

Tracie Johnson Maurer is a Principal in the Atlanta office of Jackson Lewis P.C.

Tracie exclusively defends employers in workplace disputes before state and federal courts and administrative agencies. She provides advice and counsel on employer workplace compliance issues, best practices for dispute avoidance, and frequently conducts training seminars for managers, supervisors, and employees on a wide range of employment law issues.

Tracie received her undergraduate degree from the University of Michigan and her Juris Doctorate from the University of Georgia School of Law. Before attending law school, Tracie taught in public schools systems in Atlanta, Georgia and Charlotte, North Carolina.

Tracie has served as legal columnist for The Atlanta Tribune; was named to Who's Who in Black Atlanta; selected as a "Rising Super Lawyer;" and served on Boards for local non-profit organizations. Tracie is wife to business lawyer Jake and proud mother of an 11-year old daughter.

Tracie may be reached at (404) 586-1873; Tracie.Maurer@jacksonlewis.com.
