

Elizabeth Ellis and Heather Cox received the MAVA Mary Wisner Award for Excellence in Volunteer Administration.

The award was given to Elizabeth Ellis in recognition to her many contributions to the development of the Volunteer Impact Leadership Training series, being an expert trainer for the series, leading Train the Trainers, serving as Chair of MAVA Connections, contributing to the MAVA “Tool Kit for Building Peer Professional Networks”, serving as chair of DOVIA, involvement in the founding of MAVA and many other contributions to the field.

The award was given to Heather Cox in recognition to her contribution to the Volunteer Impact Leadership Training Series though leading many modules, providing in-service training for trainers and contributing her professional training skills in many ways to elevate the overall quality of the series; service on the MAVA Volunteerism in Immigrant and Refugee and VRL Oversight Committees; and overall leadership to the field.

