RE: District Four-Way Test Contest
CC: AG's

The District will again be running a Four-Way Test Essay Contest for students in Middle School. This contest is a great opportunity to expose our area youth to this outstanding expression of our Rotarian ethic. I encourage you to consider running a contest in your area. Clubs that participated during past years found it to be a useful exercise. It would be nice to see an increase in participation, as our Four-Way Test is something worth sharing.

The best entry from each club contest will be evaluated at the District level with cash awards going to the top three selections.

Attached is a letter from David Weber, District Chair of the Four-Way Test Award, asking each of you to consider running an essay contest. You will find four attachments including a suggested "Invitation" to schools to participate which includes a brief synopsis of the Four-Way Test, a summary of contest rules, and an essay submittal form. Please note the suggested due date for the local contests are March 4th, 2011 and the due date for local winners to be submitted to the District contest is March 25th, 2011.

If you have specific essay contest questions, refer them to Dave.
