James Linkogle, CFM
Chair

Here we are with another year past and as usual our organization accomplished more in 2015 than I ever would have imagined!

Moving forward into the next era we will need to work on developing a deeper understanding of our commitment, attitudes, and actions. As an organization we must seize every opportunity to focus on unified efforts at every level of service to our membership, our core values, and vision statements.

As we walk through 2016 and the next few years together, let us never forget the support of those individuals who have assisted in making this organization great, and let us rally around those who are acting in a unified effort to make it even greater.

Thank you all for your efforts and continued support.

In your service,

James Linkogle, CFM
Chair
