

Kelly Atherton

Norton Rose Fulbright, Minneapolis, MN

Kelly is Counsel in the Information Governance, Privacy, and Cybersecurity team at Norton Rose Fulbright. She has extensive experience across all phases of eDiscovery, data breach, and cyber incident response and has a deep understanding of the technical aspects of eDiscovery and how to effectively leverage technology to optimize client outcomes in a defensible and efficient manner. Previously, Kelly served as a director at a leading corporate discovery management company where she served as an expert on TAR and analytics matters and lead the analytics and managed review division. Kelly is an active member of The Sedona Conference Working Group 1 and the All-Sedona Diversity Committee. She holds a B.A. with honors in Politics & Government from the University of Puget Sound and a J.D. from Willamette University College of Law, where she was the Editor-in-Chief of the Willamette Journal of Internal Law and Dispute Resolution and the Note and Comment Editor of the Willamette Law Review.io (cut and pasted from website).

Lea Bays

Robbins Geller Rudman & Dowd LLP, San Diego, CA

Lea is a Partner at Robbins Geller Rudman & Dowd LLP in San Diego. Robbins Geller Rudman & Dowd specializes in complex litigation, with an emphasis on securities class actions on behalf of investors. Lea currently focuses on the firm's electronic discovery issues and provides counsel to the firm's multi-disciplinary eDiscovery team. She is familiar with the various stages of electronic discovery, including identification of relevant electronically stored information, data culling, predictive coding protocols, privilege, and responsiveness reviews. Lea also has experience in post-production discovery through trial preparation for a wide range of litigation.

Elliot Bienenfeld

Beasley Allen, Atlanta, GA

Elliot is a Principal in Beasley Allen's Toxic Torts Section. He specializes in large-scale environmental litigation, representing individuals, municipalities, and states. Drawing off of his technical experience in the eDiscovery space, Elliot ensures that all aspects of discovery in the Toxic Torts Section are conducted in a repeatable, defensible, effective and cost-efficient manner. Elliot is CIPP/US certified.

Hon. Hildy Bowbeer (ret.)

St. Paul, MN

Judge Bowbeer served as a U.S. Magistrate Judge for the District of Minnesota from June 2014 until her retirement in June 2022. Prior to her appointment, she was an Assistant Chief Intellectual Property Counsel with 3M Company, where she managed IP litigation both in the U.S. and internationally. Judge Bowbeer received her law degree from the University of Michigan in 1979. Following her graduation, she clerked for the Minnesota Supreme Court before entering private practice. In 1985, she became one of the seven founding partners of Bowman and Brooke, and had a national practice in product liability litigation before joining 3M in 1997. Judge Bowbeer is a judicial advisor to The Sedona Conference and has contributed to its projects on

DIALOGUE LEADERS

Electronic Discovery, Patent Litigation Best Practices, and Trade Secret Litigation Best Practices. She serves on the Federal Practice Committee for the District of Minnesota and co-authored the District's Guide for Practitioners on electronic discovery. She is also a member of the American Law Institute and the Hon. Jimmie V. Reyna Intellectual Property Inn of Court. She has authored a number of articles and speaks frequently in the U.S. and abroad on IP litigation management, electronic discovery, diversity and inclusion, and ADR.

Vince Carnevale

Milberg Coleman Bryson Phillips Grossman, Pittsburgh, PA

Vince is a Partner at Milberg involved with the assessment and implementation of legal technology applications to improve firm operations. He graduated from Robert Morris University with a B.S.B.A. degree in Finance/Economics and graduated from the University of Pittsburgh School of Law in 2001. After law school, he joined an AMLaw 200 defense firm, working on electronic discovery projects related to multiple global mass tort pharmaceutical litigation matters. He went on to work as an Investigative Analyst/Legal Project Manager for Crivella West Incorporated, an advanced analytics and investigational research company. With over twenty years of experience managing all aspects of electronic discovery including collection, search, review and production, Vince has drafted various discovery pleadings including Document Preservation Orders, Legal Hold Notices, and Electronically Stored Information (ESI) Document Production Protocols. He has attended numerous Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(f) Meet and Confer sessions to assist in the negotiation of ESI protocols and search criteria. He has also drafted declarations and affidavits regarding the quality and sufficiency of document productions and has attended status conferences in State and Federal court to support the related motions.

