

Aron Jamil Ahmadia

Relativity, Arlington, VA

Aron is the Senior Director for Applied Science at Relativity, where he leads the development of AI capabilities for Relativity One, including AI-Assisted Review, Analytics, and Search. He is an internationally recognized expert on machine learning and artificial intelligence. His specializations include the use of AI in Legal Discovery, Model Risk Management, and Responsible AI. Aron holds a Ph.D. in Applied Math from Columbia University and a B.S. in Computer Engineering from the Illinois Institute of Technology.

Kelly Atherton

Norton Rose Fulbright, Minneapolis, MN

Kelly is Counsel and a member of the Information Governance, Privacy, and Cybersecurity team at Norton Rose Fulbright. Her practice focuses on eDiscovery and cyber incident response. Kelly has a strong understanding of the technical aspects of eDiscovery and has significant experience using technology assisted review, analytics, and data mining tools. She is CEDS certified; a Relativity Expert; and a Brainspace Certified Analyst and Specialist. Kelly is an active member of The Sedona Conference Working Group 1 and the All-Sedona Diversity Committee. She holds a B.A. with honors in Politics & Government from the University of Puget Sound and a J.D. from Willamette University College of Law, where she was the Editor-in-Chief of the Willamette Journal of Internal Law and Dispute Resolution and the Note and Comment Editor of the Willamette Law Review.

Hon. Maria A. Audero

U.S. District Court, Central District of California, Los Angeles, CA

Maria A. Audero was appointed as a U.S. Magistrate Judge in 2018. Prior to her appointment, Judge Audero was an employment law litigation partner at Paul Hastings LLP and co-chair of the firm's Los Angeles Employment Law Department. During her practice at Paul Hastings, Judge Audero served as Judge Pro Tem for the Los Angeles Superior Court and was appointed by Governor Edmund G. Brown as Commissioner of the California Fair Political Practices Commission. Judge Audero was co-chair of the American Bar Association's Section of Labor and Employment Law Committee on Federal Labor Standards Legislation – Family and Medical Leave Act and was Editor-in-Chief of the annual Mid-Winter Report. She also sat as Chair of the Board of Directors of the Employment Round Table of Southern California. Judge Audero is a former member and advisor of the Executive Committee of the California Bar Association's Labor & Employment Law Section. Judge Audero received her undergraduate degree from U.C.L.A. and her J.D. degree from Southwestern University School of Law, serving as Associate Editor of its law review and graduating magna cum laude.

Rebekah Bailey

Nichols Kaster, PLLP, Minneapolis, MN

Rebekah is a partner at Nichols Kaster in Minneapolis, where she litigates on behalf of predominately requesting parties in asymmetrical litigation, including in civil rights class actions and qui tam matters across the country. Rebekah chairs her firm's eDiscovery committee. Rebekah is the Chair of the District of Minnesota's Federal Practice Committee, and she's a member of the WG1 Steering Committee. She is a founding member of her firm's civil rights and impact litigation team and consumer class action group, and she has served as a member of the firm's National Wage and Hour Team. Rebekah has spoken at national conferences on various topics such as eDiscovery, false claims, arbitration, equal pay, and various wage and hour issues.

DIALOGUE LEADERS

David J. Burman

Perkins Coie LLP, Seattle, WA

Dave is a partner at Perkins Coie and member of the Advisory Committee on Civil Rules. His cases include two U.S. Supreme Court arguments, the trial contesting the Washington Governor's election, Costco's antitrust and constitutional challenges to state wine and liquor laws, Yellow Pages publishers' constitutional challenge to municipal restrictions on distribution, and the Pharmaceutical AWP and Opiate MDLs and related state cases. He served as an attorney representative to the Ninth Circuit Judicial Conference and on the Ninth Circuit Rules Advisory Committee and is a fellow of the American College of Trial Lawyers and a member of the American Law Institute, where he was an advisor in drafting the "Principles of Aggregate Litigation." At the start of his career he clerked for Justice Byron White and Judge Spottswood Robinson of the D.C. Circuit after attending Georgetown University Law Center and the University of Wyoming.

