

Lake Currents Article
April 29 Issue

LOWLINC Members Enjoy Outings to Joyful Noise, Stage Alive Concerts
Carolyn Rourke, LOWLINC Communications

LOWLINC members enjoyed social outings in the warming days of April that took them to Culpeper for a Stage Alive performance and close to home at Lake of the Woods Church for a Making Joyful Noise concert.

On April 14, LOWLINC volunteers escorted members to the popular Stage Alive in Culpeper to see a performance by The Young Irishers. The dynamic eight-member troupe performed traditional Irish music, showcased their talents on the harp, fiddle, and button accordion, and demonstrated the unique Irish dance known as step-dancing. There was lots of toe-tapping and humming along, reported the LOWLINC volunteer.

The following Saturday LOWLINC volunteers went with several members to the Making Joyful Noise concert sponsored by Lake of the Woods Church. Back by popular demand from last year were LOW residents Tom Northam and Sherri Lahay Lasover, performing as The Second Time Around. Their eclectic renditions of songs from swing to pop to country had the capacity crowd roaring its approval. Special guest Bill Feterle performed to loud applause during intermission. LOW residents Irene Robinson and Charlie Bocoock accompanied on the piano and drums.

The outings were arranged by the LOWLINC Social Committee, which is co-chaired by Maureen Callahan and Emily Slunt. The committee is responsible for planning and scheduling activities for LOWLINC members who are interested in getting out and around. Maureen says, "Our goal is to make it as easy as possible for LOWLINC members to enjoy activities that will enrich their lives and add fun and social engagement to their daily schedules."

Maureen reports on the committee's plans that "focus on activities being offered at LOW and the surrounding area. This will include events sponsored by local churches and civic organizations, including concerts, fairs and craft shows. We are planning outings to the free movies offered at the Library of Congress Mount Pony theater. We also are fortunate to have many existing interest groups and activities at the Lake, and we will make it possible for LOWLINC members to participate in these as well as in LOWLINC-organized events such as member coffees and social gatherings."

For information on becoming a LOWLINC member, call us at 855-LOWLINC (569-5462) or visit our website at www.lowlinc.org.

Photo Caption: LOWLINC volunteers and members enjoyed an evening out at the Stage Alive concert.