

Ohio Valley Woodturners Guild

Bereavement Policy

Unfortunately the OVWG does lose members to death from time to time. This outlines a standard approach that the Guild will take to acknowledge the member and assist the family under such unfortunate circumstances.

- Upon learning of the death of a member all efforts will be made to notify Guild members of the loss as soon as possible and, when available, share any details of services etc.
- The Guild President will write a note of condolence to the family on behalf of the Guild
- Members may make donations, send flowers, and condolences on their own.
- A page on our website has been created to memorialize deceased members. To offer up pictures or thoughts about the deceased member, please send your information to webmaster@ovwg.org

The Guild, on request, will help dissolve the member's shop/studio, at the appropriate time, ideally utilizing the help of close friends from within the Guild. The process for doing this is outlined separately.