Vince Carnevale

Milberg Coleman Bryson Phillips Grossman, Pittsburgh, PA

Vince is a Partner at Milberg involved with the assessment and implementation of legal technology applications to improve firm operations. He graduated from Robert Morris University with a B.S.B.A. degree in Finance/Economics and graduated from the University of Pittsburgh School of Law in 2001. After law school, he joined an AMLaw 200 defense firm, working on electronic discovery projects related to multiple global mass tort pharmaceutical litigation matters. He went on to work as an Investigative Analyst/Legal Project Manager for Crivella West Incorporated, an advanced analytics and investigational research company. With over twenty years of experience managing all aspects of electronic discovery including collection, search, review and production, Vince has drafted various discovery pleadings including Document Preservation Orders, Legal Hold Notices, and Electronically Stored Information (ESI) Document Production Protocols. He has attended numerous Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(f) Meet and Confer sessions to assist in the negotiation of ESI protocols and search criteria. He has also drafted declarations and affidavits regarding the quality and sufficiency of document productions and has attended status conferences in State and Federal court to support the related motions.

Hon. Noelle C. Collins

U.S. District Court, Eastern District of Missouri, St. Louis, MO

Judge Collins was selected as a U.S. Magistrate Judge for the Eastern District of Missouri beginning on December 1, 2013. Prior to that, she worked as an Assistant U.S. Attorney, specializing in human trafficking prosecutions, for the last three years of her nearly ten year-tenure as a federal prosecutor. Judge Collins began her legal career in private practice with concentrations in commercial litigation and employment law and client counseling. Judge Collins is serving her second term on the Federal Judicial Center's Magistrate Judge Education Advisory Committee, which provides training and programming to the nation's Magistrate Judges. Her District Court committees have included work on alternative dispute resolution and local rules. She is also a presiding judge over the Janis C. Good Mental Health Court. Judge Collins received her J.D. from the University of Illinois in Urbana-Champaign and her MSJ and BSJ in journalism from Northwestern University. Prior to law school, Judge Collins worked as a magazine editor in New York City.

DIALOGUE LEADERS

Ashley Picker Dubin

Day Pitney LLP, Hartford, CT

Ashley is Counsel at Day Pitney LLP, where she advises clients in complex commercial litigation, investigations, eDiscovery and information governance. She participates in 26(f) conferences, negotiates ESI protocols, and directs use of artificial intelligence in discovery. Ashley works across multiple practice areas to tailor strategies and discovery management plans for clients in the U.S., U.K., Europe, South America, and Singapore. She assists clients in all phases of discovery, from preservation and collection to review and production of large volumes of data, as well as expert discovery on subjects related to forensics and ESI. Ashley serves as eDiscovery liaison in jurisdictions across the United States, negotiating TAR protocols, and litigating motions related to discovery disputes. She develops internal and external discovery guidelines addressing each phase of the EDRM, including innovative uses of AI, TAR, predictive coding, advanced analytics and related forms of data evaluation and analysis.

Kimberly J. Duplechain

Littler Mendelson, P.C., Washington, DC

As a member of Littler's eDiscovery Group, Kim counsels and advises Littler's lawyers and their clients on electronic discovery and information governance processes and best practices. Kim is certified by the International Association of Privacy Professionals as a Certified Information Privacy Professional for Europe (CIPP/E). Before joining Littler, Kim worked for a federal agency where she handled employment disputes and litigated several complex ERISA litigation matters before federal district courts and the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit, and advised on eDiscovery matters. Kim also previously served as a Special Assistant United States Attorney in the U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of Columbia, Civil Division, where she litigated numerous cases brought against the United States at the federal district court and appellate levels.

Tara S. Emory

Redgrave Data, Falls Church, VA

Tara is an experienced eDiscovery and InfoGov consultant and serves as an expert witness and court-appointed expert for eDiscovery issues. In litigation, she is an expert on search methodologies, TAR, data preservation and collection approaches, discovery protocols, and strategies for resolving discovery issues with litigation adversaries, government regulators, and the courts. Her InfoGov practice includes data management and compliance, privacy, policies, records management technology, and defensible disposition. Tara is a lawyer, Chambers-ranked individual in eDiscovery litigation support, certified Project Management Professional, and experienced participant in leading industry advisory groups.

DIALOGUE LEADERS

Phil Favro

Innovative Driven, Alpine, UT

Philip Favro is a leading expert on issues relating to the discovery of electronically stored information. Phil serves as a court-appointed special master, expert witness, and trusted advisor to law firms and organizations on matters involving electronic discovery and ESI. He is a nationally recognized scholar on electronic discovery, with courts and academic journals citing his articles. Phil also regularly provides training to judges on electronic discovery and ESI. He is a licensed attorney who in private practice represented organizations and individuals in litigation across the spectrum of business disputes. In addition to handling a range of complex and other discovery issues, Phil has extensive experience in the courtroom, including motion practice involving summary judgment, preliminary injunctions, and discovery disputes, together with trial and arbitration experience.

