Happily Ever After: Part 3 - What She Must Be

Genesis 3:16-19; Ephesians 5:22-24

1. What was most meaningful, memorable, or challenging to you from the message this week?
2. What are some of the quirks that are easy to spot in your spouse's life, but are difficult to spot in your own?
3. How would you describe Adam and Eve's relationship before sin entered the picture? After?
4. Read Ephesians 5:22-24. How would you summarize Paul's commands to wives?
5. Have you seen an example of a wife who "submits to her husband as to the Lord"? What does that look like practically?
6. Wives, out of the three practical steps suggested (listen to him, invite him to lead, admire him) which one do you find easiest to practice? Which one is most difficult?
7. Wives, how will you make love a verb this week to your husband?

MOVING FORWARD

Great marriages happen when two people make love a verb by mutually submitting to each other as they fulfill their God-given roles. Husbands and wives are different, that much has been obvious since the beginning of time. But when the husband fulfills his God-designed role, and the wife fulfills her God-designed role, happily ever after is possible.

CHANGING YOUR MIND

To the woman he said, "I will make your pains in childbearing very severe; with painful labor you will give birth to children. Your desire will be for your husband, and he will rule over you."
