Banana Kelly Community Improvement Association Inc.

Summary of mission	Banana Kelly Community Improvement Association, Inc. is only possible because residents, who were part of one of the most dramatic urban debacles of American history, were unrelenting in their fight to save their neighborhood – this despite the general consensus from outside the community that there was no future for the South Bronx, at least not for those who lived there. Given this history, where local residents built this organization from nothing, we are compelled to respect and promote local resident capacity in our ongoing work.

Hyde Leadership

Summary of mission	The Hyde approach is unlike any other. We believe that all children, regardless of their neighborhood, race, or income, are gifted with special talents to offer the world, and that school is a place for students to develop the skills and mindsets needed to become their best selves. Furthermore, we assert that human beings are more complex than annual data points, and that the fulfillment of a person's life correlates not simply to test scores, but even more so to their relationships with others and the content of their character. With our Family-Based Character Education Model, we focus on helping students develop their character and the skills they need for life through rigorous academics, self-discovery, and family involvement. This distinct model is guided by our K-12 character program, including the Hyde Words, Principles, and Priorities.