Hon. Elizabeth S. (Betsy) Chestney

U.S. District Court for the Western District of Texas, San Antonio, TX

U.S. Magistrate Judge Betsy Chestney sits in the Western District of Texas. Prior to taking the bench, she was managing partner of an Austin-based employment-law firm. Before private practice, she clerked for a federal district judge in Austin. Currently, Judge Chestney is an Adjunct Professor of Law at the University of Texas School of Law, where she teaches a class to prepare students to serve as federal law clerks. Before private practice and after clerking, she was a full-time faculty member at UT Law. Judge Chestney earned her undergraduate degree in Biomedical Ethics from Brown University, her J.D. with honors from UT Law, and her LL.M. in Judicial Studies from Duke Law. She has been elected to ALI, served on FBA Boards and the national section and chapter level, and is a Fellow of the Texas Bar Foundation. Judge Chestney is board-certified in Labor and Employment Law.

Hon. Lisa J. Cisneros

U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California, San Francisco, CA

Magistrate Judge Lisa J. Cisneros joined the Court following fifteen years of practice as a litigator and attorney in government and public service. Prior to taking the bench, Judge Cisneros served as a Deputy Attorney General for the California Department of Justice. She represented the State of California and its agencies in complex affirmative and defensive litigation, primarily in the federal trial and appellate courts, and led governmental investigations. Judge Cisneros began her legal career at California Rural Legal Assistance, Inc., providing representation for low-income LGBT individuals in rural areas. Judge Cisneros served as a law clerk for U.S. District Judge Claudia Wilken. Following her clerkship, Judge Cisneros practiced at Lieff Cabraser Heimann & Bernstein, LLP, where she represented employees and consumers in mass tort, class action, and antitrust cases. In addition, Judge Cisneros was appointed by the Governor as a member of the California Fair Employment & Housing Council.

DIALOGUE LEADERS

Jennifer Coleman

Spencer Fane, San Jose, CA

Jen is a Partner of Spencer Fane LLP, and a member of Spencer Fane's Intellectual Property, Labor & Employment and Litigation and Dispute Resolution Practice Groups. As a trial lawyer, she represents clients in complex litigation cases, including patents, trade secret misappropriation, employee mobility issues, and fraud relating to complex financial transactions. Jen has been involved in cases with diverse technologies, such as: automotive air intake and air filtration systems; conical crushers; digital picture frames; DRAM; financial business methods; flash memory; laser microscopes and solid immersion lenses; operating system and application software, firmware, and hardware; phenolic resins; time-stamped geospatial digital controls; wireless 802.11 a/b/g/n standards and systems; real-time web transactions from web applications and wireless modems; Solaris OS, patches, and accompanying firmware; RF technology, and natural language, voice recognition. Jen also handles employment disputes involving remediation, single plaintiff and class action wage and hour controversies, unfair competition, claims of wrongful termination, discrimination, harassment, and retaliation; leaves of absences; employment policies and procedures; employee discipline; hiring practices; and workplace violence. Jen is a member of The Sedona Conference Working Group on Electronic Document Retention & Production (WG1), a member of The Sedona Conference Working Group on Trade Secrets (WG12), and a member of EDRM Global Advisory Council.

Andrea L. D'Ambra

Norton Rose Fulbright, New York, NY

Andrea is a partner in the New York office and spearheads the firm's outreach to Technology sector clients in the United States. She is also the U.S. Head of eDiscovery and Information Governance. Andrea focuses her practice on data privacy, eDiscovery, cross-border discovery, and cybersecurity. She works with clients to manage information risk, whether it is related to litigation or regulatory inquiries, navigating foreign data privacy laws, assessing the impact of a cybersecurity incident, or managing the day to day retention of an organization's data. Andrea works with numerous technology clients and has deep expertise in addressing the unique issues that arise for tech sector clients. She is also a recognized thought leader on the challenges posed by emerging technologies. Andrea served for over seven years as an officer in the United States Navy. She was also an adjunct professor of law at Temple and William and Mary Law Schools, where she taught classes on Electronic Discovery for over 10 years.

