

Dr. Shawn Dill is a 1995 graduate of Logan College of Chiropractic. For eight years Dr. Dill practiced in the country of Costa Rica, where along with establishing six upper cervical clinics, he also authored the law that regulates the practice of chiropractic in the country.

Since returning to the United States, Dr. Dill has become a noted authority in Upper Cervical Specific. He teaches around the world with The Art of the Specific, having taught many of today's leaders in Upper Cervical Specific Chiropractic.

He is the President of The Specific Chiropractic Centers, which now operates seventeen Knee Chest Upper Cervical Specific clinics.

Many people know him for his work with The Black Diamond Club where he consults with service professionals helping them to leverage marketing, sales and mindset strategies to grow their business and serve more people.

Dr. Dill is a former member of the faculty at Life Chiropractic College West serving as the Director of the Institute for Advanced Care in Chiropractic. He is also the former Chair of the Council on Upper Cervical Care of the International Chiropractors Association.

Currently Dr. Dill serves on the Board of Governors of the Australian Spinal Research Foundation and is a member of the Board of Directors of the International Federation of Chiropractors and Organizations and serves on the Sherman College of Chiropractic Board of Trustees.

He continues to be highly sought as a speaker, making numerous international appearances each year. Dr. Dill has been featured on international radio and television programs. Dr. Dill's impassioned messages of health, ethics and integrity-based practices motivate doctors and lay-people from around the world.