The Air Line Pilots Association International represents over 59,149 pilots at 34 airlines of which 3004 are women, approximately 5.18%. (*Astericks are ALPA airlines *) Of that population, 847 are Captains, 2157 are First Officers and less than .01% are Second Officers. This doesn't include sick, military, and personal leaves as well as non-members and managers.

This list doesn't include retired women: 362 women have retired from ALPA carriers since 1985.

PLEASE KEEP THOSE UPDATES COMING!

* Includes pilots with an airplane only certificate. Also includes those with an airplane and a helicopter and/or glider certificate. For example, if a pilot holds a private airplane certificate and a commercial helicopter certificate, the pilot would be categorized as commercial.

 Not included in total pilots.

Remote pilot certification started in August 2016. These numbers are not included in the pilot totals.

At IndiGo we have close to 45% women of our total (male + female) work force. The facts below will give you some idea about our women pilots:

- There are close to 300 women pilots currently employed with IndiGo as co-pilots and commanders
- The ratio of male to female pilots at IndiGo is 6:1

- In the last 5 years the number of women pilots have gone from 69 to 300 till date
- We have 15 women pilots in the managerial position of fleet supervisor and trainers
- Two of our women pilots have been nominated as Flight Operations Inspectors with DGCA

(Six airlines in India: Air India, Jet Airways, IndiGo, Go Air, Spice Jet, Air Asia India)

WASPs: 25,000 women made application to join the WASP; 1,830 were accepted but only 1,074 completed the training.

The airline numbers are compiled one of four ways:

- 1) ALPA Union (33 US carriers that belong)
- 2) Directorate General (India)
- 3) Airline management reported numbers (Women pilots ask management)
- 4) Women pilots count the seniority list at their airline (some margin for error with certain names like Robin!)
