

Three Ways to Jaws

1. Try doing the opposite of running a hoop: no or limited follow-through, and aim your ball to hit the near wire if you have an angle.

OR

2. If you have an angled hoop shot, hit softly, follow through a little, and aim the outside half of your ball to nestle into the far stanchion.

OR

3. If you have a straight line to the hoop, try to roll your ball softly and gently into contact with a stanchion. This can be tricky; if there is rough or uneven ground near the hoop, that area may cause your ball to veer away from the hoop!