Ross Gotler

Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP, New York, NY

Ross is Deputy Chair and Counsel, E-Discovery at Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP. In his role, Ross advises the firm's lawyers and clients on e-discovery law, technology, and best practices and has done so in a wide variety of complex litigations and regulatory investigations. Certified as a Fellow of Information Privacy, Ross also provides guidance on data privacy issues in the context of cross-border discovery. As the head of the Paul, Weiss e-discovery advisory team, Ross oversees the firm's services for e-discovery, information analytics, technology, and litigation support. Ross serves on The Sedona Conference Working Group 1 on Electronic Document Retention and Production (WG1) Steering Committee and is an active member of Working Group 6 on International Electronic Information Management, Discovery and Disclosure (WG6), and Working Group 11 on Data Security and Privacy Liability (WG11).

Tracy Greer

Comptroller of the Currency, Treasury Department, Washington, DC

Tracy is eDiscovery Counsel at the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency. She joined the OCC in May 2021. Previously, she served as Antitrust Division's Senior Counsel for Electronic Discovery for more than 10 of the 25 years she spent with the Department. She developed policies and processes for addressing electronic discovery issues, supervised their implementation, collected best practices, and conducted awareness and training on a wide variety of discovery and technology issues. She has appeared on numerous panels and has been a faculty member at the Department of Justice's National Advocacy Center on a variety of electronic discovery issues. Tracy received her law degree from the University of Texas at Austin and her undergraduate degree from Brown University.

Jessica Hasen

Perkins Coie LLP, Seattle WA

Jessica's practice sits at the intersection of legal practice and technology. She is passionate about leveraging technology to optimize client outcomes in a defensible and efficient manner and approaches leading-edge eDiscovery problems with a multidisciplinary understanding of the legal and business issues that matter most to her clients. Jessica is known for her work on high-stakes, complex matters, including a matter involving over 58 million records, multiple multidistrict litigations, investigations by several regulatory agencies and legislative bodies; and a Technology Assisted Review (TAR) of one million documents in two months. A regular speaker and writer about eDiscovery and legal technology issues, Jessica is a leader of Perkins Coie's E-Discovery Services & Strategy practice. In addition to her eDiscovery practice, Jessica works with clients on litigation readiness and information governance projects.

Claire Hass

Google LLC, Mountain View, CA

Claire is director of legal discovery for Google. After joining Google in 2012, she helped shape and grow Google's innovative internal discovery team. Claire now supports teams managing information governance and company-wide discovery strategy and best practices. Before joining Google, Claire was in the commercial litigation group at Reed Smith LLP. Claire is a graduate of UC Hastings School of Law and a graduate of Pomona College, where she majored in philosophy.

Shauna Itri

Seeger Weiss LLP, Philadelphia, PA

Shauna is a partner at Seeger Weiss LLP. She concentrates her practice on complex litigation, including representing plaintiffs in class actions, mass tort litigation, and whistleblowers in qui tam or False Claims Act lawsuits in state and federal courts throughout the United States. Shauna has worked on a variety of cases that have returned well over $3 billion to the state and federal governments pursuant to the False Claims Acts. Prior to becoming a lawyer, Shauna received a B.A. and an M.A. from Stanford University, where she captained the University's Women's soccer team and received her J.D. from Villanova University. Shauna is frequently the author of published materials and speaks regularly at national and regional conferences on all aspects of complex litigation. Shauna is an avid volunteer and educator. She has taught as an adjunct professor for many years at Widener University and Villanova University.

Tessa K. Jacob

Husch Blackwell LLP, Kansas City, MO

Tessa is partner at Husch Blackwell and is the co-founder and co-chair of the firm's eDiscovery Solutions group. A practicing attorney for 28 years, Tessa has a strong understanding of the legal, technical, and strategic aspects of eDiscovery and has served as lead eDiscovery counsel in numerous class actions and has led eDiscovery efforts for numerous companies. She has vast experience with large volume litigation as well tremendous knowledge and experience using data mining tools and technology assisted review. She frequently speaks on issues related to eDiscovery and is on the advisory boards for National eDiscovery Leadership Institute, Arkfeld-ASU eDiscovery Conference, and the University of Florida eDiscovery Conference, and is an Adjunct Professor of Law at the University of Missouri at Kansas City School of Law. Tessa also serves on Husch Blackwell's Executive Recruiting Committee (KC), the Diversity Committee, and Chairs the firm's Diversity and Inclusion subcommittee.

