

Happy New Year!

Hello, friends!

I don't know about you, but I love the hustle and bustle, laughter and excitement of children, giving and pure joy that comes with the holiday season.

I am much less happy and excited about the long, cold and dreary weather ahead of us. However, I always look forward to a fresh, new year. There is something about flipping that calendar and seeing that new number that fills me with peace. I find myself, year after year, thinking about how quickly the previous year went by!

2019 is a pretty big year for our family. Our oldest will graduate from high school! Talk about time flying! It seems like we just brought her home from the hospital. I am going to try my hardest to take in every moment this year and enjoy the small things.

I pray for peace, joy, and happiness for your family in 2019. Brandy and I thank you for letting us be a small part of your lives. We look forward seeing what this next year brings!