Gareth T. Evams

Redgrave LLP, Los Angeles, CA

Gareth is a leading eDiscovery litigator and advisor. As a seasoned attorney, he has made hundreds of court appearances and taken and defended hundreds of depositions. Gareth enjoys being at the “tip of the spear” representing clients in contentious and high stakes disputes. He has represented clients in numerous industries including financial services, accounting, healthcare, pharmaceuticals, insurance, energy, gaming, manufacturing, and technology. Gareth is passionate about eDiscovery and information law, tenacious in the courtroom, and enjoys helping his clients identify and obtain the best outcomes inside and outside of the courthouse. He is a past member of The Sedona Conference Working Group 1 Steering Committee.

Philip Favro

Innovative Driven, Alpine, UT

Phil is a respected neutral who serves as a court-appointed special master, expert advisor, and mediator. Phil is acclaimed for his approach as a special master and expert advisor, working collaboratively with parties to find stipulated solutions to complex issues. For disputes that require an adjudicated resolution, Phil is renowned for the clarity and vigor of his written dispositions, which are replete on legal search engines. He also serves as a mediator, having been honored with appointments to serve on federal court mediation panels. Phil is a leading expert on issues relating to the discovery of electronically stored information and serves as an expert witness on ESI and electronic discovery issues. He is a licensed attorney who in private practice represented parties in litigation across the spectrum of business disputes. Phil has extensive experience in the courtroom including summary judgment, preliminary injunction, and discovery motion practice, together with trial and arbitration experience.

Ross Gotler

Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP, New York, NY

Ross is Deputy Chair and Counsel, E-Discovery at Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP. In his role, Ross works with the firm’s lawyers to provide guidance on law, technology, and best practices relating to the discovery of electronic information. As head of the firm’s Information Systems eDiscovery and litigation technology service teams, Ross oversees services and technologies for discovery and data intelligence. Certified as a Fellow of Information Privacy, he also provides guidance on data privacy issues in the context of cross-border discovery. Ross is a frequent speaker and author on eDiscovery and data privacy topics, including contributing to numerous publications of The Sedona Conference. Ross has served on the steering committee of The Sedona Conference Working Group 1 on Electronic Document Retention and Production, is an active member of Sedona's Working Group 6 on International Electronic Information Management, Discovery, and Disclosure, and is a member of The Sedona Conference Leadership Council.

Joseph P. Guglielmo

Scott + Scott, New York, NY

Joseph is a partner in the New York office of Scott + Scott and represents institutional and individual clients in antitrust and consumer litigation in federal and state courts throughout the United States. Over the past 25 years, he has served in numerous leadership positions in complex consumer class actions, including multiple data breach class actions, throughout the United States and achieved significant recoveries for his clients. Joseph lectures on electronic discovery and is a Board Member for the Advanced eDiscovery Institute at Georgetown University Law Center. He has been a member of the Sedona Conference since 2003, is a former member of the Steering Committee of Working Group 1, and was a member of the editorial team for The Sedona Principles, Third Edition: Best Practices, Recommendations & Principles for Addressing Electronic Document Production (2017).

Alicia Hawley

K&L Gates LLP, Chicago, IL

Alicia is an Innovation Award-winning Of Counsel in the eDiscovery, Analysis & Technology (eDAT) Practice Group at K&L Gates. A former white-collar criminal defense attorney, she brings a unique perspective and skillset to eDiscovery practice, including critical narrative development, getting ahead of the “story,” and marrying a matter’s facts to its legal strategy. She is an industry expert on leveraging technology and AI and argued and won a progressive decision in the Northern District of Illinois in Livingston v. the City of Chicago regarding the use of Technology Assisted Review in litigation practice. In addition to her many speaking engagements, Alicia is currently the co-leader of the Sedona Conference Working Group 1 drafting team on Managing, Modifying and Lifting Legal Holds and co-leader of the Sedona Conference Working Group 1 drafting team on the Sufficiency of Rule 26 Initial Disclosures, a drafting team member of The Sedona Conference TAR Case Law Primer, Second Edition (May 2023), the Director of the Women in eDiscovery Chicago Chapter, and an Adjunct Professor of Law at Loyola University Chicago, where she teaches several classes a year on both eDiscovery and Artificial Intelligence.

