ANKURA CONSULTING – Ankura's Professional Liability and Defective Construction (PLDC) Group has a specialized team of seasoned licensed professional architects and engineers with requisite experience across the resolution and advisory landscape with expertise in a variety of evaluations, analytics, and solutions. We leverage a diverse set of skills and robust analytical tools that drive a creative and flexible approach to our clients' most critical issues and challenges.

We have authored a white paper on accessibility associated with the ageing of the Baby Boom generation coupled with the societal issue of elderly falls, the implementation of a fall risk assessment and mitigation approach being a rational prerequisite allowing Ageing in Place within one's own home environment.

Connect with Ankura PLDC Team - Robert W. Davenport, Mona Mahal and Carl Cross - for their expertise with this subject matter. Connect with us if you are interested in learning more about our professional liability and defective construction services.

GRAB YOUR CHANCE TO BE IN THE SPOTLIGHT!

APA randomly chooses one member to be featured as a Member Spotlight on APA's homepage and social media for two weeks. To be eligible, your public listing in the APA Membership Directory (your profile) must include a current photo and bio. The Membership Directory search tool enables prospective clients to find you, so it's essential that your specializations (interests) and the states you service are up to date.

HELP MAKE THE WORLD MORE ACCESSIBLE!

Consider supporting students who are interested in accessibility by donating to the Jim Boyce Memorial Scholarship Fund. Each year APA awards a scholarship to at least one deserving student who has plans to pursue accessibility in their career. All JBMS funds are raised from the APA membership, and your donation will go directly to the scholarships. Find out more here.