DIALOGUE LEADERS

Jeannine Kenney

Hausfeld, Philadelphia, PA

Jeannine is a partner in Hausfeld's Washington, D.C. office. Jeannine's practice focuses primarily on private enforcement of federal and state antitrust laws. Jeannine's practice also includes mass torts and other non-antitrust matters. Jeannine is adept and experienced in managing all aspects and phases of e-discovery, the complex process of discovering and producing electronically stored information (ESI). She routinely navigates detailed, complex and contentious ESI issues from dispute to resolution, including briefing and arguing e-discovery motions when necessary. A member of The Sedona Conference Working Group on Electronic Document Retention and Production (WG1), Jeannine counsels Hausfeld's litigation teams in negotiations relating to preservation, search, and production of ESI in cases often involving dozens of defendants, negotiates ESI search terms, technology assisted review (predictive coding) methodologies, and database disclosures and productions, and manages complex document reviews using advanced review analytics to speed discovery. She is band-rated by Chambers and Partners for electronic discovery and information governance, a board member of the Complex Litigation eDiscovery Forum, and a member of the EDRM Advisory Council.

Dennis R. Kiker

DLA Piper, Reston, VA, USA

Dennis is a litigation attorney at DLA Piper LLP with extensive experience in eDiscovery, guiding clients and litigation teams on strategy and implementation of defensible practices for the identification, preservation, analysis, review, and production of documents and data, designed to realize better results in less time and at a lower cost. Dennis has a broad range of industry experience, including automotive, financial services, pharmaceutical and medical device, insurance, industrial manufacturing, and technology; the experience of a seasoned litigator; and a life-long interest in advanced technology. He has worked with companies to develop complete eDiscovery response programs, providing him with an intimate understanding of the in-house challenges associated with modern discovery, and has managed teams of technical professionals in handling the generally outsourced tasks of processing, hosting and analysis, giving him a deep understanding of how eDiscovery professionals can best support litigation teams.

Hon. Young B. Kim

U.S. District Court, Northern District of Illinois, Chicago, IL

Judge Young B. Kim is a U.S. Magistrate Judge for the Northern District of Illinois. He was born in South Korea, and his family emigrated to the United States when he was 11 years old. He began his legal career as a public defender in 1991. From 1993 to 1995, he clerked for District Judge Charles R. Norgle of the Northern

DIALOGUE LEADERS

District of Illinois. From 1995 to 2001, Judge Kim served as an Assistant U.S. Attorney with the Chicago office and prosecuting and litigating both civil and criminal cases. In 2001, the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission appointed him to serve as an Administrative Judge. Nine years later, in January 2010, the District Court for the Northern District of Illinois appointed Judge Kim to a magistrate judge position. As a federal judge he particularly enjoys presiding over citizenship naturalization ceremonies in the ceremonial courtroom where he himself was naturalized as a U.S. citizen in 1986.

Hon. Lauren King

U.S. District Court, Western District of Washington, Seattle, WA

Judge King is a district court judge for the United States District Court for the Western District of Washington in Seattle. Before assuming the bench in December 2021, Judge King was a partner at Foster Garvey, P.C. (formerly Foster Pepper PLLC) in Seattle. She chaired the firm's Native American law practice group. Judge King also previously taught Federal Indian Law at the Seattle University School of Law and served as a Commissioner on the Washington State Gambling Commission. She also served as a pro tem appellate court judge for the Northwest Intertribal Court System from 2013 to 2021. She received her Juris Doctor in 2008 from the University of Virginia School of Law and her Bachelor of Arts from the University of Washington in 2004.

