Tip: Having Trouble Volleying? Think of volleying like catching!

The main thing players have to realize while volleying is that less is more! The same simple motion you use to catch a ball out in front will be a solid foundation for successful volleying.

1. When catching a ball we don't take a swing we simply put our hand in front to catch the ball.
2. While catching we naturally put our hand in the location where the ball is GOING TO BE! We don't FOLLOW THE BALL WITH OUR HAND. We have our hand in the position we have estimated it is going to land in our hand!
3. We do not over think while catching!

Use these 3 tips and translate them to your volley. A good drill would be to have someone hit you a forehand volley and instead of hitting it, first catch it in your dominant hand while stepping in like you would for a volley. Repeat this drill a few times and then add a racket.

For information on a wide variety of Carderock tennis programs from Tiny Tots through Elite juniors, plus adults in mornings through Night Owls, from Beginners through Cardio, please email Nitin and visit our website www.carderocktennis.com.

Good luck trying out the Tip of the Month and I'll see you on the tennis court,

Nitin Deodhar

WELCOME

As you see new folks in the neighborhood, give them a hearty Carderock welcome!

FAREWELL

After more than 2 decades, active Carderock residents Bridget and Alfredo Zarate have moved to smaller quarters not too far away, just off Mass. Ave. They'll be missed as we remember them on the tennis courts, at swim meets, and driving endless carpools for their 4 boys.

Carderock will also miss Niki Lindwarm of 8200 Stone Trail Drive who has moved to Columbia MD to be closer to family.

Longtime resident Nora Weinraub Schock passed away in May following a lengthy illness. Born in Vienna, Austria, she became a US citizen in 1946, married nuclear engineer Fred Schock, and moved to Bethesda in 1972. She was a Life Member of Hadassah and enjoyed art, opera and the finer things life offered. In Carderock she will be particularly remembered for her gardening and participation in book club.
