I am visiting 10,000 homes this summer because I feel that it is important to listen to the concerns of the people I hope to represent. I'm on a mission to eliminate wasteful spending and protect Arizona families. Most of the candidates support corporate welfare projects, such as a $2.3 billion light rail line or a $600 million convention center dubbed, 'too big' by national experts. Taxpayer dollars are better put to use in critical areas such as education and law enforcement. Nothing is more important than improving our children's education. I disagree with liberal Republicans like John McComish and Linda Wegener on key social issues. Unlike them, I am pro-life, and proudly endorsed by Arizona Right-to-Life. Furthermore, whereas John McComish would not ban gay marriage and supports gay adoption, I believe that marriage is strictly between one man and one woman. So if you believe that fiscal responsibility, education, illegal immigration and crime are top priorities, and if you want a state representative who defends the sanctity of marriage and life, then I need your support and I need your vote. If you have any questions, please call 480-759-1729, email jeffdial@jeffdial.com or visit www.jeffdial.com.

I have been a resident of this district for many years and an active member of the community, initially as a small business owner. For the past eight years I have served as President/Executive Director of the Ahwatukee Foothills Chamber of Commerce. My record of leadership in community service includes three years as Chair of the Ahwtukee Foothills Village Planning Committee, past member of the City Planning Commission, President's Advisory Council of South Mountain Community College, and an Elder at Mission del Sol Presbyterian Church in Tempe. Before moving to Arizona, I spent 24 years as a corporate executive for several Fortune 500 firms. It is important for the legislature to maintain a business-friendly environment that ensures a vibrant economy for our state. We must also develop an educational system that delivers the quality workforce necessary to address the economic needs of the 21st century. Finally, we need to anticipate and meet our ongoing public safety and transportation needs. I would appreciate your vote in the Republican Primary on September 7.

Jeff Dial, a resident of Chandler, is a businessman, a veteran and a community leader. Jeff volunteers for numerous civic organizations, including the American Red Cross, and is a member of Mountain Park Community Church in Ahwatukee. Twenty years ago, Jeff started working for his family business and was fortunate enough to learn early on the importance of hard work and unwavering integrity. Now, as executive vice president, Jeff Dial understands how important a strong economic policy is for creating jobs and ensuring businesses relocate to Arizona. Jeff Dial believes Illegal immigration is Arizona's largest problem. Jeff's solutions: enforce existing immigration laws, secure our borders, deny welfare and other taxpayer funded benefits to illegal aliens, crack down on human and drug smuggling and implement guest worker programs, once the border is secure. Jeff Dial also believes education is a top priority and advocates allocating more money directly to classrooms, recruiting and retaining quality teachers by paying them what they are worth and investing in math, science and technology earlier. Please join your neighbors in supporting Jeff Dial and his mission to fight illegal immigration, prevent crime, improve education and strengthen Arizona's economy with your vote on November 4th.

John McComish

Party: Republican Campaign Funding: Traditional Web: www.jmccomish.com

John McComish is completing his second term in the State House of Representatives, where he currently serves as the Majority Whip. In addition to being elected to leadership by his colleagues, Representative McComish serves on the Financial Institutions and Insurance and the Rules committees. Recently he was recognized as Legislator of the Year by the Arizona Chamber of Commerce. Representative McComish spent 24 years as a corporate executive before moving to Ahwatukee 20 years ago to open his own small business. He subsequently served ten years as the chief executive of the Ahwatukee Foothills Chamber of Commerce. McComish has served on the Phoenix Planning Commission and as Chair of the Ahwatukee Foothills Village Planning Committee. In addition, Representative McComish is a member of Kiwanis and an Elder at Mission del Sol church in Tempe. He and his wife Karen, a long-time teacher in the Kyrene District, have raised two children and have three grandchildren. Legislative priorities for Representative McComish include continuing his work on improving the state's economy, protecting the safety of our citizens, working on comprehensive immigration reform, and strengthening Arizona's education system. Please continue his leadership in the House by voting for John McComish.