Warren G. Kruse II

UnitedLex, Boynton Beach, FL

Warren is Vice President, Data Forensics and Preservation at UnitedLex, a global leader in legal consulting and services. He has spent the last 30 years between law enforcement and as a consultant supporting various agencies with incident response, computer forensics, and eDiscovery. Warren is the coauthor of "Computer Forensics: Incident Response Essentials" and is the 2023 International President of the High Tech Crime Investigative Association (HTCIA.org) and the Past President of the Digital Forensics Certification Board. He has supported projects across a wide range of major U.S. corporations and agencies. In addition, he led a team of computer forensic experts in a three-year engagement in support of a fraud investigation task force at the world's largest international cooperative organization. He is certified CISSP, ENCE, DFCP, CASA, and is a former police officer in New Jersey.

Daniel W. Lim

U.S. Department of Justice, Washington, DC

Daniel Lim serves as Senior Litigation Counsel for eDiscovery at the Department of Justice, Civil Division. In this position, he provides legal advice to Civil Division trial teams on the complete lifecycle of electronic discovery issues, including best practices for mobile device collection, social media discovery, and the use of sophisticated technologies in electronic discovery such as predictive coding. Daniel provides training to Civil Division attorneys and staff as well as several federal agencies on electronic discovery issues. He has also advised federal agencies on best practices for implementing defensible litigation hold policies and other electronic discovery best practices. Prior to joining the Civil Division, Daniel served as Deputy Director and Senior Counsel at the E-Discovery Group of the New York City Law Department, Office of the Corporation Counsel. In that role, he represented the City of New York in civil and criminal matters, providing subject matter expertise on electronic discovery issues. Daniel began his legal career in private practice, representing corporations and individuals in False Claims Act cases and government investigations. He is a graduate of Brooklyn Law School and holds a B.A. in Philosophy, Politics, and Law from Binghamton University, State University of New York.

DIALOGUE LEADERS

Leeanne Mancari

DLA Piper, Los Angeles, CA

Leeanne is a Chambers-ranked eDiscovery litigator and advisor, co-chair of the firm's eDiscovery and Information Management Platform, and co-head of eXplore, DLA's eDiscovery Resource Center. Leeanne manages all aspects of national and international discovery. She frequently serves as lead eDiscovery counsel on large-scale litigations, including multidistrict litigations. Her experience includes crafting and overseeing successful defense discovery strategy for matters with complex discovery issues. She frequently advises on discovery-related orders, drafts and argues discovery motions, and prepares and defends witnesses on eDiscovery-related topics. Leeanne also advises on international data transfer issues and advises in pre-litigation and non-litigation settings related to information management, including preservation, records management, defensible deletion, risk assessments, and related policies and procedures. She regularly speaks on eDiscovery-related topics. Leeanne co-founded eXplore, DLA's eDiscovery Resource Center to bring high-level document review services to DLA's clients.

Paul H. McVoy

Meta-e Discovery, Milford, CT

Paul is the co-founder and CEO of Meta-e Discovery LLC, a company that is driven to leverage technology on behalf of its clients. Paul has been at the forefront of discovery for 24 years, working on matters for both individuals in small cases as well as large, complex litigations. He was an early adopter of technology-assisted review and has been a vocal advocate in support of its use ever since. Paul is an active member of The Sedona Conference Working Group 1 on Electronic Document Retention and Production (WG1) and the editor of The Sedona Conference Glossary, Fifth Edition. He has also been recognized by Chambers as a Trusted Advisor for Ediscovery in 2018, 2019 and 2020.

Sandra Metallo-Barragan

Proskauer Rose LLP, New York, NY

Sandra is the eDiscovery Counsel at Proskauer Rose LLP, where she leads the firm's eDiscovery Services team. The team works with case teams, clients, and vendors to promote efficient, cost-effective, and defensible eDiscovery strategies and workflows. Sandra graduated from George Washington University Law School in 2005 and was a litigation associate at Pillsbury Winthrop Shaw Pittman's New York office, where she was a member of the firm's Antitrust, Corporate Investigations & White Collar Defense group, and Information Law and Electronic Discovery practice group. She joined the New York City Law Department in 2013 and became the Chief of the E-Discovery Division and Co-Chair of the Electronic Evidence Committee in 2021.

