Introduction

Welcome to Dr. Dale's comprehensive Bio-Resonance healing methods, including her Homeopathic Hormone Rejuvenation Systems. These include, NuFem® and EndoPure® homeopathic hormone rejuvenating remedies and advanced testing methods to assess hormone levels and includes a neuro-endocrine rebuilding and optimization program.

Healing endocrine issues today is not as simple to assess due to medication usage, environmental, dietary and emotional stress. Therefore, we need better tools and an understanding that we are, in fact, helping the whole person, body, mind and spirit.

Moreover, any health issue has an endocrine relationship and you will find effective treatments for core issues in this product catalog.

Hormone imbalances, from PMS to post-menopausal complaints, plague women of all ages. Men also suffer hormonal imbalances, which can lead to either aggression on one hand or to depression and low libido on the other.

Dr. Dale's Homeopathic Hormone Rejuvenation System is designed to balance hormones using non-toxic homeopathic remedies in place of either natural or synthetic hormone replacement. Recent evidence in medical literature has brought to our attention the side effects of synthetic hormone replacement. However, the results of accurate saliva testing shows that natural hormone replacement can also cause significant symptoms, including abnormal and toxic hormone levels and liver congestion.

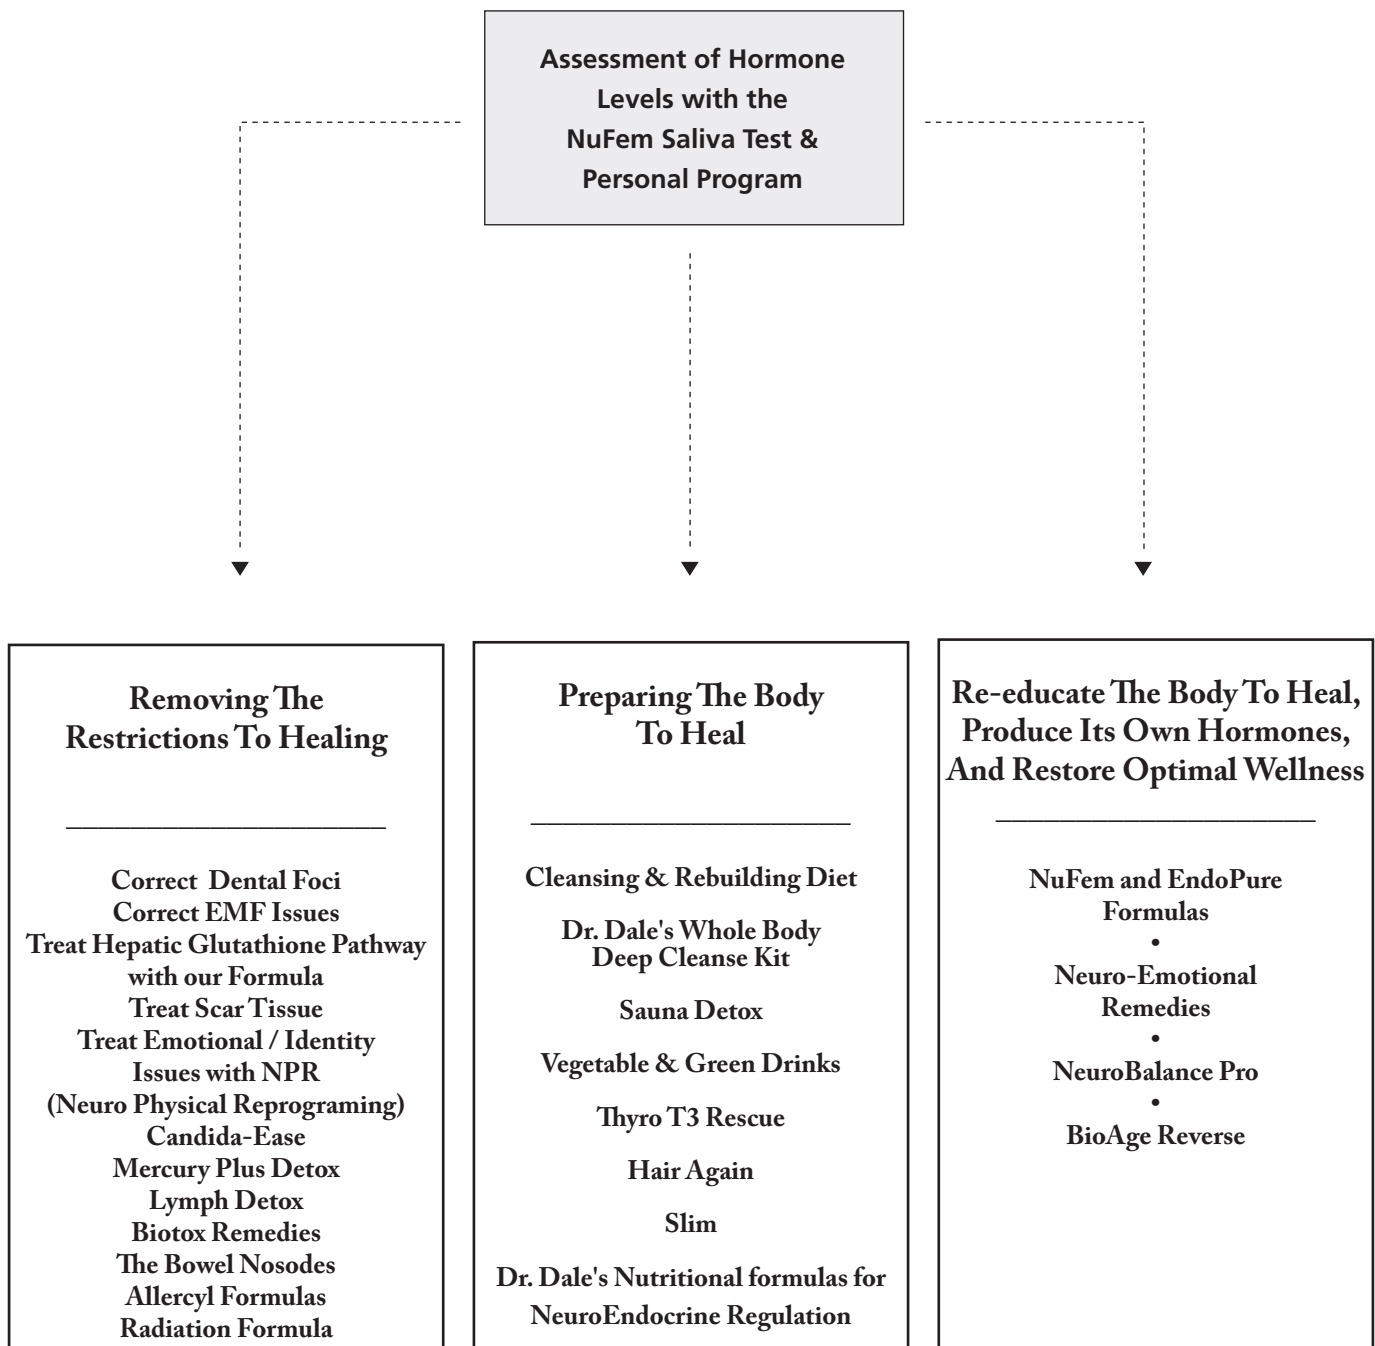

We will first look at the cause of hormone imbalances, then at the problems associated with synthetic and natural hormone replacement. We will also cover the steps necessary to prepare the body to heal and rejuvenate its own hormones. In the Homeopathic Hormone Rejuvenation program, the first step is to remove the blocks to healing, the second is to detoxify the body, particularly the liver. The third step is the use of NuFem, EndoPure and Neuro-Emotional Remedies (NER) to balance hormones, emotions and nervous system.

Moreover, Dr. Dale's Whole Body Deep Cleanse Kit, books and music therapy CD's put self-healing tools in your hands. You will also learn about the Meta-Wellness Home Study Program — an advanced self-healing tool that addresses physical, mental and emotional health concerns.

Today's health issues need advanced protocols and methods to access and release deep cellular causes.

Dr. Dale's Hormone Rejuvenation System (HRS)

Overview

Dr. Dale's Hormone Rejuvenation System (continued)

What Are Hormones?

Hormones are messengers that your body uses to regulate its functions. The particular hormones we are concerned with in this manual are the steroid hormones. These include estrogen, progesterone, testosterone, pregnenolone, DHEA, cortisol and aldosterone. All of these steroid hormones are initially derived from cholesterol.

The following chart shows how closely related all these hormones are, you can see that only a small change in the molecule produces a different hormone. This is important as many of these hormones can be converted into another hormone very easily. For example, supplementing with DHEA can produce either testosterone or estrogen. Most importantly though is that if you supplement any one of these hormones, you can easily imbalance the whole system.

The biosynthetic pathways for major representatives of these classes of steroid hormones is depicted in this diagram. Be aware that a variety of related molecules exist, some of which may have significant effects, particularly in certain pathologic conditions.

The Causes of Hormone Imbalance

Many factors can cause hormone imbalance:

• Stress

• Diet: Sugar, caffeine, alcohol, carbohydrates and poor or malnutrition. Diet is one more stressor.

• Hormone Replacement Therapy (HRT) or Bio-identical Hormone Replacement Therapy (BHRT)

• Meds: Cortisone, anti-inflammatory drugs, glucose regulating drugs such as insulin, synthetic and natural hormone replacement (includes thyroid regulating drugs), antibiotics, high blood pressure medicines, etc.

• Dental issues: Every tooth has an endocrine relationship. Dental material that is not biocompatible can be the source of hormonal issues.

• Scar Tissue: Energy flow blockages along acupuncture meridians can develop.

• Environment: Exposure to pesticides, radiation, mercury, lead or any toxin.

• Autonomic Nervous System: Causes can be structural, electromagnetic, chemical, emotional.

Adrenal Stress

Stress is one of the major causes of hormone imbalance. The results of chronic stress can affect the body in four phases:

Indicators

Vulnerable

PHASE 1: Adrenal Adaptation

Digestive problems, inability to calm down, prostatitis, increased serum cholesterol, severe weight gain or loss, menstrual problems, sleep disturbances, diarrhea, decrease in sex drive.

PHASE 2: Adrenal Maladaptation

Chronic Fatigue Syndrome, loss of libido, impotence, bloating and fluid retention, constipation, male or female hair loss, bone loss, increased urination, low back or sciatica pain.

PHASE 3: Adrenal Exhaustion

Fibromyalgia, chronic nonspecific pain, heart arrhythmia, severe constipation, panic attacks or anxiety, bile reflux and digestive problems, depression and mental frustration, memory loss and inability to think, sensitivity to smells, light or sound, difficulty breathing, inflammation, joint pain.

PHASE 4: Blood Sugar Events

A hypoglycemic event occurs when one cortisol level is elevated. If two or more cortisol levels are elevated, a blood sugar disorder is likely to be present and/or a genetic predisposition.

Hormone ratios

Traditional hormone ratios place women in categories which may falsely indicate pre or post menopausal conditions. NuFem and EndoPure give the body the correct information, allowing it to create its own hormones causing normal hormone ratios.

Hormone ratios depend on the following factors:

- Cortisol levels / stress factors
- Biological age
- Hysterectomy? Partial? Tubal?
- Chronological age
- Hormone usage
- Medications/ drugs including HRT
- Symptoms
- Autonomic nervous system function

The Dangers of Hormone Replacement Therapy (HRT)

We are finding out the devastating effect of hormone replacement on the human body. My research shows that ALL hormones that are taken or used internally or externally, including natural ones, have a negative effect.

HRT is based on an incorrect assumption:

Hormone replacement therapy (HRT), whether natural or synthetic, is based on the incorrect assumption that your body becomes incapable of producing appropriate amounts of hormones simply because we reach a certain age. Your body does alter its hormone production as you pass through the stages of your life, but hormone problems are a function of how healthy you are, not how old you are. This myopic viewpoint has caused thousands of deaths from cancer.

