WHAT MAKES THIS PROGRAM DIFFERENT

If you feel like you're the only one using this approach and frustrated that you can't get others on board – we can help. Once you're accepted into this program, you'll have guidance and support from a community of like-minded educators in a safe and encouraging space.

01 | DEDICATED COACHES INVESTED IN YOU

You're never alone in this program. Your mentor will get to know you, provide direct feedback weekly and help guide your next steps.

02 | EXTRAORDINARY COMMUNITY

Upon acceptance, you'll be carefully placed into a cohort of between 25-28 other educators. These amazing people will encourage, support, and collaborate with you all year long – and beyond! Previous graduates have found lifelong connections with their cohort groups.

03 | UNPARALLELED ACCESS

Want to have direct access to the entire EducationCloset team? This program moves you to the front of the line – always. Ask us anything, we're here to help. You'll always be treated with understanding, honesty and respect. And once you're a part of our community, you have lifetime access at no additional charge.

04 | TIMELESS APPROACH

We've built this program on the bedrock of the arts integration approach: authenticity and integrity. You'll move through a purposeful sequence of coursework that both stretches and fulfills you. And, you'll be able to apply everything immediately in your current role.

ADDITIONAL COMPONENTS

EDCLOSET CERTIFIED + 720 PD HOURS

Upon completion of the program, you'll be an EducationCloset Certified Arts Integration Specialist. This means you will have the skills and tools we have found to be essential to leading others in implementing Arts Integration efforts. And you'll receive 720 PD hours for the program.

LISTED AS A SPECIALIST

All certified specialists will be listed in our directory on the EdCloset site and will be shared with school districts around the country.

STATE-OF-THE-ART ONLINE LEARNING PLATFORM

All of your sprints will be delivered in an easy-to-use, mobile and desktop ready online learning system. You'll be able to access your coursework and resources anywhere, anytime.
