Air Conditioner replaced

I was visiting an elderly lady who had received a brochure and was interested in the organization. She was hoping we had someone who could go grocery shopping with her. I noticed her apartment was very hot and that her air conditioner was not working. I asked if she needed help replacing it and ultimately we went together with a car service to PC Richards. This week it was installed. She joined.

A member called me from Brooklyn Hospital

"I need an advocate. Please call doctor _____ and tell him I'm not taking any of the medicine he prescribed because I don't trust that he understood me." I did reach the doctor and explained who she was and her concerns. He was very responsive and immediately went to her room to reach an understanding so that she would accept the medication. "Who are you?" he said. I explained I represented an organization of which his patient was a member. We advocate for our members.
