

VVAA Scholarships Presented

On May 18, 2021, Linda Harris, Director of Programs for VVAA, presented $500 scholarships to outstanding seniors Adam Hilker and Giselle Guerrero during the Virgin Valley High School awards assembly. In their applications for the scholarships, both seniors wrote about how their involvement with the arts have impacted their lives in a positive way. Giselle has participated in jazz and marching band, chamber orchestra and chamber choir. In addition, she was the head Drum Major for Virgin Valley High School this year. She maintained an A average while taking dual credit and advanced placement courses. Giselle believes in giving back to her community and volunteers in various community projects on a regular basis. She plans to attend Dixie State University, enrolling in the College of Business to study finance and accounting. Giselle states “I wish to help families achieve their financial goals by educating them and offering financial advice.”

Adam Hilker has also given back to his community as a volunteer tutor in the elementary schools. He remarks that “I have always been drawn to helping a community I can call home.” Adam has been involved in the performing arts at VVHS. He performed in after school plays and also created various props. Adam maintained a high-grade point average at VVHS and is a member of the National Honor Society. He plans to attend Southern Utah University to major in Computer Science and Technologies.

VVAA wishes both of these remarkable young people much success!