Natural hormone usage has grown since synthetic HRT has been deemed toxic and a potential cancer risk. Millions of women are now using synthetic, natural “plant-derived” and synthesized “bioidentical” hormones. The problem for the consumer is education about product safety. Natural progesterone, estrogen, and wild yam creams can cause an extreme toxicity in hormone levels as seen in over 1,000 saliva tests (Traditional Chinese Medicine) before and after. Therefore, if a woman’s normal progesterone range is 100 and she is using a progesterone cream, the level may jump to 6,500 and become a toxic burden to the liver and immune system.

Any hormone replacement, whether it is natural or synthetic, actually causes the body to slow down the production of its own natural hormones, including melatonin, DHEA, progesterone and human growth hormone. HRT does not treat the cause of any problem, it only addresses and perpetuates the symptoms.

Moreover, life-threatening symptoms can be easily camouflaged by using natural hormones. Viruses, bacteria, parasites or drugs can stress adrenal cortisol levels causing hormone imbalances. When cortisol levels become stressed, a patient can experience hot flashes, depression, mood swings, hair loss, and weight gain.

If we use natural hormones, it is similar to placing a band-aid on the health concern instead of treating the cause. A patient with undiagnosed hepatitis C can easily have hormonal symptoms due to the fact that the liver conjugates hormones and the adrenals are stressed. If we use hormones to address the symptoms, the body may stop communicating the symptoms, which could point the practitioner in the wrong direction and an incorrect diagnosis – the underlying hepatitis C.

Since women are no longer willing to accept the risks associated with synthetic hormones and are searching for safer alternatives, they are vulnerable to the marketing concepts of natural hormone replacement being portrayed as a safe answer to HRT.

Hormone Replacement Therapy: Important FACTS

Before and after test results reveal that synthetic, natural and bio-identical compounded hormones cause many problems:

- The body shuts down production of its own natural hormones.
- A dependence on the replacement hormones develops, aging the body.
- Toxicity burdens the entire body including the liver, kidneys, blood and the immune system.
- Hormone levels become toxic.
- Hormone levels become elevated affecting cortisol levels.

More Dangers of Hormone Usage!

Since there are many causes of endocrine breakdown, using hormones will cover up or camouflage the true cause which could also be life threatening

Effects of Estrogen Plus Progestin on Global Cognitive Function in Postmenopausal Women

The Women's Health Initiative Memory Study: A Randomized Controlled Trial. Rapp et al. JAMA.2003; 289: 2663-2672.

Findings from the Women's Health Initiative Memory Study (WHIMS) published in the May 28, 2003 issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association have revealed yet another downside to combination hormone replacement therapy (HRT) in postmenopausal women. Researchers from Wake Forest University Baptist Medical Center found that the combination of estrogen plus progestin is associated with double the rate of dementia in women sixty-five years of age and older who took the hormones for an average of four years compared to those not on HRT. Four thousand five hundred thirty-two women took part in this sub-study of the Women's Health Initiative, which was halted last year when it was discovered that combination hormone replacement therapy was associated with an increased risk of cardiovascular disease, stroke and breast cancer. At the time that these findings were published, data on dementia risk had not yet been calculated.

Clinical Testing Toxicity Report

Using 1,000 before and after salivary tests, 97% of all women using natural hormone replacement have toxic levels on their saliva test results

Progesterone

Toxicity Symptoms:

- Weight gain
- Hair loss
- Loss of libido
- Depression
- Endocrine dysfunction
- Dementia

Estradiol

Toxicity Symptoms:

- Ovarian problems (tumors, etc)
- Breast lumps / uterus problems
- Cancer
- Heart disease
- Blood clots
- Depression
- Weight gain
- Excessive facial hair
- Gallstone risk
- Dementia

After using NuFem and EndoPure

Using the same 1,000 before and after salivary tests, 100% of women with complete hysterectomies have success with NuFem and EndoPure Homeopathic Hormone Rejuvenation Program. These test results show their adrenal glands are making the needed amounts of hormones for their body, they no longer need to use ANY hormones, and 95% of their symptoms have abated.

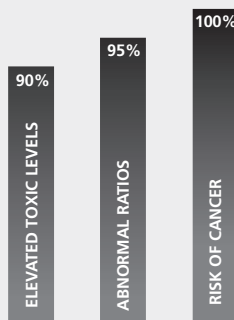

Why Risk Using Any Hormones?

Saliva Test Statistics Report 2003

90% of women using natural and/or compounded progesterone or estrogens (for more than 3 months) from wild yam, soy have elevated toxic levels, abnormal hormone ratios and cortisol levels and/or toxicity.

95% of women using HRT synthetic progesterone and estrogen have abnormal hormone ratios, estrogen dominance, abnormal cortisol levels and toxicity.

100% of women on synthetic hormones risk cancer. Toxic levels of synthetic hormones may take longer to indicate in serum and saliva.

One thousand saliva tests before and after using NuFem and EndoPure show NO toxicity. Clinical testing reveals astounding results, including women with a complete hysterectomy.

Homeopathy

Homeopathy is a therapy developed by
Dr. Samuel Hahnemann in Germany over 200 years ago.

The Key Points of Homeopathy

- It is a form of energy medicine.
- Each remedy is very dilute and contains little if any of the original substance it was made from.
- The dilution of the remedy is called the potency and is shown by the number at the side of the remedy. For example 6x means that the remedy was diluted 1 in 10 (x) and this was repeated six times. 30 C means that the remedy was diluted 1 in 100 (C) and this was repeated 30 times.
- To find the correct remedy, a homeopath matches the persons presenting symptoms to the “picture” of the remedy as recorded in the homeopathic Materia Medica. When the correct remedy is found it is called the simillimum.
- In classical homeopathy only one remedy is given at a time.
- In complex homeopathy several remedies are used together to produce a synergistic broad spectrum effect.
- Homeopathic remedies are derived from botanicals, animal organs and glands, minerals, bacteria, chemicals viruses, radiation, disease, poisons and hormones.

"Homeopathy works along meridian pathways"

- Sarcodes are one type of homeopathic remedy. They are made from healthy tissue and organs. They bring the specific organ back to correct function. Dr. Dale's remedies contain sarcodes and classical remedies. Only the energy of the material remains because of the level of the dilution.

Important

- Homeopathic remedies are ineffective should they be combined in one formula along with herbs, hormones, vitamins, minerals, chemicals, fragrance, coloring, or essential oils. Glycerine does not have microspheres or cells like Lyposome and is not advisable to use in a true homeopathic formula.
- Caffeine, fragrance, X-RAYS and radiation must be avoided while taking homeopathy.

Conventional Medical Approach

- Treats only symptoms
- Suppresses disease and immune system
- Creates side-effects
- Creates toxicity
- Causes the body to become addicted to hormones

Treatment is based on diagnosis and classical symptoms and some individualization.

Advanced Homeopathic Approach to Healing

- Treats by symptoms and individual sensitivity
- Locates and treats cause
- Heals through broad spectrum prescribing
- Has no side-effects
- Has no toxicity

Treatment is based on matching the toxicological report of the drug (Materia Medica) to the patient's complete clinical picture: including the diagnosis, physical, general, functional and etologic signs, symptoms and modalities

Homeopathy and Hormone Rejuvenation

Homeopathic remedies can improve progesterone uptake and metabolism. They also do not interfere with the normal shift from progesterone dominance to estrogen dominance during the month. Another fascinating factor in healing hormonal conditions with homeopathy is that homeopathics do not have any side effects because they contain only minute amounts of medicinal substances.

However, even though there are only trace amounts of therapeutic ingredients in homeopathics, clinical experience with these medicines shows that the infinitesimal dosages they offer works on unconscious people, infants, and animals.

Homeopathy can be utilized effectively for hormone rejuvenation by stimulating production of natural hormones in the human body. The homeopathic substances that are used to treat endocrine and hormonal symptoms may be made from botanical and mineral substances in addition to healthy tissue or secretions of the body such as hormones.

Examples of homeopathic ingredients include cheladonium, which can treat liver congestion; sepia, which can treat hot flashes, and sulphur, which can treat delayed menses and hot flashes.

Whether applied topically or taken orally, homeopathic remedies can stimulate a healing response in the treated organ, thus stimulating the normal functions of that organ.

Homeopathy is not addictive and it does not replace any innate function of the body. It is truly healing medicine, body, mind, and spirit. Use is as directed on the product label and be sure to adjust the dosage (lower it) as the patient starts to feel better.

The Sarcodes Story

Homeopathic sarcodes actually stimulate a healing response in the treated organ. Thus stimulating the normal functions of that organ. When treating hormones with a sarcode, either orally or transdermally, the remedy will stimulate the organ to produce the correct amount of hormones to achieve balance.

Homeopathic sarcodes are made from healthy tissue or secretions. Extracts from free range, organic bovine tissue are the best source. A sarcode acts as a subtle amplifier of the natural function of an organ by giving off an electromagnetic (EM) signal that attaches itself to a similar signal or imprint.

Each remedy contains a blueprint of a healthy gland, hormone, or organ. Within seconds of administration, the hypothalamus translates a picture of how the specific healthy organ or gland normally functions directly to the organ being re-educated.

Homeopathic remedies are made from the following:

- Botanicals
- Animal organs & glands
- Minerals
- Bacteria
- Chemicals
- Viruses
- Radiation
- Disease
- Poisons
- Hormones

Dr. Dale's NeuroPhysical Reprogramming™ (NPR)

And Neuro-Emotional Remedies®

Researched and Developed by Theresa Dale, Ph.D., N.D., C.C.N., N.P. Copyright 1994, 1996, 2003 Theresa Dale

NeuroPhysical Reprogramming™ is an Innovative, Non-invasive Diagnostic and Healing Protocol and Methodology

NPR's foundation lies in the ancient Five-Element Theory of Traditional Chinese Medicine and is the missing link in locating and releasing the cause of disease through balancing acupuncture meridians, the autonomic nervous system and releasing neuro-toxicity. NeuroPhysical Reprogramming™ incorporates various proven healing modalities to create reproducible and permanent results.

NPR incorporates the following healing disciplines:

- Acupuncture meridians and The Five Elements
- A unique filtering technique that eliminates errors and creates reproducible results
- Homeopathic Neuro-Emotional Remedies
- Kinesiology
- A neutralization process which eliminates default patterns that anchor disease in place and balances the nervous system while healing physical, mental and emotional issues

Breakthrough Research

On February 10, 1996 – breakthrough research was completed on the NeuroPhysical Reprogramming procedure and the effectiveness of Neuro-Emotional Remedies. NeuroPhysical reprogramming™ proves the volumes of studies and research in the field of Psycho-Neuro-Immunology (www.pnirs.org).

The goal of this research was to test the efficacy of NeuroPhysical Reprogramming and Neuro-Emotional Remedies by tracking the response of different parts of the brain and neurotransmitter production. Each session with a patient lasted 30 minutes and incorporated three main points:

- A printout of a map of various areas of the brain
- The NPR protocol
- Neuro-Emotional Remedies

Research Protocol

The NeuroPhysical Reprogramming protocol was tested at an independent neurologist's office on 5 patients using a 22 electrode EEG along with full spectrum biofeedback reading, four more EEG sites on the occipital lobe of the head and EMG (muscle response) skin temperature and conductance. The patients were fully clothed and comfortable.

First, the computer collected a base-line reading. Verbal statements were made by the patient on various topics, such as health, disease, wellness, sex, cancer, death, life, birth, children, divorce, marriage, money, career, success, failure — to name a few. The brain and nervous system response to these topics on the EEG and EMG were then noted.

The next step was to perform the NeuroPhysical Reprogramming™ protocol administering Neuro-Emotional Remedies during the process while the patient was connected to the equipment. The identical topics were used. The NPR protocol was then administered which incorporates a unique type of kinesiology and a specific filtering technique for accuracy.

First, the patient said the topics out loud instead of Dr. Dale saying them. The reason for this is that kinesiological testing, which is an important part of the NPR protocol, has a very poor accuracy rate if the patient does not make the statements. If the doctor states it for the patient, the doctor is essentially testing himself or herself and not the patient.