Scott Milner

Morgan, Lewis & Bockius, Philadelphia, PA

Scott is a Chambers-ranked litigator and legal entrepreneur who has practiced at the intersection of law, technology, and design for nearly two decades. He is the co-leader and one of the original attorneys in Morgan Lewis's eData practice, a data-driven practice that is transforming the delivery of legal services by leveraging people, processes, and technology to reimagine the work lawyers do. While at the helm, Scott has assisted in developing industry-leading best practices and strategies for sensible, defensible information governance, discovery, and litigation readiness. Scott's practice encompasses all phases of eDiscovery, from preservation and collection to review and production of large volumes of electronically stored information (ESI). Scott participates in 26(f) conferences, negotiates ESI protocols and FRE 502(d) orders along with advising clients on collection and search and retrieval methodologies. He serves as eDiscovery liaison in jurisdictions across the United States, negotiates TAR protocols, and handles motions practice related to discovery disputes. Scott received his J.D., cum laude, from Villanova University School of Law and B.A. from the University of Florida.

Claudia T. Morgan

Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz

Claudia is eDiscovery Counsel at Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz, where she focuses her practice on electronic discovery and information management, both domestically and abroad. She has significant experience in responding to and advising on litigation in federal and state courts, regulatory requests for information, and internal investigations, and has managed all aspects of eDiscovery. She counsels clients on a range of information risk management issues, including eDiscovery and Records and Information Management (RIM) best practices and litigation preparation. She received a B.S.F.S. from Georgetown University and completed her J.D., with honors, from George Mason University School of Law.

Michelle Newcomer

Kessler Topaz Meltzer & Check, LLP, Radnor, PA

Michelle is eDiscovery Counsel at Kessler Topaz Meltzer & Check, LLP, where she concentrates her practice in the area of eDiscovery and provides counsel and training to litigation teams across the Firm on eDiscovery matters arising in its securities, consumer, and antitrust class actions, and other complex litigation. Michelle regularly leads discovery conferences and navigates complex issues regarding the preservation, search, and production of ESI, including disputes over search methodologies and technology-assisted review protocols. Michelle also devises strategic workflows for effectively managing large-scale document reviews, including using advanced analytic tools, and briefs and argues eDiscovery motions where necessary. Prior to serving in this role, Michelle focused her practice in the area of securities litigation, where she represented individual and institutional investors and Sovereign Wealth Funds in class actions, direct actions, and non-U.S. collective actions asserting violations of U.S. and foreign securities laws. Michelle is an active member of The Complex Litigation eDiscovery Forum as well as The Sedona Conference Working Group 1, where she is currently participating in the Brainstorming Group addressing Practical Guidance for Discovery of Mobile Device Data.

DIALOGUE LEADERS

Robin E. Perkins

Kutak Rock LLP, Kansas City, MO

Robin is the founder and Chair of Kutak Rock's eDiscovery Practice Group, and she maintains an active litigation practice where she regularly appears in state and federal courts across the country. Robin is the founder of the National eDiscovery Leadership Institute (NeLI), which allows its nationwide audience to hear from the brightest speakers on all things eDiscovery. Robin is also an active member of the Sedona Conference Working Group 1, which is the leading "think tank" on eDiscovery, and serves on the ESI Rules Committee for the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Missouri. Robin is an adjunct professor at the University of Missouri at Kansas City law school, where she teaches a class on eDiscovery. Robin regularly counsels clients in all aspects of information governance and the discovery process. Robin is widely known and respected in the national eDiscovery community as a thought leader. Her greatest asset to clients, however, is her common-sense approach to eDiscovery matters, which is derived from her thriving commercial litigation practice, including the defense of antitrust and other complex class action matters.

Tony Petrucci

Tucker Ellis LLP, Cleveland, OH

ony is the Chair of the E-Discovery Group at Tucker Ellis LLP. He is also a member of the Business Litigation Group focusing his practice in the areas of white collar criminal defense, corporate investigations, and business litigation. The nature of Tony's practice requires extensive experience and knowledge related to eDiscovery. He frequently advises and works with clients on eDiscovery issues when responding to subpoenas and discovery requests and in conducting internal investigations. Tony provides services and counsels clients in all areas of eDiscovery, including preservation of ESI, drafting ESI Protocols, and conducting custodial interviews. He also manages the collection, review, and production of ESI for small litigations, complex litigations, and white collar cases.

Meghan A. Podolny

Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP, Richmond, VA

Meghan's practice focuses on complex commercial litigation, information governance and eDiscovery issues, and internal investigations. She is counsel in the firm's litigation practice and a central member of the Information Governance & eDiscovery group providing state-of-the-art data management and eDiscovery advice and services to a wide variety of corporate clients. Her experience includes developing enterprise-level information governance best practices and working with clients on the development of tailored protocols to streamline a company's discovery preparation and response to control costs associated with electronic information and meet its desired risk level. Meghan frequently serves as eDiscovery counsel to advises and lead massive discovery response plans, often in response to internal investigations, governmental subpoenas or other requests. She regularly leads presentations advising clients and lawyers alike on preservation obligations and strategies, predictive coding, and cross-border discovery issues. Meghan is also a frequent speaker and writer on a number of issues related to electronic discovery, data preservation, privilege waiver, and employee communication privacy concerns.

