Frequently Asked Questions

What does the exam cover? What is it like?

The exam, which you have up to four hours to complete, has a total of 100 questions in multiple-choice format. Questions cover the role of the supervisor, communication skills, interpersonal skills, introduction to finance and budgeting, leadership and motivation, safety, time management and planning, business law, interviewing and hiring, conflict resolution and problem solving and teambuilding. A score of 70% is required to pass.

Is there an application or exam fee?

Yes. There is an application and exam fee, please see application for pricing. All fees are non-refundable. If AFE finds you are not eligible for the exam fees will be returned.

Am I eligible?

You are eligible if you have a minimum of 2 years in plant/facility supervisory capacity (OR) minimum 3 years in field overall.

Do I need to show proof of my employment history?

Yes. Included in this packet is an Employment Verification form. This needs to be completed by your employer(s) based on your employment history and eligibility (i.e. if you have been with your current employer for 3 or more years, one form is required. If you have been with several companies with over a 3-year period, a form from each employer is required).

Do I have to be an AFE member to take the test?

No. However, you must be an AFE member to renew your certification when it expires in three years.

How can I prepare for the exam?

AFE offers a CPS Review Pak, (please see application for pricing) which covers the 11 topics contained in the exam. Assessment tests are available on our web site. These tests can give you an idea of how prepared you are in each subject matter. If you do not wish to attend a seminar or review you can do self-study and prepare on your own.

How much time do I have to complete the process of becoming certified?

Once you have submitted your application and it is approved by AFE, you will be notified and you have one year to prepare for and complete the certification examination.

What happens if I wait longer than one year to take the exam?

If it has been more than a year since you applied for the CPS and you have not taken the exam, you will need to re-apply and submit the necessary fees and required paperwork.

Where is the exam given?

You can take the CPS exam at either (1) a national review program site or (2) at your workplace, using a proctor from your employer's human resources. If that is not an option, a boss or supervisor may act as your proctor. If you take the exam at your facility you have two options you can take it in either paper-based or on-line format. Test materials are forwarded to the proctor one day in advance of your exam date. Upon completion of the exam, the proctor will return the materials to the certification department for grading.

If I fail, can I take the exam again?

Yes, however you are subject to a re-test fee. If you attend a review program and do not pass the exam you will not be subjected to a re-test fee. Please see application for fees.

If I pass, what happens?

Several things: You will be notified by AFE's certification department and so will your boss. We do this because we think you deserve congratulations and your boss deserves to know what you have achieved to become a more valuable employee. Also, you will receive a certificate and a CPS identification card.

Is my certification good for life or does it expire?

You must earn at least five recertification credits every three years. Three of those credits come simply from being continuously employed in the plant/facilities field. The other credits will come from professional development seminars, workshops etc. When it is time to recertify you will be notified by AFE national and you will be sent the CPS recertification guidelines along with the recertification application.

OVERVIEW

Supervisors must demonstrate proficiency in varying roles within the plant/facility workplace that include a blend of technical know-how and interpersonal skills. Basic supervision requires individuals that understand what to do in the face of change, be effective communicators, empower employees and enable them to overcome the daily challenges they face. Most importantly, create an atmosphere where each employee has the opportunity to contribute to the success of the organization. As more plant and facilities personnel move into leadership roles, they find they must clearly demonstrate their expertise. The CPS credential is designed to validate that you, as a certified individual, possess the professional expertise and knowledge required to successfully perform plant and facilities supervisory activities. Becoming a Certified Professional Supervisor will leave no doubts about your ability to provide first-line supervision within the organization.

OBJECTIVES OF THE PROGRAM

- To provide a standard of professional competence in the field of plant/facility supervision.
- To identify and recognize those individuals who, by passing an examination and fulfilling requirements of experience, responsibility and conduct, meet that standard.
- To encourage plant/facility supervisory professionals or those aspiring to promote to supervision in a continuing program of professional development.
- To stimulate and provide a standard for the development of educational curricula and degree programs for plant/facility supervisory professionals.
- To enhance the status of plant/facilities supervision as a unique discipline and profession by demonstrating that a realistic standard of professional competence can be clearly defined.