After each process was completed, the patient was again given the exact same topics that they responded to in their base-line reading. The EEG and EMG testing indicated that the same topics that indicated as being present on the computer brain mapping printout before the NPR session (30 minutes prior) were no longer present. The printout of the EEG, EMG and NPR testing visibly indicated an identical response so that each test confirmed the next. The brain-map printout indicated exactly when the Neuro-Emotional Remedies (homeopathic remedies) were introduced to the patient during the NeuroPhysical Reprogramming protocol.

A heightened response (a spike) could be seen within two seconds after the time of administration and then a complete release indicating that the patients' issues were no longer present.

Dr. Dale's NeuroPhysical Reprogramming™ (NPR)

In addition, Dr. Dale tested a reflex point (Meta Point), located in the center of the occipital lobe, which is part of the NPR protocol. In 1993 she discovered the Meta Point which connects to the primal brain. The primal brain stores foundational belief systems and identities which can anchor a disease process, making the disease difficult to cure or heal. Testing this point during the NPR session allows you access to unconscious information.

A printout of the entire testing clearly indicated the neurological changes that occurred from administering the remedies on one patient and not another. Whether the issue is related to disease or sexual abuse, the process works the same. All testing indicated that the NPR testing and the responses from the EEG and EMG were identical and that Neuro-Emotional Remedies visibly released energy patterns.

Additional Facts:

- Neuro-Emotional Remedies are high potency homeopathic remedies with drainage properties that eliminate high frequency energy patterns that can create and anchor physical illness, behavioral and emotional issues.
- The results of the testing indicated that NeuroPhysical Reprogramming and Neuro-Emotional Remedies released core issues stemming from identities that can anchor mental and physical illness.
- NeuroPhysical Reprogramming and Neuro-Emotional Remedies continue to be used on thousands of patients by graduates with incredible success.
- Since we inherit a genetic load of identities, beliefs and behaviors that are a part of our disease patterns and ancestral heritage, a method to reawaken the immune system is incorporated into this training while exploring the individual essence of consciousness unique to each one of us.

Every disease has an emotional component which is symptomatic of a core identity sabotaging healing and possibly survival itself. These imprints are encapsulated in organs, glands and systems of the body.

A predisposition for disease weakens the immune system. Over our lifetime, precious energy is unconsciously expended resisting emotions — hiding who we really are. Resistance to feelings or issues can exacerbate the physical condition making it therapy resistant.

After years of researching to find a way to evolve kinesiological testing to a new level of accuracy, Dr. Dale discovered that using a homeopathic filtering technique created reproducible results. Homeopathic filters eliminate errors from the health practitioner which may be caused by thoughts or poor physical health. This can easily affect the outcome of the testing results. Although there is no way to determine the exact rate of accuracy of this or any non-invasive testing modality, her research with students and thousands of patients indicates at least a 90% rate of accuracy.

NPR Training:

An advanced protocol that works for any life condition or disease and is REPRODUCIBLE.

- Uses homeopathic filters.
- Determines the underlying energy pattern and core identity.
- Eliminates the anchor holding the disease while strengthening the immune system.
- Drains the causal energy pattern of disease, balances the nervous system and mental aberrations.
- Creates and secures a new healthy identity and belief system.

NeuroPhysical Reprogramming (NPR) may also be used to test for the biocompatibility of nutritional supplementation, homeopathy, herbs, dental materials or any substance. NPR sessions reduce the number of nutritional supplements needed by strengthening the immune system. In addition, you may use NPR for biological age testing and with adults and children to regain lost mental focus (ADD, etc.).

Dr. Dale's "Digest Pro"

Digestive Distress is the #1 American Complaint

Daily sales of over the counter (OTC) antacids are more than 25 million dollars. Why? Because they do not solve the problem! Therefore, what is the common denominator of following problems, including indigestion, acid reflux, heartburn, gas, bloating, slow digestion, constipation and belching? The most common culprit is Diet, then Candida and/or Parasites

A life style that relies on fast food and other low quality foods, directly leads to digestive problems. The source of these symptoms is NOT "Too much acid production," as TV tells you. It is the exact opposite. The actual problem is that acid production has turned off. Yes, your stomach is NOT producing acid) making your stomach a compost heap.

When stomach acid turns off, the body signals you by making you feel acidic.

The way to solve a digestive overload problem is simply to switch ON the body's digestion, and let your body heal itself. That is why Dr. Dale's DIGEST Formula is so effective.

It supports the body in resetting itself and therefore the body can run on its own.

What happens when you eat food devoid of nutrients? The digestive process comes to a screeching halt as the body scrambles to figure out how to digest the junk you just gave it!

Digestive disturbance sets into motion a chain reaction that affects your whole system and therefore your life. Ideally, everyone should eliminate once per meal.

You should never take antacids as they suppress and harm your digestion.

Who Should Use Dr. Dale's DIGEST formula?

Use this product with anyone with the following conditions: foul gas, heartburn, constipated, bloated, uses antacids, craves sweets or carbohydrates, drinks soda or coffee, candida yeast problems, intermittent or constant right elbow pain.

Dr. Dale's "Digest Pro"

Thyme has numerous proven medicinal properties. Primary among these properties is its effect on the gastrointestinal tract, where it is antispasmodic, carminative, and anthelmintic.

Rosemary contains more than 240 medically and nutritionally valuable compounds. It helps to relax muscles, particularly the smooth muscles of the digestive tract and uterus. Because of this property it can be used to soothe digestive upsets and relieve menstrual cramps.

Buckthorn Bark contains compounds called anthraquinones, which have a strong purgative, laxative effect on the body. Specifically, buckthorn bark helps to ease constipation. The compounds in buckthorn bark increase the colon's ability to spontaneously contract. They also reduce water absorption by the intestines, which means more liquid is left in the colon. This produces larger volume and softer stools, which in turn eases constipation. Buckthorn is also used to treat hemorrhoids and anal fissures. Because buckthorn bark is an effective stool softener, it can make bowel movements more comfortable for people with hemorrhoids or anal fissures.

Oregano Leaf is used as an expectorant and as a digestive aid. Oregano is also high in antioxidant activity, due to a high content of phenolic acids and flavonoids. Additionally, oregano has demonstrated antimicrobial activity against food-borne pathogens such as Listeria Monocytogenes. Both of these characteristics make it useful for digestive health.

Caprylic Acid is the common name for the eight-carbon saturated fatty acid known by the systematic name octanoic acid. It is used for treatment and supportive therapy of intestinal disorders commonly associated with Candida albicans yeast overgrowth including Irritable Bowel Syndrome (IBS), leaky gut syndrome, intestinal parasite infections, and intestinal bacterial infections.

Selective fermentation of FOS by Bifido-bacterium leads to an increase in the presence of these bacteria and to the production of acetic acid and lactic acid as fermentation end products, resulting in a lower pH in the digestive tract and providing a means to prevent the overgrowth harmful bacteria like Escherichia coli, Clostridium perfringens and Clostridium difficile.

Tangerine has been shown to have high antioxidant properties, and coupled with the undeniable benefits of fiber, it is highly helpful to the digestive system.

Orange is very effective in chronic dyspepsia. It supplies nutrition in an easily to assimilate form without taxing the digestive organs. It also stimulates the flow of digestive juices, thereby improving digestion and increasing appetite. It creates suitable condition for the development of friendly bacteria in the intestines. Orange is beneficial in treating constipation as well. The general stimulating influence of orange excites peristaltic activity and helps prevent the accumulation of food residue in the colon, which leads to putrefaction and auto-intoxication.

Fennel has properties similar to those of anise and dill water: mixed with sodium bicarbonate and syrup, these waters constitute the domestic 'Gripe Water,' used to correct the flatulence of infants. Fennel is chiefly used medicinally with purgatives to allay their side effects and for this purpose form one of the ingredients of the well-known compound Liquorice Powder.

Peppermint helps against upset stomachs, inhibits the growth of certain bacteria, peppermint oil has the ability to reduce colicky abdominal pain due to IBS. Peppermint relaxes the gastro-esophageal sphincter, thus promoting belching.

Spearmint is carminative, simulative, stomachic, diaphoretic and antispasmodic. It helps digestion, rheumatism, hiccups, and flatulence.

Cayenne is considered helpful for various conditions of the gastrointestinal tract, including stomachaches, cramping pains, and gas. Cayenne helps to relieve digestive pain, not only due to its endorphin enhancing properties, but it also helps to block the transmission of substance P, which transports pain messages to the brain.

Cinnamon Bark is helpful in strengthening and supporting a weak digestive system. Research reports that cinnamon bark breaks down fats in the digestive system, making it a valuable digestive aid. It is used to treat nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, stomach ulcers, acid indigestion, and heartburn, lack of appetite, blood sugar and abdominal disorders.

Studies have shown support of seaweeds for the immune system, cellular metabolic activity, anti-inflammatory, anticoagulant, and antithrombotic activities. Fucoidan contains natural antioxidants and anti-inflammatory nutrients. Excessive inflammation can result in pain and damage to the body, including the tissues, muscles, cells and joints.

Seaweed has been used for thousands of years as a food for its broad spectrum nutritional value with minerals. Some of these vital nutrients are magnesium, calcium, iron, copper, zinc, boron, and iodine. There are also various vitamins in our seaweed complex which include B1, B2, Niacin, B12, E, and a considerable amount of vitamin C.

The most active ingredient in Fucoidan is fucose, which is a sulfated polysaccharide that is very important for its function in communication from one cell to another cell via glycoproteins and glycolipids. More and more information is discovered about the benefits of fucose, and the proper form and bioavailability of iodine and minerals that may not be plentiful in our diet or completely absent. Ocean Meds also has a spectrum of complimentary natural anti-oxidants and anti-inflammatory nutrients such as MSM, Hylaronic Acid, and essential fatty acids that support cardio, immune, and joint health.

There is a delicate balance of nutrients necessary for proper functioning of all the body's systems. The Beta Glucan contained in the Ocean Meds contributes to this balance and supports the immune system by feeding white blood cells. Regular use of Beta Glucan can decrease food cravings. The Iodine and iodide contained in the brown seaweed assists the thyroid gland to help promote healthy metabolism, energy levels, and weight.

The sea buckthorn berry provides many nutrients multivitamins, protein, minerals, essential and rare lipids and a broad spectrum of anti-oxidants. The berries of seabuckthorn are one of the best known natural sources of vitamins A, C, E, and carotenes, and are rich in several B vitamins, as well as EFA's and Flavonoids. The Chinese were the first to use sea buckthorn therapeutically over a thousand years ago. The Tibetan Medical book, SibuYidian that is 158 chapters long, has 30 chapters on sea buckthorn's medicinal properties. Among these are inducing expectoration, opening inhibited lung chi, dispersing dampness, tonifying the Yin and strengthening the Yang. Many entries refer to its capacity to strengthen the spleen and stomach, to promote circulation, and remove blood stasis.

For all health conditions except after colon surgery. Over the past 20 years, I have helped patients and friends (myself included) safely eliminate gallstones, decongest and detoxify the liver, kidneys, colon, and blood.

New Organic Protocol

This kit is the foundation of any healing program and the beginning of any treatment protocol.

Detoxification is the first step of any sound program. Without using this kit results may not be quick or permanent. Through 30 years of research, I have assisted in safely eliminating and dissolving gallstones, kidney stones and detoxification of environmental /neurotoxins including xenoestrogens.

The body's filtering organs need cleansing every 6 months, I have included the necessary detoxification products to achieve that goal. It is important to cleanse all organs simultaneous so there will not be detoxification down time or symptoms.

Since liver congestion can be a cause of hormonal problems including hot flashes, irregular menstrual cycle, pre menopausal symptoms, headaches and skin conditions. This detoxification protocol addresses elimination of toxins in your blood and all filtering organs, while boosting your immune system, as no other method. As the body detoxifies and the immune system becomes unburdened the patient's symptoms change. This detoxification protocol will assist in the healing of any health condition; healing of skin conditions, allergies, RA, virus, bacteria, hormone replacement toxicity, constipation, immune burden, weight gain, aging symptoms and any type of toxicity caused by medications and/or lifestyle.

