About Mt. Bachelor

With over 4,300 acres of lift-accessible terrain, you won't want to pass up a trip to the ski resort with the highest summit of skiable elevation in all of Oregon and Washington! At 9,065 feet, Mt. Bachelor located on the eastern flanks of Oregon's Central Cascades, is known for its light, dry snow, diverse terrain, and long seasons. You can ski or ride 360 degrees off the summit with a vertical drop of 3,365 feet, hike the adjoining cinder cone for a thrilling run down, or ski the trees to find that cache of powder! Conveniently located just 22 miles west of Bend, Mt. Bachelor's season is one of the longest in the Northwest usually starting in November by Thanksgiving and lasting well into May. Mt. Bachelor offers 101 runs with a Max Run of 4 miles, average snow base of 150-200", and average snowfall of 462". The Alpine terrain rating is 15% Green-Novice, 35% Blue-Intermediate, 30% Black-Advanced, and 20% Double Black-Expert.