Jon Polenberg

Becker & Poliakoff, P.A., Fort Lauderdale, FL

Jon is a senior trial lawyer for Becker & Poliakoff, P.A., who regularly represents clients for their matters proceeding in state court, federal court, arbitration, and regulatory agencies. Jon also heads up eDiscovery and data analytics for the firm's business litigation practice. He represents clients in both symmetric and asymmetric matters involving varied complex eDiscovery and legal issues.

Kyle Pozan

Lockridge Grindal Nauen P.L.L.P., Minneapolis, MN

Kyle focuses his practice on antitrust class actions and other civil litigation matters. Kyle has considerable experience with written and oral fact discovery, having taken depositions in some of the nation's largest class action cases, briefing class certification, and drafting and arguing dispositive motions. He is also well-versed in eDiscovery and has used his experience in that field to leverage outstanding results for his clients. Kyle currently serves as a member of The Sedona Conference, Working Group 1, Brainstorming Group on Possession, Custody or Control, and he was previously a member of Working Group 1's Drafting Team on eDiscovery Implications of the Internet of Things and Working Group 1's Brainstorming Group on Discovery and Preservation of Data from the Internet of Things (IoT). For three consecutive years, Kyle was selected as an Illinois Super Lawyers Rising Star in the area of class actions.

Hon. Robin L. Rosenberg

U.S. District Court, Southern District of Florida, West Palm Beach, FL

Judge Robin L. Rosenberg was appointed by President Barack Obama and confirmed by the United States Senate in 2014. She serves as the Chair of the Judicial Conference Advisory Civil Rules Committee and is a member of the Eleventh Circuit Local Rules Committee, the Eleventh Circuit Civics Education Committee, the Southern District of Florida Local Rules Committee, the Southern District of Florida Pro Se Committee (chair) and the Southern District of Florida Fairness and Diversity Committee. She is the co-creator of the national U.S. Courts Civil Discourse and Decisions program, presented to high school and college students in the federal courts. She serves on the Duke Law School Board of Visitors and the Editorial Board of Judicature, a scholarly journal focused on the judiciary, the administration of justice, and the rule of law. Before she was appointed to the federal bench, she served as a Circuit Court judge for the Fifteenth Judicial Circuit (Palm Beach County). Prior to her election as a circuit judge, Judge Rosenberg was a partner of Rosenberg & McAuliffe, P.L., Vice President and General Counsel of SlimFast Foods Company, a litigation partner with the law firm of Holland & Knight LLP in West Palm Beach, and worked in the City Attorney's Office in West Palm Beach. At the start of her career, Judge Rosenberg clerked for the Honorable James C. Paine, U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida. She then was accepted to the DOJ Honors Program and served in the Employment Litigation Section of the Civil Rights Division. Judge Rosenberg received her Bachelor of Arts from Princeton University, her Juris Doctor from Duke Law School, and her Masters from the Duke Sanford School of Public Policy.

DIALOGUE LEADERS

Maria Salacuse

EEOC, Washington, DC

Maria is the Assistant General Counsel for Technology at the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission's (EEOC) Office of General Counsel, where she serves as the agency's lead eDiscovery counsel, oversees the EEOC's litigation support department, and ensures that the technological and ESI training needs of more than 300 attorneys, paralegals, and legal support staff are met. Prior to assuming this position, she was a Supervisory Trial Attorney in EEOC's Baltimore Field Office, where she litigated individual and systemic discrimination cases for 20 years, many of which involved ESI matters. She has worked with the EEOC since 1994 in various capacities, including Trial Attorney, Attorney Advisor to former EEOC Chair Jenny R. Yang, and Administrative Judge. She is currently a Board Officer with Federal Bar Association's Maryland Chapter, a member of the National Employment Lawyers' Association, a member of the Federal eDiscovery Working Group and a member of the Complex Litigation eDiscovery Forum. She is also an active member of The Sedona Conference Working Group 1, currently serving as a Steering Committee member. She also previously served as a team lead for the updating of the TAR Case Law Primer and participated in the drafting and presentation of the Commentary on the Need for Uniformity in Filing ESI under Seal. Maria is a graduate of the University of Maryland School of Law and Georgetown University School of Foreign Service.