Todd Heffner

Smith Gambrell & Russell, Atlanta, GA

Todd is a construction lawyer with Smith Gambrell in Atlanta, Georgia, where he focuses on high-stakes federal court litigation and arbitration. In addition, Todd also counsels clients on project development, contract drafting and negotiation, and dispute avoidance and risk mitigation during construction. He is also an active member of the eDiscovery community, where beyond his involvement in The Sedona Conference, Todd regularly writes for The Daily Report (Georgia’s legal newspaper) on topics ranging from 502(d) orders to how curse words make effective search terms.

Lauren Holupko

New York State Office of Information Technology Services, Albany, NY

Lauren is the Director of eDiscovery and eDiscovery Counsel for the NYS Office of Information Technology Services. In her role Lauren provides eDiscovery advice, education, and support to over 50 NYS agencies. She advises on policy, procedure, best practices, and the law with regards to Litigation, FOIL, Labor Relations and Investigations. Lauren entered the public sector in 2017 after several years of nonprofit and private practice, working with NYS government in agencies in various capacities until taking on this current role in 2021. Lauren received her ACEDS certification in 2023 and was a 2024 recipient of the “Up-and-Coming Leader” Award from the NY IT Leadership Forum. She has a Juris Doctorate from Albany Law School and a BS in Business Administration from the State University of Geneseo.

Robert D. Keeling III

Sidley Austin LLP, Washington, DC

Robert Keeling is a partner at Sidley Austin LLP whose practice includes a special focus on electronic discovery matters. Robert is the founder and co-chair of Sidley’s eDiscovery and Data Analytics Group. He represents companies across a range of industries in civil litigation and government investigations that contain complex eDiscovery issues. Robert is a published author and frequent speaker on topics relating to eDiscovery, information governance, machine learning, and the attorney-client privilege.

Alex Khoury

Smith Gambrell & Russell, Atlanta, GA

Alex is a partner and the Director of eDiscovery at Smith, Gambrell & Russell. His practice focuses on helping clients manage the legal risks and expense of creating, maintaining, and using electronic information before, during, and after litigation. Alex serves as discovery counsel for businesses and government bodies involved in complex litigation and advises clients on information governance issues such as data retention, destruction, and privacy. In addition to helping Smith, Gambrell & Russell’s clients and attorneys navigate the rapidly evolving world of electronic data, he also supervises the firm’s forensics, eDiscovery, and litigation support staff.

Greg M. Kohn

Nagel Rice, LLP, Roseland, NJ

Greg is a partner at Nagel Rice, LLP. He specializes in commercial litigation, class actions, personal injury, and medical malpractice. He represents clients in both state and federal courts. Greg’s clients range from individuals who were hurt in an accident, to small businesses, to large companies. Greg is also responsible for eDiscovery at his firm. Greg has tried many jury trials to verdict and has recovered over $87 million in settlements and verdicts in all types of personal injury matters, including automobile accidents, wrongful death cases, slip and falls, and other catastrophic injury cases. Recently, Greg settled a worksite injury case for $21 million involving a paralyzed 21-year-old and a worksite death case for $5 million. Greg has been recognized on the Super Lawyer’s Rising Stars list from 2012–2020 and as a Super Lawyer from 2021-2024.

Ray Mangum

Sidley Austin LLP, Washington, DC

Ray is a partner in Sidley's eDiscovery & Data Analytics group and is nationally recognized for his work in complex eDiscovery and data analytics. Ray serves as discovery counsel in large-scale litigation, government investigations, and regulatory reviews, with a special focus on eDiscovery compliance with Second Requests from the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) and Department of Justice (DOJ) Antitrust Division. With a background as a professional software developer and Six Sigma practitioner at a Fortune 500 company, Ray brings a data-driven, technology-focused approach to his eDiscovery practice. He advises leading companies on cutting-edge eDiscovery issues, particularly those involving emerging technologies like ephemeral messaging, machine learning, and artificial intelligence (AI), including generative AI (GenAI). