

Lancaster Downtowners, in collaboration with Landis Communities, is pleased to announce the hiring of Melissa Ressler as part-time Executive Director. Lancaster Downtowners is a non-profit Village of individuals wishing to remain in their homes as long as possible during retirement.

Melissa, a Lancaster City resident, most recently served as a Career Counselor Manager with the Occupational Development Center where she provided job training services and designed and implemented programming to expand employment opportunities for adults with developmental disabilities. She holds a degree in Gerontology from Messiah College, and has previous experience as a Care Manager for the Philadelphia Corporation for Aging.

Melissa will be located at Lancaster Downtowners' new office at Steeple View Lofts, 118 N. Water Street in Lancaster.