Fibonacci Sequenced

Dr. Dale's Fibonacci Sequenced Homeopathic Formulas!

Who is Fibonacci?

In 1202 the Italian mathematician Leonardo of Pisa, aka Fibonacci, wrote Liber Abaci, a book having three claims to fame in financial circles. Firstly it was one of the first books to introduce the Arabic numbering system to the West. Secondly it laid out the foundations of modern bookkeeping. Thirdly it presented the number pattern known as the Fibonacci Sequenced, although this had been known long before by Indian mathematicians. Only the latter has little significance in the development of science and business but, naturally, it's the one that's received the most attention.

The Fibonacci Sequenced (0, 1, 1, 2, 3, 5, 8, 13, 21, 34, 55, 89, 144 . . .) occurs throughout the worlds of nature, art, music, and mathematics! Each term in the series is produced by adding together the two previous terms, so that $1 + 1 = 2$, $1 + 2 = 3$, $2 + 3 = 5$, and so on.

Dr. Theresa Dale has pioneered and announces the first homeopathic formulas, according to the Fibonacci Numerical Sequence.

Dr. Dale feels that Homeopathy has just taken a giant evolutionary leap forward thanks to the research of Joe Rozencwaig. Dr. Dale furthered this research through additional testing. Basically, her Neuro Physical Testing revealed that Homeopathy made according to the Fibonacci Sequenced is a more effective therapy. Dr. Dale's first remedies in the Fibonacci Sequenced are now available.

Reading "The Potency" Dr. Dale realized that Mr. Rozencwaig is absolutely correct in applying the Fibonacci Sequenced to his custom single potency treatment. Dr. Dale states; "Mr. Rozencwaig is a classical homeopath with excellent knowledge and amazing intuitive skills." "After reading his book I became aware that the F Series of medicine is the most advanced form of treatment to-date. I then started testing F potencies and conducting extensive research on Fibonacci in nature and applying this to homeopathy." Dr. Dale became aware of Fibonacci in Germany as she used sacred geometry and other nature-based healing modalities, including music therapy for 30 years as part of her training in bio-photons and bio-resonance therapy.

All of the research was conducted with Mr. Rozencwaig's patients and, of course, himself and the results of all were very promising indeed. Dr. Dale tested this new homeopathic sequence on herself. "Once I discovered that this new method of preparation absolutely works,

I found it interesting that Mr. Rozencwaig did all of the research the traditional homeopathic way, without hands-on testing such as Vega, EAV, EDS, NeuroPhysical Reprogramming or Clinical Kinesiology with patients." Alternative testing is necessary in perfecting formulas and efficacy.

I continued testing to determine if the F potencies would work in combination with other Fibonacci prepared remedies. I discovered that it works the same way as traditionally prepared combination formulas only the formulas would be more powerful and effective and would not need to be repeated as often."

Combination formulas work in a simple yet profound way; the body selects the potency and remedy it needs according to the similar frequency of disease in the body and does not utilize the rest. You see our body's innate cellular intelligence selects the right remedy based on the fact that "like cures like". One similar frequency is attracted to another similar frequency.

"During my training in Germany I learned magnetic field therapy using ultra-fine frequencies. These frequencies are delivered to the body via medical equipment that is safe and approved by the Germany government. The equipment generates thousands of frequencies in a wave swing called a "super setting" allowing all the frequencies produced by the device to be introduced to the body in one treatment via electrodes or inductors. This "super setting" was the most effective treatment as the body selected the most similar frequencies and did not use the rest. Therefore, due to my years of training and experience with various types of similar equipment and treating with homeopathy in both a classical and complex methods, I can absolutely assure you that the body will only pick out and use the similar frequencies needed from my new Fibonacci Sequenced formulas."

"My testing continued under a microscope of right action to determine if combination Fibonacci Sequenced formulas are for the global good of humanity to deliver a more profound healing. Of course, the answer was positive otherwise I would not have formulated F series remedies. I look forward to learning your success with these formulas and be absolutely open to your comments."

One of the most interesting benefits of treating with Dr. Dale's Fibonacci series homeopathic medicine is that the full spectrum of the selected formula/remedy is allowed an opportunity to act just at the right time, at the right place and towards a total action of cure. The other benefit is they deliver a broad-spectrum approach to healing and contain drainage.

Dr. Dale's Allercyl™

Introduction to Phenolics

The underlying causes of allergies, sensitivities and intolerances requires excellent testing modalities such as NeuroPhysical Reprogramming to locate, define and select the proper treatment.

Dr. Robert Gardner, Ph.D. (professor of Animal Science at Brigham Young University and generally considered the father of modern phenolics) as well as other researchers, found that phenolic compounds, that occur naturally in plants, animals, and humans as well as in man-made chemicals, are involved in many chronic health problems.

Most phenolics are aromatic, meaning that they have a Benzene ring in their chemical structure. Phenolics give the flavor, color and/or odor to foods, environmental substances and man-made chemicals.

The use of homeopathic preparations of phenolic compounds to desensitize individuals not only decreases or eliminates reactions to them, they also have a longer effect. Phenolics were first used for desensitizing individuals with food allergies and allergies to elements in the environment (ie, seasonal allergies, dust, moulds, perfumes, etc).

Phenolics are present in many foods, therefore, people suffering from food sensitivities or intolerances may only partially improve when they just use the elimination diets and/or rotation diets. Therefore, homeopathic phenolic desensitization is used to assist individuals with multiple food sensitivities or intolerances. Also, as phenolic compounds are found in proteins / amino acids that degrade to form such substances as histamine, serotonin, tyramine and dopamine, desensitizing the individuals to the offending phenolic can resolve health problems related to imbalances in the individual's hormones and neurotransmitters.

Therapy for these types of health problems does not involve increasing or decreasing the amounts of hormones or neurotransmitters naturally present in the body. Homeopathic desensitization reduces sensitivity to these substances by neutralizing the body's immune reaction to the substance that is causing the sensitivities. It does not involve increasing or decreasing the amounts of hormones or neurotransmitters naturally present in the body.

Desensitization to phenolic compounds has been helpful in treating many conditions and symptoms, including the following.

The Bowel Nosodes

The Bowel Nosodes are medicines prepared from cultures of non-lactose fermenting bacterial flora of the intestinal tract. They are not the morbid product of disease, but they are classified under nosodes.

Our new remedies will handle many health issues. They are used when the healthy normal flora undergoes deep biochemical changes. Bowel nosodes are used one at a time, without mixing any two at one time. They are recommended according to the illness/symptoms a person is displaying, or by testing the formula on the individual. One bowel nosode formula could be taken up to 3 months to get the full effect, but results can be seen after just 4-6 weeks for chronic conditions. Bowel nosodes are proven to be extremely effective and used according to symptoms below. A bowel nosode formula is indicated when a patient's condition is chronic, doesn't heal completely, does not shift, and/or the patient has used drugs/med's, suppressing the disease. More info below...

B.Coli in the intestinal tract perform normal & useful function when the intestinal mucosa is healthy, but any change in the host that affects the intestinal mucosa will affect the balance, and change the biochemistry of B.coli. It should be noted that the primary change i.e. the disease, originated in the host, which compels the bacilli to modify in order to survive.

The proving of bowel nosodes was not conducted in the strict Hahnemannian sense, but on clinical observation of the sick person.

Dr. Edward Bach (1886 – 1936), a bacteriologist in London discovered that certain intestinal germs belonging to non-lactose fermenting gram-negative coli, typhoid group, had a close connection with chronic disease and its cure. These germs are present in healthy and diseased individuals but in the latter case it is pathogenic. He isolated the bacilli and prescribed it for the patient in the form of a vaccine an autogenous vaccine and claimed to cure the disease.

Years later he potentised the vaccine according to the Homeopathic principle, administered and cured so many patients. Thomas Dishington did the first full preparation of clinical proving in 1929 on the bowel nosode -Dysentery Co. In 1930 Bach briefly summarized the clinically derived indication for most of the nosodes.

JOHN PATERSON (1890-1955), co-worker of Bach concentrated on this research after 1929. He studied more deeply the characteristics of the bowel flora, especially their behavior in health, disease and in drug provings. He examined more than 20,000 stool specimens and conducted research over 20 years.

He came to the following conclusions: The non-lactose fermenting non pathogenic bowel flora (B.coli) undergoes definite changes in the disease condition. While this alternation in the nature of bowel flora might be a mere concomitant to the disease condition, there is reason to believe that the B.coli actually turns pathogenic.

- The balance of the bowel flora is disturbed in disease.
- Similar changes are also observed in drug provings.

Paterson advocated specific recommendation on potency, dose and repetition of bowel nosodes. He related each bowel nosode to a group of Homeopathic remedies.

Bach found out that the non-lactose fermenting gram-'ve coli was closely associated with the symptoms collectively called Psora by Hahnemann. Psora is described as non venereal skin-allergy condition.

Paterson believed that gram negative diplococci were directly related to the sycotic miasm, which is a miasm responsible for sexual and urinary disorders and also joint and mucous membrane problems. He grouped and typed the flora by continuous experiment and observation and was able to detect a definite relationship between certain drugs and certain types of bowel flora. When a particular drug was administered in potencies the bowel flora was altered in a particular way. He divided the Morgan group of bacteria into 2 sub classes on bacteriological basis and thus created nosodes -Morgan Pure & Morgan Gaertner.

In 1933 Paterson presented a paper on Sycotic co. and in 1950 he published summary of his accumulated experience. After his death in 1954, his wife Elizabeth Paterson continued the research.

My advice for treatment is as follows:

The presenting symptoms of the patient may be repertorized (refers to Feldman – A Repertory of the bowel nosodes or A Treatise on bowel nosodes by Agrawal) to select one that is the most appropriate, i.e., covers mental, emotional and physical symptoms. While the bowel nosode can be extremely effective in "opening up stuck" cases, a word of caution in What Not to Do is extremely important. See note.

NOTE: Never mix bowel nosode during administration or during the patients program. Mixing of the bowel nosode i.e. the misuse of bowel nosode can cause violent reactions in patients. Give one at a time until the patient does not test for it.

The Bowel Nosodes

These are deep acting remedies from the highest mental to the lowest physical. They can be used at any time IF THE PICTURE FITS.

Where there is a group of remedies indicated but no clear picture of any, if the group of remedies is related to a Bowel nosode than that nosode can be given to help clarify the picture. Can also be given when the indicated remedy fails they may unblock health picture.

Bowel nosodes can take up to 3 months before they take full effect. After 4-6 weeks the picture should start to get clearer. It is generally thought that you do not prescribe another bowel nosode or repeat within 3 months. Although, testing on the patient supercedes that thought. If you test a patient after one month and they need to change from one bowel nosode to another, I suggest following the bodies individual needs. They can be prescribed sometimes specifically for antibiotic poisoning. For example, (Gaertner + Morgan): skin drugs will need Morgan, digestive drugs will need Proteus

Dr. Dale's Lymph Detox Plus®

Lymph Detox Plus

FORMULATED BY DR. THERESA DALE, Ph.D., C.C.N., N.P.

This powerful yet gentle drainage remedy is essential in “moving” lymph and allowing the body’s energy channels, organs, and glands to detoxify. A stagnant lymph system is present in all states of disease and obesity.

