

Carla Pascoe Leahy is an Australian Research Council DECRA Fellow at the University of Melbourne, Joint Editor of Studies in Oral History journal, an Associate of the Contemporary Histories Research Group and an Honorary Associate at Museums Victoria. She is a contemporary historian whose research focuses on motherhood and family; children and youth; place, environment and sustainability; and oral history and qualitative research.

Carla is the author of Spaces Imagined, Places Remembered: Childhood in 1950s Australia (2011) and co-editor of Children, Childhood and Cultural Heritage (2013), Children's Voices from the Past: New Historical and Interdisciplinary Perspectives (2019) and Australian Mothering: Historical and Sociological Perspectives (2019). Carla is wrapping up an ARC-funded project on the history of Australian motherhood and in 2022 will publish Becoming a Mother: An Australian History 1945-2020 (Manchester University Press). Next year she begins a new position as Lecturer in Family History at the University of Tasmania.
