999, the organization provides information to new White House staff to expedite transition from one Administration to the next. She has a long history of studying these transitions and publishing scholarly works about them. In the current environment, her comments will be fascinating.

Thursday, February 25th

“The Current Pandemic and Steps Forward” with Jane Hyatt Thorpe, J.D.
Milken Institute School of Public Health

Jane Hyatt Thorpe serves as a Professor of Health Policy and Management and a senior member of the management team in the public health school at George Washington University. In addition to her stellar career at GWU, Jane has had extensive experience in private legal practice, trade association representation, and at the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services as the Deputy Director of the Office of Policy. Also timely, Jane will discuss the current state of the pandemic in which we find ourselves and the steps to move us past this crisis.

Wednesday, March 10th

"Fight House: Rivalries in the White House from Truman to Trump" with Tevi Troy CEO of the American Health Policy Institute

Tevi Troy currently serves as the CEO of the American Health Policy Institute and has also served as a senior staff person at the White House during the Presidency of George W. Bush as well as Deputy Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services during that Administration. In addition to his public service at senior levels of an Administration, Tevi is the author of a number of books that focus on various aspects of American history. During this fascinating session, he will present to us his book about rivalries in various Administrations, including the most recent one of President Trump, a book recently designated as a "must read" by the Wall Street Journal. Another timely Georgetown Village event!