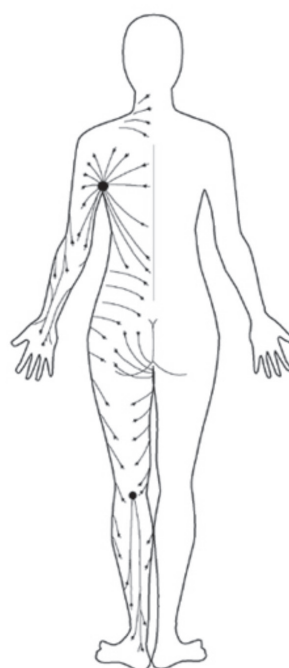

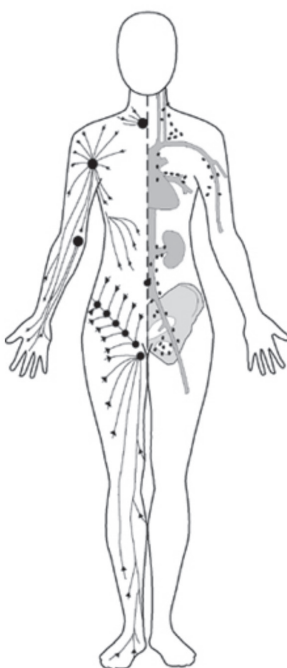

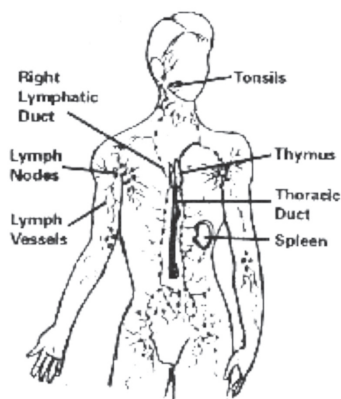

The most underrated circulatory system in the human body is our Lymphatic System. Most health practitioners never consider the critical role lymph plays in preventing sickness or the critical role it plays in keeping us healthy!

The Lymph System is a vital circulatory system and the body's primary immune defense and waste eliminator system; it is critical to managing the elimination of toxins from our body. It contains over 600 'collection' sites called 'lymph nodes' and has a network of collecting vessels, making it even more extensive than the venous system. Our Lymphatic System is primarily responsible for carrying disease-fighting material to cells attacked by germs, transporting the dead germs away, and supplying protein-rich plasma fluid back to the heart. When this system is blocked, we become defenseless against attacks by viruses, fungi and bacterium.

It is difficult to lose and maintain weight and have a healthy body if your lymph is stagnant. (Please see charts below.)

BioHCG PHAT

BioHCG PHAT Homeopathic Oral Formula!

Weight Loss & Maintenance.

This unique comprehensive formula will help the body balance HCG levels, while simultaneously balancing the Pituitary, Hypothalamus, Adrenal and Thyroid. Our formula is the only one in the world that is Fibonacci Sequenced. This means it is more powerful and more effective. We suggest using the entire BioHCG PHAT Slim Kit, which also includes BioAge Reverse (balances IGF 1 & 2, HGH & Adrenals) and the Basic SLIM formula (for hunger and metabolism).

HCG is an old hormone with a new use. HCG works by stimulating the body to burn fat, which ought to be the natural reaction to being overweight or obese. However, in people who suffer from these conditions - particularly obesity - the natural response of burning rather than storing unneeded fat has gotten impeded somehow. Obese people can often diet and exercise until they're almost literally blue in the face and not be able to burn that excess abnormal fat. HCG prompts the body to start burning.

Human chorionic gonadotropin, or HCG, is a hormone produced during pregnancy, found in the blood and excreted through urine. HCG injections are prescribed to treat infertility and weight loss by causing ovulation in women and increasing sperm count in men. HCG, is not an anabolic/androgenic steroid but a natural protein hormone which develops in the placenta of a pregnant woman. HCG is formed in the placenta immediately after nidation. It has luteinizing characteristics since it is quite similar to the luteinizing hormone LH in the anterior pituitary gland. During the first 6-8 weeks of a pregnancy the formed HCG allows for continued production of estrogens and gestagens in the yellow bodies (corpi luteum). Later on, the placenta itself produces these two hormones. HCG is manufactured from the urine of pregnant women since it is excreted in unchanged form from the blood via the womans urine, passing through the kidneys.

Contrary to popular belief however, the injectable HCG used in the Hcg diet protocols is a variation of the HCG form used for fertility treatments, and in a much smaller dose. All HCG used for medical purposes is natural, but created in laboratories from sterile cells.

HCG resets your hypothalamus

Lose 1 to 2 lbs per day without hunger

HCG causes the body to release excess fats through the kidneys and it also suppresses hunger.

Homeopathic HCG is safe and effective if the correct potencies are used in the formula. Most homeopathic HCG is made in potencies that are weak so they do not produce satisfactory results. However, our HCG kit has the correct potencies and formulations to accomplish anyone goal of weight loss and great energy.

Homocords are a sequential series of different potencies (frequencies) of one ingredient (like hCG) all combined in the same formula so the remedy goes deeper, quicker and handles many levels of obesity and metabolism.

Effectively help patients with weight loss through our HCG kit, which includes 3 different remedies and diet. My homeopathic BioHCG PHAT Kit is safe for your patients. The kit includes BioAge Reverse (homeopathic hgh with IGF 1 and 2), the BioHCG PHAT, and a unique formula SLIM to suppress appetite and help balance thyroid function. Protocol for use is in the kit. I suggest use of our Whole Body Deep Cleanse Kit and my HCG Weight Loss 900 calorie diet.

You will get similar results as the injectable HCG with absolutely no negative side-effects, get healthy on the diet, and have much more energy. You can safely continue on the diet for a much longer period of time (6 to 12 months). The 900 calorie diet is my own and not the original unhealthy 500 calorie diet.

Side Effects of the HCG injections. Lets talk about the HCG injections. One of the side effects is that the injections are associated with ovarian hyperstimulation syndrome, a disorder that can be life-threatening. Symptoms include severe pelvic pain, abdominal swelling, nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, swelling of the hands or legs, weight gain, difficulty breathing and urinating less than normal. These symptoms occurring while taking HCG injections should be considered a medical emergency.

Rarely, HCG injections can cause a blood clot. Symptoms include pain, swelling, warmth, redness, and numb or tingling sensations in an arm or leg. A person with a blood clot also might experience dizziness and confusion and develop a severe headache. An additional rare but possible side effect is an allergic reaction to HCG. Signs are a rash or hives, difficulty breathing, throat closing, and facial or mouth swelling.

Neuro-Emotional Remedies' Relationship

To The Spine And Nervous System

“The nervous system controls and coordinates all organs and structures of the human body.”

There is an energetic connection between an organ, glands, vertebrae, acupuncture meridian and nervous system. Neuro-Emotional Remedies are numbered according to the acupuncture meridian that it balances, facilitating healing the entire energetic connection when used after adjustments to help them hold and drain any toxins that may have been released.

The Ultimate Homeopathic Brain Formula Neurotransmitter Balancing Remedy

Homeopathic Oral Administration (Spray)

Stress and NeuroEndocrine Breakdown

Stress affects the body's biological computer causing health issues and chemical imbalances. Determining and addressing the cause of stress is the most important factor in creating wellness.

Ten stressors can cause endocrine breakdown. The stressors are genetics, neurotransmitter dysfunction, dental abscess or issues, scar tissue, diet, infection (virus, bacteria), environmental toxins, infection, medications including HRT, mind/emotions, and of course, the immune system. All of the above factors can cause significant adrenal stress and endocrine burnout.

Moreover, neurotransmitter imbalances may be a cause of a dysfunctional or blocked glutathione pathway, which may interfere with the body's ability to secrete toxic substances such as heavy metals (mercury, etc.).

Can our brain run out of these precious chemicals?

There are five main chemicals or neurotransmitters in the brain's emotional center:

- Opioids
- GABA
- Serotonin
- Dopamine
- Norepinephrine

When these chemicals are low, a dangerous cycle begins within our bodies. This called the Stress Cycle and the damage it causes is deadly.

Any claims that we make are derived from both the homeopathic materia medica, and our research.

There are many homeopathic material medica's available. All of them have claims based on millions of patients' results over the past 200 years. All of our homeopathic formulas are registered with the FDA.

Our research includes over 13,000, third party (before and after) "Five Element Saliva Test" results. This research indicates toxic levels of hormones and side effects from patients using hormone replacement therapy, which includes, synthetic, bio-identical, naturally derived botanical phyto-estrogens and progesterone products sold in health food stores. Moreover, we have also seen toxicity symptoms from using DHEA and hormone precursors.

Dr. Dale's NuFem® (HRS)

NuFem® Pro, Estro, and Testos Formulas

There are now three additional NuFem® formulas. They balance and revitalize hormones just as the NuFem #1, #2, and #3.

What's the difference?

These new formulations are the exact formula that is in the Theracyl product, which is being aired in an infomercial.

The new formulation called NuFem Pro, Estro, and Testos (topical transdermal liposome base) handles emotions, hysteria, and have LM potencies of specific remedies to go deeper into the matrix and help balance hormones on various levels never before accomplished.

They are formulated with ingredients to help fibroids and cysts (Folliculinum & Ovarinum), as well as all menopausal symptoms including adrenal cortisol using ACTH and cAMP to help the pineal produce melatonin. Also, these new NuFem formulas help with breakthrough, heavy, or long-term bleeding, just as the NuFem #1, #2, and #3 do.

There are no known side effects for homeopathic medicine. A proving (temporary) will exhibit the same symptoms as the symptoms caused by the original substance used to make the remedy. A patient can have a homeopathic proving if the remedy is used for too long of a period of time, without giving the body a break.

New NuFem Pro, Estro and Testos are in a transdermal liposome base and have higher potencies and more specific ingredients to the above issues.

Dr. Dale's Professional Nutritional Line

ATP-MAX

90 veggie capsules

Word origin: from abbreviation of adenosine triphosphate.

Definition

- (1) Abbreviation for adenosine triphosphate, empirical formula: C₁₀H₁₆N₅O₁₃P₃
- (2) An organic compound that is composed of adenosine (an adenine ring and a ribose sugar) and three phosphate groups, hence, the name.

Supplement

ATP is a nucleotide that contains a large amount of chemical energy stored in its high-energy phosphate bonds. It releases energy when it is broken down (hydrolyzed) into ADP (or Adenosine Diphosphate). The energy is used for many metabolic processes. Hence, ATP is considered as the universal energy currency for metabolism.

ATP is produced via cellular respiration in the mitochondria and photosynthesis in chloroplasts.

Its functions are for intracellular energy transport for various metabolic processes including biosynthetic reactions, motility, and cell division. It is also used as a substrate by kinases that phosphorylate proteins and lipids, and by adenylate cyclase to produce cyclic AMP.

OPTIMAL MULTI-PRO

90 veggie capsules

The advanced one-a-day multi vitamin formula has synergistic easily assimilated nutrients to help balance cortisol levels, stress, reduce inflammation and assist overall wellness. My formulation does not include minerals or trace minerals eliminating any heavy metals or toxic substances. Furthermore, some research indicates that high amounts of calcium supplementation can cause health issues such as kidney stones.

Use Optimal Multi-Pro with the Nano Ionic Multi with Silica. Directions for use of Nano Ionic formulas are on the label.

BIO-IODINE

60 veggie capsules

This formula contains biologically available iodine and chamomile to reduce irritation.

Iodine is a trace element and is needed to make thyroid hormones. The two most important thyroid hormones are thyroxine (T₄) and triiodothyronine (T₃). Thyroxine (T₄) has four iodine molecules attached to its structure, while triiodothyronine (T₃) has three iodine molecules attached to it.

Iodine is found in seafood, bread, salt, and seaweed.

See our web site for more information regarding research on Iodine, Thyroid Disease and Breast Cancer and the iodine loading test instructions.

N.A.C. Pro

30 veggie capsules

This formula provides 650 mg per capsule of N-acetyl Cysteine.

N-acetyl is a derivative of the endogenous amino acid L-Cysteine, a precursor of the antioxidant enzyme glutathione. Acetylcysteine regenerates liver stores of glutathione. This agent also reduces disulfide bonds in mucoproteins, resulting in liquification of mucus. Some evidence suggests that acetylcysteine may exert an anti-apoptotic effect due to its antioxidant activity, possibly preventing cancer cell development or growth. In addition, acetylcysteine has inhibited viral stimulation by reactive oxygen intermediates, thereby producing antiviral activity in HIV patients.

