

Florida Floodplain Managers Association
2019 Annual Conferences
Abstracts

- Title: Local Floodplain Manager Roles and Responsibilities G-194
- Length: 90 minutes
- Subject: FDEM / FEMA
- Target Audience: Engineers, Surveyors, Building Officials, Floodplain Managers
- Presenter Name: Carlos Castro, CFM, EI
Floodplain Manager
Osceola County
- Biography: Carlos Castro works as a Civil Engineer II for the Osceola County Development Review Department. Carlos has various responsibilities as a Civil Engineer that include the review and approval of all Development Review applications relative to engineering, responding to technical questions and field concerns, maintains the Development Review permit application tracking system, reviews the development cost estimates for bonding purposes, provides technical support to the engineering inspection staff, reviews flood zone determinations and is the former Floodplain Administrator for Osceola County.
- Co-Presenter: None
- Biography:
- Abstract: Advanced Floodplain Management Concepts I (E/L/G194)
Local Floodplain Manager Roles and Responsibilities (included in G194) – This module reviews the major roles of the floodplain manager who serves as a coordinator, regulator, educator, and planner. Participants learn about the organizations and individuals that need to be coordinated with, recordkeeping practices, regulatory responsibilities, tools for handling violations, and methods for providing information on insurance implications and mitigation planning.