The weather was beautiful for the 2018 Corn Roast Regatta with sunny skies, temps in the high 80s and light winds.

Saturday started out with light winds from the Northwest, and they slowly but persistently shifted to the south all day. The winds were between 3 and 7 knots on Saturday. The Race Committee, led by John Archibald, did a great job getting 4 races in on Saturday, and had to deal with light winds and course changes all day. Craig Pomeroy was leading after day one, with the Orlebekes and Laings right behind.

Saturday night brought the Corn Roast with all the corn, Italians and brats you cared to eat, plus a great band.

Sunday was another hot and light air day, but this time we had inexplicable waves to deal with, which is a challenge in 5-6 knots of breeze. 2 more races on Sunday. The Orlebekes took first (left photo), Craig Pomeroy and crew in second (middle photo) and the Laings in third (crew photo right). We had 13 boats and a nice regatta at South Shore Yacht Club.