It is also used to reverse the toxicity of high doses of acetaminophen.

Niacinamide B-3

(Nicotinamide) is one of the two principal forms of the B-Complex vitamin niacin (see Niacin). The term niacin is used as a collective term to refer to both nicotinamide and nicotinic acid, the other principal form of niacin, or the term is used synonymously with nicotinic acid. Nicotinamide and nicotinic acid have identical vitamin activities, but they have very different pharmacological activities.

Niacinamide is a component of two related coenzymes—nicotinamide adenine dinucleotide (NAD) and nicotinamide adenine dinucleotide phosphate (NADP). The principle function of these enzymes is to facilitate oxidation and reducing reactions in the form of dehydrogenases.

Nicotinamide, via its major metabolite NAD⁺⁺ (nicotinamide adenine dinucleotide), is involved in a wide range of biological processes including the production of energy, the synthesis of fatty acids, cholesterol and steroids, signal transduction, and the maintenance of the integrity of the genome. Nicotinic acid, in pharmacological doses, is used as an antihyperlipidemic agent. It also causes vasodilatation of cutaneous blood vessels resulting in the so-called niacin flush. Nicotinamide in pharmacological doses does not have antihyperlipidemic activity, nor does it cause a niacin-flush. There is evidence, however, that pharmacological doses of nicotinamide may help prevent type 1 diabetes mellitus.

Although niacinamide shares some characteristics of niacin, it has unique nutritional and pharmacological properties of its own. The niacinamide form of B3 is literally required in hundreds of enzymatic reactions in the human body.

Research has demonstrated its remarkable benefits for the following:

- * Diabetes Mellitus, Type 1
- * Arthritis
- * Asthma
- * Heart Disease
- * Stress
- * Stroke
- * Anti-Aging
- * Depression
- * Pellagra
- * Anti-inflammatory

Dosage and Administration:

Typical supplemental dosage ranges from 20 to 200 milligrams daily. Pre- and postnatal vitamin/mineral supplements typically deliver a dose of 20 milligrams daily. Most people need more especially if illness is present related to circulatory or cardiovascular issues including elevated cholesterol.

Suggested Use: 1 capsule daily or as otherwise directed.

L-Tryptophan

For Relaxation, Positive Mood, Sleep and Appetite Control

Dr. Dale's L-Tryptophan is manufactured at a GMP facility via fermentation from vegetarian sources. Our L-Tryptophan contains 500 mgs per veggie capsule and is made from a glucose fermentation process, is Non-GMO, and wild-crafted. It is the purest of all L-Tryptophan in the world! Our L-Tryptophan is suitable for Vegetarian/Vegans.

Dosage on label; 1 capsule for every 50 pounds of body weight or as prescribed by a health provider.

L-Tryptophan is an essential amino acid and hence cannot be synthesized by the body, but must be obtained from food or supplements.

Because L-Tryptophan is converted to serotonin and melatonin in the body, it plays an important role in promoting relaxation, restful sleep and positive mood. L-Tryptophan may also help in reducing carbohydrate cravings.

VITAMIN D-3

Supplemental vitamin D comes in two forms: ergocalciferol (vitamin D2) and cholecalciferol (vitamin D3). Vitamin D3 is structurally similar to steroids such as testosterone, cholesterol, and cortisol (though vitamin D3 itself is a secosteroid).

Vitamin D3 is one of the most useful nutritional tools we have at our disposal for improving overall health. This vitamin is unique because cholecalciferol (Vitamin D3) is a vitamin derived from 7-dehydrocholesterol, however Vitamin D3 acquires hormone-like actions when cholecalciferol (Vitamin D3) is converted to 1,25-dihydroxy Vitamin D3 (Calcitriol) by the liver and kidneys. As a hormone, Calcitriol controls phosphorus, calcium, and bone metabolism and neuromuscular function.

Without vitamin D, bones can become thin, brittle, soft, or misshapen. Vitamin D prevents rickets in children and osteomalacia in adults, which are skeletal diseases that result in defects that weaken bones.

Vitamin D is an important immune system regulator. The active form of vitamin D, 1,25-dihydroxyvitamin D3 [1,25(OH)₂D₃], has been shown to inhibit the development of autoimmune diseases, including inflammatory bowel disease (IBD).

Recent studies have shown that vitamin D3 is a more potent form of vitamin D. Vitamin D2 has a shorter shelf life, and its metabolites bind with protein poorly, making it less effective.

The latest research, however, shows that 1,25-dihydroxy Vitamin D3 deficiency is linked to a surprising number of other health conditions such as depression, back pain, cancer, both insulin resistance, heart disease, arthritis, infertility, PMS, fatigue, depression, SAD and pre-eclampsia during pregnancy, impaired immunity, obesity, syndrome X, and macular degeneration. Activated vitamin D in the adrenal gland regulates tyrosine hydroxylase, the rate limiting enzyme necessary for the production of dopamine, epinephrine and nor epinephrine. Multiple Sclerosis, Sjogren's Syndrome, rheumatoid arthritis, thyroiditis and Crohn's disease have all been linked with low vitamin D levels.

RAW NATTOKINASE

Our Nattokinase is the real thing and the very best available. Beware of less expensive brands that have no track record for safety or effectiveness. Our Nattokinase is genuine from Japan, not China.

According to legend, the warrior Minamoto no Yoshiie found boiled soybeans that had been left on straw and had fermented, leading to the discovery of Natto. By the end of the Edo period (1603-1867), Natto had become a regular part of Japanese culture in some areas. Some believe that Natto (and, by extension, Nattokinase) may play a role in the lower overall incidence of Cardiovascular disease in Japan.

Reasons To Use Nattokinase

- 100% all-natural product proven safe & very effective
- We offer Real Nattokinase that will promote healthy blood flow
- Breaks down clots that lead to heart attack & stroke
- Supports healthy coagulation of blood within normal levels and enhanced fibrinolytic activity
- Exerts positive effects on blood pressure levels
- Reduces fibrin and "sluggish blood" that can result
- In sore, aching muscles - Nattokinase is great for seniors, long flights, gym workouts and elite athletes!
- No side effects

Reasons to use Dr. Dale's Nattokinase

Other brands, even supposed competitors, contain known ingredients that are toxic such as lead, arsenic, heavy metals, yeast and mold along with Vitamin K (interferes with Coumadin).

Our Nattokinase...

- Is in a veggie cap without excipients; has been thoroughly tested and does NOT contain Vitamin K, mold, yeast, E Coli, Salmonella Sp, Listeria, or heavy metals like other brands.
- Is 100% free of Vitamin K.
- Has 21,100 FU/g and is the most potent available.
- Has high productivity of nattokinase through advanced fermentation and purification process.

Nattokinase Benefits & Information

Nattokinase is an enzyme that is extracted from the fermented soy food called "natto." Natto is regarded by the Japanese as a very healthy food and has been consumed there for centuries. Nattokinase, however, has only recently been discovered, isolated and investigated. The research and anecdotal reports are extremely promising, suggesting that including nattokinase in your wellness regime confers several important cardiovascular health benefits such as minimizing the chances of developing heart and vascular diseases.

Nattokinase is valued in the alternative medicine community as a clot-buster and blood thinner, and is sometimes recommended as a substitute for daily Aspirin therapy. But its effects go beyond that in terms of catalyzing other enzyme activity.

Nattokinase dissolves fibrin (the tiny fibers) that forms the strong mesh in blood clots. After a heart attack or stroke, the drugs (streptokinase and urokinase) administered intravenously work the same way as Nattokinase. The significant difference is that Nattokinase is natural, non toxic and absorbable by mouth and also believed to be longer-acting. Nattokinase is said to have similar clot-dissolving abilities as plasmin, a biological in blood.

Alternatively, aspirin reduces stickiness of blood cells (platelets) that, together with fibrin strands, make up blood clots. The drug Coumadin (warfarin) works on abnormal clotting by preventing fibrin strands from forming a clot.

Dr. Dale's Professional Nutritional Line

Our brand of Nattokinase is maximum strength and uses a healthy vegetarian encapsulation and it stands apart by using only 100% Genuine Nattokinase from Japan, Nattokinase was discovered in the 1980s by Dr. Hiroyuki Sumi while researching in Chicago, Illinois, who actually named the enzyme "nattokinase".

Comparing Nattokinase to Coumadin

Coumadin IV Side Effects:

Severe allergic reactions (rash, hives, itching, difficulty breathing, tightness in the chest, swelling of the mouth, face, lips, or tongue), back, side, muscle, joint, or stomach pain, black, tarry, or bloody stools, blood in the urine (pink or brown urine), bloody or coffee ground-like vomit, chest pain, decreased urination, dizziness, fainting, fever, numbness or tingling, pain, unusual color, or temperature change in any area of the body, pale skin, purple, dark, or painful toes, shortness of breath, skin sores or ulcers, stroke symptoms (eg, confusion, slurred speech, vision problems, one-sided weakness), sudden severe pain in your legs, feet, or toes, trouble swallowing, unexplained swelling, unusual bruising or bleeding (eg, nosebleed, unusual bleeding from gums, increased bleeding from cuts, increased menstrual or vaginal bleeding, coughing up blood, bleeding at the injection site), unusual headache or weakness, unusual pain, swelling, or discomfort, wounds or sores that do not heal properly, yellowing of the skin or eyes.

Coumadin Tablets Side Effects:

Severe allergic reactions (rash, hives, itching, difficulty breathing, tightness in the chest, swelling of the mouth, face, lips, or tongue), back, side, muscle, joint, or stomach pain, black, tarry, or bloody stools, blood in the urine (pink or brown urine), bloody or coffee ground-like vomit, chest pain, decreased urination, dizziness, fainting, fever, numbness or tingling, pain, unusual color, or temperature change in any area of the body, pale skin, purple, dark, or painful toes, shortness of breath, skin sores or ulcers, stroke symptoms (eg, confusion, slurred speech, vision problems, one-sided weakness), sudden severe pain in your legs, feet, or toes, trouble swallowing, unexplained swelling, unusual bruising or bleeding (eg, nosebleed, unusual bleeding from gums, increased bleeding from cuts, increased menstrual or vaginal bleeding, coughing up blood), unusual headache or weakness, unusual pain, swelling, or discomfort, wounds or sores that do not heal properly, yellowing of the skin or eyes.

Coumadin Side Effects - for the Professional

Potential adverse reactions to Coumadin may include:

Fatal or nonfatal hemorrhage from any tissue or organ. This is a consequence of the anticoagulant effect. The signs, symptoms, and severity will vary according to the location and degree or extent of the bleeding. Hemorrhagic complications may present as paralysis, paresthesia, headache, chest, abdomen, joint, muscle or other pain, dizziness, shortness of breath, difficult breathing or swallowing, unexplained swelling, weakness, hypotension, or unexplained shock. Therefore, the possibility of hemorrhage should be considered in evaluating the condition of any anticoagulated patient with complaints which do not indicate an obvious diagnosis. Bleeding during anticoagulant therapy does not always correlate with PT/INR.

Bleeding which occurs when the PT/INR is within the therapeutic range warrants diagnostic investigation since it may unmask a previously unsuspected lesion, e.g., tumor, ulcer, etc.

Necrosis of skin and other tissues.

Adverse reactions reported infrequently include: hypersensitivity/allergic reactions, including anaphylactic reactions, systemic cholesterol microembolization, purple toes syndrome, hepatitis, cholestatic hepatic injury, jaundice, elevated liver enzymes, hypotension, vasculitis, edema, anemia, pallor, fever, rash, dermatitis, including bullous eruptions, urticaria, angina syndrome, chest pain, abdominal pain including cramping, flatulence/bloating, fatigue, lethargy, malaise, asthenia, nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, pain, headache, dizziness, loss of consciousness, syncope, coma, taste perversion, pruritus, alopecia, cold intolerance, and paresthesia including feeling cold and chills.