Jennifer Scullion

Seeger Weiss LLP, Jersey City, NJ

For over twenty years, Jennifer has led complex litigations and appeals for U.S. and multinational clients, including antitrust, consumer fraud, and international bondholder class actions and MDLs. She has represented clients on "both sides of the v," and now focuses exclusively on representing plaintiffs. Jennifer regularly contributes articles to the National Law Review, Law360, and has contributed two chapters to the ABA's International Aspects of U.S. Litigation, published in 2017. She has presented on complex discovery and international privacy issues at the Bolch Judicial Institute, the Electronic Discovery Institute, and other continuing education events. Jennifer is a member of The Sedona Conference Working Group 1 on Electronic Document Retention and Production (WG1).

Robb Snow

FDIC, Arlington, VA

Robb is Acting Supervisory Counsel in the eDiscovery Group of the Litigation Information Technology in the FDIC's Legal Division. His responsibilities include assisting FDIC attorneys, and their outside counsel, navigate through a myriad of eDiscovery issues. Robb joined the FDIC in 2010 after more than 23 years in private practice. He has more than 36 years of legal experience managing and supervising large complex litigation, litigation technology, and electronic discovery. Robb co-led a corporate-wide Information Governance and eDiscovery program that was responsible for developing policies, processes, and procedures, and implementing multiple Information Governance and eDiscovery technologies. Robb is a Co-Chair of the Federal E-Discovery Working Group (FEDWG) and an active member of the Sedona Conference, including Working Group 1 (Electronic Document Retention and Production) and the Technology Resource Panel. Robb is a drafting team member of The Sedona Conference, Commentary on Information Governance, Second Edition, and The Sedona Conference Glossary: E-Discovery & Digital Information Management, Fifth Edition. He received his JD from The John Marshall Law School in Chicago, Illinois.

DIALOGUE LEADERS

Craig W. Weinlein

The Sedona Conference, Phoenix, AZ

Craig is the Executive Director of The Sedona Conference and Editor-in-Chief of The Sedona Conference Journal. He has been a member of the Board of Directors of The Sedona Conference since 2009 and currently serves as the Chairman of the Board. Craig has worked with The Sedona Conference since 2000, when he served on the faculty of the first Conference on Patent Litigation. He was a member of The Sedona Conference Advisory Board from 2004 to 2013. Before joining The Sedona Conference full time in 2014, Craig was a partner with Carrington, Coleman, Sloman & Blumenthal, LLP in Dallas, Texas, for 25 years. He served as Chair of his firm's Intellectual Property Practice Group for his last ten years with the firm. His primary area of practice was complex litigation with a concentration in intellectual property cases. When in private practice, Craig tried dozens of cases and argued numerous appeals in federal and state courts. He is counsel of record in 29 reported court decisions. Craig was selected by American Lawyer Media and Martindale-Hubbell as a Top-Rated Lawyer in Intellectual Property. He also was listed as one of the best trademark practitioners in Texas in Who's Who Legal: Texas and in World Trademark Review 1000—The World's Leading Trademark Professionals. Craig's book, The Art of Witness Preparation, is a unique contribution to the literature on complex litigation because it focuses on the witness's testimony and presentation, instead of the lawyer's examination and performance. Craig's publication credits also include articles in The American Journalism Review, The Journal of Arts Management and Law, The American Symphony Orchestra League's Principles of Orchestra Management, and The Journal of Air Law and Commerce.

Deric Yoakley

Walmart, Fayetteville, AR

Deric graduated from the University of Arkansas School of Law in 1999, following a very undistinguished college basketball career as an Arkansas Tech Wonderboy. He worked for and with local litigators in Northwest Arkansas before eventually opening and operating his own law firm. Deric began managing Walmart tort litigation in-house in 2015 before taking over as the Third Party Subpoena attorney in 2017. He is currently in the role of Managing Counsel at Walmart, leading the eDiscovery team that supports litigation and investigations. His family consists of two large sons, a hundred-pound dog, and a beautiful wife, who is outnumbered but is also a wonderful sport who will follow us to athletic events all over the U.S. and beyond.