Rae Waters

Party: Democratic Campaign Funding: Participating Web: www.raewaters.com

Rae has spent the last 20 years advocating on behalf of children and families, both at the state and national level. She has served as an elected official for the last 10 years on the Kyrene School District Governing Board, helping to turn it into one of the highest-performing districts in the state. Despite Arizona ranking 49th in the nation in school funding, Kyrene during Rae's tenure has gone from 11th place in the state in dollars spent directly on our children to first place among similarly-sized districts. She helped accomplish this while maintaining balanced budgets and without compromising Kyrene's nationally recognized school programs and its students' high academic performance.

It is her belief in, and her experience sustaining, strong schools and fiscal responsibility that made Rae decide to run for the Arizona House of Representatives District 20 seat. An independent-minded collaborator, Rae has and will work with both sides of the political aisle to support measures that improve education and keep state government efficient, effective, and accountable. Rae is the only candidate with education experience asking for your vote for a District 20 House seat, and is the best choice to represent your interests in the State House.

Frank Schmuck has honorably served our community, Arizona and the Nation in various capacities. A US Air Force Academy military honors graduate, Schmuck is also a decorated war veteran and airline pilot who worked on, advocated, and successfully helped campaign for full disability benefits for Gulf War veterans diagnosed with Lou Gehrig's disease. When people became frustrated and began complaining of excessive noise along US 60 and Loop 101, Schmuck personally conducted independent noise studies revealing that the noise was in violation of both State and Federal standards. Schmuck then led the way in demonstrating and recommending how rubberized asphalt would reduce the noise levels by half and allow for freeway expansion and greater traffic flow. Working to meet the educational needs of our youth, Schmuck founded the fourth Arizona Chapter of Dollars for Scholars® providing scholarships to students from seven high schools in Ahwatukee and Tempe. These scholarships help preserve a student's financial aid and in some cases match their scholarship funds. With Educator, Police and Veteran endorsements, you can help Frank Schmuck continue TO SERVE Arizona on issues important to you by supporting him with your vote. Bob Robson, Republican candidate for Arizona House of Representatives, District 20 understands the legislative process and how to get things done. As a former legislator and community leader, the challenges of the current economic situation are not new, but have been abandoned in many cases to achieve political goals. When the next legislative session begins, we have to be ready to deal with the budget problems. Bob knows which problems need to be solved now and which ones can be dealt with later. As a fiscal conservative, he has a short agenda: solve the budget crisis, grow Arizona's economy, create and retain jobs, secure the border and preserve Arizona's education infrastructure. There is a lot of work to be done, and Bob Robson will prioritize the issues. The economic issues can't wait. Bob's background and experience has prepared him to meet these challenges and bring other legislators to consensus to get Arizona on solid financial ground. Your vote for Bob Robson is a vote for sound fiscally conservative solutions. Robson has been endorsed by the Professional Firefighters of AZ, The Arizona Police Association, and the Arizona Highway Patrol Association. Please vote for Bob Robson by early ballot or election day.

I'm a 3rd Generation Arizonan and have lived in Phoenix my entire life. I currently live in Ahwatukee with my wife Rebecca and we run a healthcare consulting firm that focuses on infusing innovation into the healthcare system. I attended Arizona State University for both my graduate and undergraduate education where I studied Political Science, Public Health and Microbiology. Inspired by my father's example of public service, spending 35 years in the Maricopa County Attorney's Office as a prosecutor, I will use my business experience, healthcare knowledge, and education to improve the government of the State of Arizona. My unique background and education will provide me the tools necessary to be your legislator.

Together we can create a business friendly environment for Arizona that encourages businesses to relocate to our state creating new jobs and opportunities. We will strengthen our education system to provide for Arizona's future and ensure we have a fiscally responsible, limited government for our great State. I will also practice TRUE fiscal responsibility to balance the state budget. As a legislator, I pledge to work for the voters and be their advocate as opposed to what we have seen recently from many of our elected officials.

As an Independent, my motivation for running for office is two-fold: 1) to offer a socially moderate, fiscally conservative candidate who is neither tied to a party or ideology and is willing to work with both parties to develop sensible and pragmatic solutions; and 2) to challenge our broken political system that has allowed special interests to control our policy decisions through the corrupting power of money and influence. Let's return to a system where elected officials are responsible to the people, not power brokers. My key issues: End tax giveaways to corporations -- 2/3 to 3/4 of which are paying only the $50 minimum tax -- at the expense of properly funding education (classroom and maintenance, not administration), children's health care and other essential state services; "Truth in Budgeting" -- stop the "shell game" of sweeping funds dedicated for specific purposes (e.g., state parks, mortgage settlement) to the General Fund; and make the budget process transparent by giving enough advance public notice of hearings and making them more accessible for public testimony (e.g., holding informational hearings around the state; video conferencing); Enact tough lobbyist reform to stop the "buying" of legislative access and votes through free meals and gifts (e.g., sports tickets). As a local business owner, I've helped create hundreds of jobs in our community. As a community leader, I've volunteered with dozens of civic and charitable organizations, and serve on several non-profit boards of directors. The name of my company, Vision, reflects my approach; I'm committed to finding common ground and offering long-term solutions that will focus on the issues Arizonans care about: the economy, jobs, and education. My Vision as your Representative is to be a moderate and inclusive voice for our community. I'll use my private sector experience, which includes balancing hundreds of budgets annually, to promote a pro-growth environment that fosters employment, education, healthcare security, and sensible tax reform to rebuild our middle class and move our economy forward. I will focus on strengthening our education system to compete in a 21st-century economy, stimulating job creation by encouraging investment in high growth industries like technology, telecommunication, transportation, energy, and biomedical research, and fighting to keep women's reproductive healthcare private and free from governmental interference. I've built my career and businesses by overcoming differences, finding areas of agreement, and implementing workable, common sense solutions. This is the same moderate approach I will take as your Representative.

As Arizona celebrates its centennial, our legislature has failed to honor the values that founded our state: hard work, common sense, and accountability. Born and raised in Phoenix, my mother taught me the importance of service, and committing your life to causes bigger than yourself. We need a new legacy for Arizona, one based on sound ideas and the principle that our families and communities come first. As a two-time Iraq combat veteran and veterans advocate, I've led the fight to protect our nation and help my fellow veterans rebuild their lives upon returning home. Here in our community, I helped ASU become the 3rd-most veteran supported campus in the U.S. As your representative, I'll help build a solid foundation for our economic future by protecting our schools and working with local businesses to help create jobs. And I'll lead the way for more responsive government, by holding politicians accountable and putting the interests of voters ahead of special interests. I'm running to help build my home into the Arizona we know it to be. Let's make our next 100 years even better: by electing strong leaders who will fight for inclusive, common sense solutions to move our state forward.

I have the expertise and determination to move Arizona forward with education, jobs, and the economy; and to be held accountable for results. With 45 years of experience as a teacher, I will be a strong voice for education in the Senate. As a Clean Elections candidate, I am accountable to our community, not to special interests or lobbyists. Businesses must work together with schools at all levels to create a high-quality workforce and good-paying jobs. Arizona must maintain and sustain existing businesses yet support start-up and early-stage businesses so that Arizonans' jobs and our state economy can be strong and play a leading role with future needs and future technologies. A quality education system, preschool through college, is the foundation of a robust and sustainable economy. Arizona's schools must provide economic opportunities by developing innovation, creativity, and thinking skills. Professionally trained educators, decent class sizes, and classroom resources, including current technology, are the best investment in an economy that supports the needs and dreams of all Arizona families. I have integrity and am committed to being responsive and accountable to the needs and values of our local-grown community. Our community should settle for nothing less.

I have always been a Constitutional Conservative and believe firmly that all laws passed in this country should be based on our Constitution. I believe in the individual's right to a life that is unencumbered by government's overreach. I believe in state's rights and local control of our schools and oppose socialized healthcare. I will bring a unique perspective to the Arizona Senate because of my experience as Chief of the Office of Special Investigations in the Arizona Department of Economic Security. I became well versed in how state agencies conduct their business, manage their budgets, and perform their services. I know where vast improvements can be made and how to make them. It is my intention to be a citizen legislator, for as long as it takes to get the job done and then turn the seat over to, hopefully, another citizen legislator. Our country is a Representative Republic and not a Democracy and I will abide by that principle serving my constituents and not the other way around. I will listen to all points of view and vote for what I believe is for the good of the people.