Rare events of tracheal or tracheobronchial calcification have been reported in association with long-term warfarin therapy. The clinical significance of this event is unknown.

Priapism has been associated with anticoagulant administration, however, a causal relationship has not been established.

Hepatic Glutathione Pathway & Methylation Pathway Regulation

* Theresa Dale

For adults and children with ADHD, autism, IBS, neurological and memory disorders and inhibited detoxification pathway. The Hepatic Glutathione Pathway Supplement repairs glutathione-mediated detoxification pathways. Complete Information, research and references can be found on our web site.

Toxins from vaccines and other sources actually compromise the glutathione-dependent detoxification pathways. The net result is that individuals can't break down and excrete toxins. The glutathione pathway becomes blocked making it impossible to make headway in resolving ADHA, autism and other neurological and health issues. Furthermore, gut issues need to be addressed at the same time; lower GI dysfunction, healing digestive enzyme deficiencies which go hand in hand with the impairment of the hepatic detoxification pathway. My protocol is based on years of clinical research in evaluating and healing neurological issues and the Hepatic Glutathione Pathway. Please refer to the chart that follows and the ingredients included in the proprietary formula.

Hepatic-Glutathione Pathway Formula

Proprietary formula includes the following nutrients.

Glutathione Reduced: Glutathione acts as one of the major detoxifiers in the body, but it must be in the reduced form to work properly. Sometimes glutathione will be listed on the label of a product, however it won't be specifically listed as being reduced. The unreduced form is much cheaper and isn't metabolically active. Glutathione is a low molecular weight tri-peptide (glutamyl-cysteinyl-glycine) found at relatively high concentrations (0.5–10 mM) in all mammalian cells and relatively low concentrations (2–20 µM) in plasma.

Methylcobalamine B-12 and Folinic Acid: Protects Your Brain and Heart and has been shown effective in preventing hyperhomocysteinemia and raises glutathione levels essential for assisting neurological health issues including Autism and Alzheimer disease.

SAMe: S-Adenosylmethionine is the Ultimate Nutrient For Mood, Liver, Heart, Joint And Brain Protection. SAMe is the "lynch pin" of three major biochemical pathways- transmethylation, transsulfuration, and aminopropylation- which regulate or impact virtually every biochemical reaction in humans and animals. Neurochemistry, liver biology, heart and artery function, cartilage, bone and joint health, stomach/ intestinal lining resistance to ulceration, immune health, cell membrane integrity and pain and inflammation, are just some of the realms heavily influenced by the efficiency (or inefficiency) of one's SAMe metabolism.

NAC: N-Acetyl Cysteine acts as a bronchial and lung decongestant, glutathione precursor, antioxidant, antimutagenic, immune booster and detoxifier.

Alpha Lipoic Acid: Alpha lipoic acid is a fatty acid found naturally inside every cell in the body. It's needed by the body to produce the energy for our body's normal functions. Alpha lipoic acid converts glucose (blood sugar) into energy. ALA is also an antioxidant used to increase production of glutathione, which helps dissolve toxic substances in the liver. It helps neutralize free radicals in our bodies and protects our cells from damage. What makes alpha lipoic acid unique is that it functions in water and fat, unlike the more common antioxidants.

TMG: Betaine (trimethylglycine) functions very closely with choline, folic acid, vitamin B-12 and a form of the amino acid methionine known as S-adenosylmethionine (SAMe). All of these compounds function as "methyl donors." They carry and donate methyl molecules to facilitate necessary chemical processes. The donation of methyl groups by betaine is very important to proper liver function, cellular replication, and detoxification reactions. Betaine also plays a role in the manufacture of carnitine and serves to protect the kidneys from damage. Betaine is closely related to choline. The difference is that choline (tetramethylglycine) has four methyl groups attached to it. When choline donates one of these groups to another molecule, it becomes betaine (trimethylglycine). If betaine donates one of its methyl groups, then it becomes dimethylglycine.

P5P: pyridoxal-5'-phosphate is a prosthetic group of enzymes. It is the active form of vitamin B6, which comprises three natural organic compounds, pyridoxal, pyridoxamine and pyridoxine.

B6 and Magnesium Orotate: Studies indicate that vitamin B6 and magnesium supplements can have profoundly beneficial effects on those suffering from autistic spectrum disorders. Many studies have been carried out to examine the effects of vitamin B6 (pyridoxine) and magnesium supplements on autistic spectrum disorders. Research indicates that 50% or more of those treated make significant improvements, often within just a few days. The Orotate form of magnesium includes orotic acid which helps cell absorption.

Selenium: Selenium has been shown to be effective in oxidative stress-mediated neuronal loss and in several neurological disorders including epilepsy. It also plays an important role in the immune response, defense against tissue damage and helps thyroid function. Selenium forms part of the active site of the peroxide-destroying enzyme glutathione peroxidase (GSHPx) and it also has other functions, for example in biotransformation and detoxification.

Hepatic Glutathione Pathway & Methylation Pathway Regulation

° Theresa Dale

Selenium is an essential trace mineral required by the body in small quantities. It is also a potent antioxidant. Selenium is necessary for proper calcium and vitamin C metabolism, helps convert blood sugar into energy, decreases platelet aggregation and helps promote cardiovascular health. Selenium may be used to help prevent or treat many types of cancers, including colon, lung, and prostate cancers. Selenium has also been used to help lower cholesterol levels, slow or prevent the progression of HIV, and ease inflammatory symptoms of arthritis. Selenium may be used to strengthen the immune system against infection, help treat sterility, and improve functioning of the liver, pancreas, and thyroid gland.

There are three specific diseases associated with selenium deficiency: Keshan Disease, which causes an enlarged heart and poor heart function in children, Kashin-Beck Disease, which causes osteoarthropathy and Myxedematous Endemic Cretinism, which results in mental retardation. It is highly recommended that children and pregnant women get adequate amounts of selenium in their diets.

Dandelion: Taraxacum officinale. Dandelion has been used for its nutritional value as well as for water retention, regulation of blood glucose, upset stomach, urinary tract infections, kidney and bladder stones, liver and gallbladder complaints, and loss of appetite.

Hepatic Glutathione Pathway & Methylation Pathway Regulation

Why do autistic youngsters have unusually low concentrations of glutathione in their cells?

In the International Journal of Toxicology researchers noted that hair analysis of autistic children showed a reduction of mercury as compared to hair analysis of normal children. The researchers suggested that this meant that the normal children were efficient at removing mercury and autistic children, in contrast, had a reduced ability to remove mercury from their bodies, increasing neurological damage. A year later in 2004, researchers at the Department of Genetics at Arkansas Children's Hospital in Little Rock discovered that autistic children have reduced levels of the detoxifying antioxidant glutathione as compared to normal control children.

What has the research shown about autism and glutathione levels?

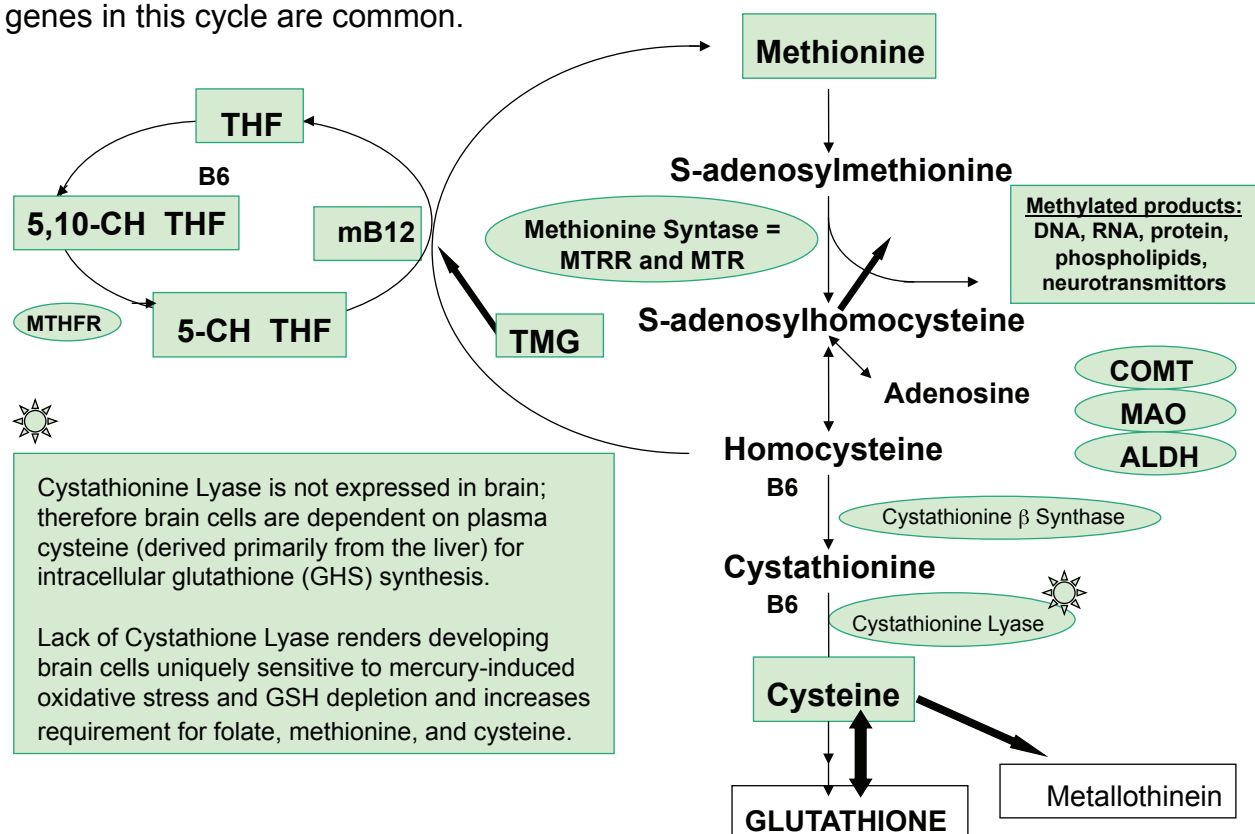

In 2004, an article published in the Journal of American Physicians and Surgeons made the following statement:

"In 2004, the department of Health and Human Services and the American Academy of Pediatrics issued an Autism A.L.A.R.M. stating that one in 166 children currently have an autistic disorder, and one in six children have a developmental and/or behavioral disorder." Incredible! We have a current epidemic in neuro-developmental problems!!

What about other neurological disorders and does glutathione support the detoxification of poisons and heavy metals, like mercury?

Yes, this formula will support healing all neurological disorders. Glutathione normally binds to heavy metals, and the body then targets the molecular complex for elimination. If the hepatic glutathione pathway is not doing its job, toxicity remains in the brain and the brain does not detoxify.

GLUTATHIONE SYNTHESIS IN THE BRAIN IS DEPENDENT ON HEPATIC CYSTEINE SYNTHESIS AND EXPORT - Polymorphisms in genes in this cycle are common.

BioFilm Detox

Fighting chronic infections is a problem that has become more and more difficult with which to deal. Scientists worldwide are now seeing microorganisms as evolved, complex colonies that have developed unique and intricate ways to survive.

We all are supposed to have normal, healthy, symbiotic flora growing in our GI tract that helps us fight off pathogens and allergens. When the balance of good bugs and bad bugs is disrupted, our immune system cannot function optimally and chronic infections and allergy issues may ensue.

Remember that 70% of our immune system resides in our gut. When our immune system is weak, pathogens find a way to set up residence in our body and GI tract. In order to evade the immune system and survive in a hostile, toxic environment, these bugs produce a slimy substance called biofilm.

This biofilm surrounds and protects the bad bugs like an impenetrable fortress allowing them to thrive and reproduce. As they reproduce, they continue to produce their toxic byproducts that may have detrimental effects on the health of the host without the host even realizing the bugs are there.

Recently, scientists are discovering ways to penetrate these pathogenic biofilms and expose the bad bugs underneath. They have discovered the composition of most biofilms consists of sugar molecules or polysaccharides, minerals (such as calcium, iron and magnesium), DNA and fibrin.

