Day 2: 10:15 AM to 11:30 AM

CPE hours: 1.5

Topic	Practical Planning in a Post-BEPS World
Description	By now, most attendees have experienced "Death By BEPS" via countless seminars and webinars outlining the hyper-technical mechanics of the OECD BEPS project and its various Action Items. As a breath of fresh air, this session will provide a new perspective on BEPS by focusing on what the project has left in its wake. The session will consider a radically and fundamentally changed landscape for international tax planning that will be felt worldwide for multinationals ranging from the Fortune 150 to the middle market. The post-BEPS world will force companies of all shapes and sizes to reconsider their holding, financing, and licensing structures through a lens that fully aligns with their genuine operational functions. As such, this session will explore practical, non-academic opportunities for planning, structuring and restructuring in this new global environment.