Some studies have shown that by using enzymes that potentially degrade components of the pathogenic biofilm, infections in the lungs, sinuses and wounds are easier to clear.

BioFilm Detox contains a combination of unique enzymes that have the ability to dissolve the sugar and fibrin components of most pathogenic biofilms.

Clinicians may use this product on an empty stomach followed by appropriate BioTox Nosode products, (homeopathic pathogens) that target a specific bug or bugs.

Naturopathic or Holistic programs targeting the GI tract include quality enzymes (Digest Pro), probiotics, prebiotics, and nutrients (Optimal Multi Pro, Nano Ionic Multi, Vitamin D, etc.) that help to rebuild and heal the gut lining and allow our symbiotic flora to become restored.

Protocol:

You can use BioFilm Detox two different ways.

Children:

1 per day for children with ASD or other gut/immune issue (before a meal).

Adults:

Between meals take BioFilm Detox 15 minutes before BioTox formulas, Candida-Ease or Bowel Nosodes.

Suggested Use: Adults—One or two capsules once to three times daily before meals.
Children—One capsule daily before one meal.

HYPOALLERGENIC: Contains no artificial color, flavors or preservatives.

KEEP OUT OF REACH OF CHILDREN. STORE IN A COOL, DRY PLACE. DO NOT USE IF SEAL IS BROKEN.

Dr. Dale's Nano Ionic Minerals

Ionic, Colloidal, and Pill Supplements

What's the difference? Get the facts!

Documented scientific mineral research is actually quite extensive and informative, yet it is frequently ignored in the mainstream media. The following is a short synopsis of the most important minerals along with references to research articles.

It is very important to understand the function of minerals and how they work in the body. Minerals are enzyme catalysts. They activate enzymes. They do not do anything in isolation and therefore require a full complement of good protein, fats, and carbohydrates to create the well functioning organic system we know of as our body.

Much of the research cited herein will be found on PubMed, a service of the National Library of Medicine. PubMed includes over 15 million citations from MEDLINE and other life science journals for biomedical articles back to the 1950s. PubMed includes links to full text articles and other related resources.

Dr. Dale's Ionic Minerals are the purest on the market (up to 99.9999% pure), in the purest water (a five step purification process assures absolutely pure water), nothing more, nothing less. Through a complex proprietary process, liquefies minerals to a state where (if dehydrated) they will grow crystals. Each mineral presents unique problems that must be overcome in a different manner than each other mineral. When a plant processes minerals from the earth, they end up as ionic minerals, the form necessary in order to be usable and absorbable by the body.

The Ionic Minerals in our bodies are the same of which the earth is made. They are essential for life and health. Specific ionic minerals facilitate specific functions in the organs and tissues where they are dominantly stored. Each ionic mineral is a conductor or transmitter operating on a specific vibratory frequency. Rarely does any element function alone. Each element achieves its power through biochemical combination and relationship with other elements, in other words, Liquid Minerals work synergistically with other nutrients from a wholesome natural diet.

Cell Ready = assimilated into the human cell, not just the blood stream

Water Soluble = mineral angstrom sized particles in an aqueous solution

Dr. Dale's ionic minerals, are in a water-soluble form with an extremely high absorption rate. The product contains no fillers, binders, preservatives, or chemicals. The following minerals will be available in concentrates.

Ionic Minerals....What is an ion?

An ion is any atom or group of atoms that holds one or more positive or negative electrical charges. Positively charged ions are known as cations while negatively charged ions are called anions. Ions are formed by the addition of electrons to, or the removal of electrons from, neutral atoms or molecules or other ions. Additionally, the splitting of the bond between two atoms such that a portion of the electrons shared by the previously joined atoms are split between the two now individual atoms. Examples of this include the reaction between a sodium atom and a chlorine atom to form sodium chloride (NaCl), now comprised of a sodium cation and a chloride anion. Some important cations for human health are calcium, hydrogen, magnesium, sodium and potassium, while the important anions are bicarbonate, chloride and phosphate, to name a few.

Minerals are found throughout nature, although oftentimes the forms they are found in are not well utilized by the human body. In physiology, it is known that in order for an organism to properly and completely absorb minerals, they must have an electrical charge attached in order to penetrate cellular barriers. This cellular barrier, known as the cellular membrane, is the ultimate gatekeeper, deciding exactly what enters and exits the cell. The fluid surrounding our cells is saturated with both cations and anions, as is the fluid inside of the cells. Because of this separation of atoms with specific electrical charges, an electrical gradient, or current, is formed across the cell membrane. Because of this current, the movement of the charged mineral particles that the cell requires tends to flow more easily across the cell membrane.

Ionic versus Colloidal

The chemical gradient results in the passive movement of ions from a region of higher concentration to lesser concentration. In humans, this process is achieved in the stomach, where hydrochloric acid assists in splitting apart groups of atoms, leaving them in an ionic state which allows them to more easily penetrate the intestinal wall, where a large amount of absorption takes place. The body preferentially absorbs minerals in ionic form, while other mineral forms (organic, colloidal) are not as readily absorbed.

The term used to describe the condition in which materials are held in a stable, colloidal suspension is called the dispersed phase. In the dispersed phase they are distributed evenly and uniformly throughout whatever medium they are suspended. The problem with this is that the ability of colloids to be readily absorbed by the body is limited due to their size and that they are not charged. Without an electrical charge, minerals are not likely to penetrate the cell membrane. Minerals found in the stable colloidal state, are too large and insoluble to dissolve but are also too small to settle out of the suspension. This fixed state of suspension occurs regardless of whether the substances are inorganic (metals) or organic (plant tissues). Colloids, by definition, cannot penetrate the semi-permeable membranes, which line our intestinal tract, mouth and esophagus. Because of their relatively large particle size, it is difficult for most living tissues to directly absorb colloids.

Ionic minerals are already in a form that the body recognizes and understands so they can be easily assimilated through the selectively permeable cell membranes. The colloidal minerals, on the other hand, must first undergo a process of conversion within the body prior to being absorbed, and then only a certain percentage is utilized after the conversion process.

The bioavailability of a mineral is influenced by the form in which it is consumed in the diet, and by the presence of other factors in the food that enhance or depress mineral absorption and utilization.

Ions play an important role in the body. Larger minerals such as calcium, potassium, sodium, and chloride are some key ions that participate in the body's electrical conduction systems. Imbalances of any of these ions or certain trace ions in the body can negatively affect the transport of minerals across the cell membranes, leading to dysfunction. Meanwhile, trace minerals such as chromium, manganese, molybdenum, selenium, vanadium and copper have very specific effects in the body, and have far-reaching health effects as evidenced by current research.

Dr. Dale's Nano Ionic Minerals

Colloidal and Ionic Minerals. The Difference is in the ABSORPTION!!!

Minerals can generally be found in two different forms. The first form is that of a colloid, where minerals are suspended in a stable form. In this stable form, the minerals are evenly distributed throughout the medium in which they are suspended. Minerals in this colloid state are held in large, organized patterns, whereby they remain in suspension without settling out.

Manufacturers claim that supplements made from these colloids are more balanced than other mineral supplements and are in a natural form that is easier for the body to use. According to the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) and the American Dietetic Association, no scientific evidence supports these claims. Commercial colloidal mineral products are derived from clay or humic shale deposits and there is a tremendous amount of promotional claims for colloidal mineral products. There is no reliable medical evidence to support using these products.

Ionic minerals, on the other hand, are easily transported across the highly selective cell membranes of the human digestive tract. Because ionic minerals are charged, the body has to employ less energy in order to absorb these minerals. Colloidal minerals must be dismantled, into smaller parts, and obtain an electrical charge in order to cross the intestinal membrane. This electrical gradient allows for the easy flow of ionic minerals from an area of higher concentration (intestines) to an area of lesser concentration (cells of the body). The body assists in this process by further charging ions during the course of the digestive process. The body absorbs ionic minerals with greater efficacy than colloidal minerals, as colloids must undergo the complete processes of digestion into smaller charged particles, and even after undergoing these processes; the body utilizes not all of the colloid mineral form, just as not all foods eaten are completely utilized.

Various minerals, in their atomic form, link with other minerals to form ionic complexes. Nature has designed an intricate fit between atoms of different species. For instance, each atom has a particular number of electrons within its grasp that it constantly maintains. As this atom interacts with other atoms of the same type, or even different types, it enters into electron-sharing agreements with these different atoms, forming different mineral complexes. This association is highly important to the workings of all biological organisms, as the linking of many different types of atoms forms solid matter.

Importance of Ionic minerals

Minerals are found both in their single, unlinked form (such as a solitary potassium ion) and their ionic form in which they have joined with another atom to make a charged mineral particle.

The large majority of minerals are found bound in some form or another, which is important for their utilization in human physiology. When the body absorbs ionized, or electrically charged minerals, they can be readily absorbed through our selectively permeable intestinal membranes. In fact, the membranes lining our intestinal tract maintain their own specific electrical charge in the form of ionic receptors. The body maintains this charge on the lining of membranes in order to facilitate the absorption of food nutrients. Different receptor areas maintain different charge qualities, allowing for the attraction of the multitudes of diverse nutrients that pass through the intestinal tract. Because of this charge, ionic minerals are easily taken into the cells lining the intestinal tract, whereby they may be readily employed in the many physiologic activities of the body.

BIOGRAPHY

Dr. Theresa Dale, Ph.D., C.C.N., N.P.

At 22 years of age, Dr. Dale's interest in non-invasive therapies expanded when she was diagnosed with a uterine tumor. After healing herself using natural methods, she decided to dedicate her life to helping others to do the same.

Dr. Dale holds a Ph.D. in Naturopathic Sciences, is a board certified Naturopathic Doctor, a Certified Clinical Nutritionist and a Certified Advanced Clinical Transpersonal Hypnotherapist. Special studies in Nutrition, Clinical Kinesiology, Physics, Electro-Acupuncture, Homeopathy, and Electromagnetic Fields have taken her around the world, from the Hans Brugemann Institute in Germany, through Europe, South Africa and India.

In 1994 Dr. Dale founded the California College of Natural Medicine, a California state-approved vocational school, which offers traditional Naturopathic, Nutrition & Herbal & Homeopathic training.

Due to the fact that thousands of women die each year from hormone replacement therapy, Dr. Dale invented and formulated a naturopathic and homeopathic approach to balancing hormones. The NuFem Hormone Rejuvenation System (Health Professionals) and EndoPure HRS (retail market) are advanced systems of endocrine healing and rebuilding incorporating new homeopathic formulas based on the circadian rhythm of a woman's cycle. Dr. Dale's system includes the first saliva test in history based on the Traditional Chinese Medicine "Body Clock", which incorporates the proper times for organ and meridian function.

Theresa Dale saw the need for patients to deeply heal physical and emotional issues by releasing the anchors and causes of their diseases. Therefore, she first invented Neuro-Emotional Remedies in 1990, followed by many BioResonance formulas, and her latest BioRevitalize Your Hormones. In addition, Dr. Dale is the inventor of the professional healing protocol, NeuroPhysical Reprogramming.

Among the curriculum, Dr. Dale has authored the first "Homeopathic Endocrinology" Training. She has also authored the Biotic Mac Slow Foods Cookbook and most recently, Transform Your Emotional DNA, Understanding the Blueprint of Your Life.

In addition, she has been on the cutting edge in her field, recognizing the crucial connection between resisted emotions and physical illness. She has a new book scheduled for release on homeopathic hormone rejuvenation, which will give self-help methods based on results from thousands of individuals who have healed and rejuvenated their own endocrine systems using homeopathy and Theresa Dale's anti-aging lifestyle.

Theresa Dale has been a featured guest in the media, including The Leeza Show, NBC News, Vogue, Associated Press, EXTRA, and Homeopathy Today. Dr. Dale is the founder of the Wellness Center for Research & Education, Inc., BioResonance Research and the International College of Naturopathy, Inc.
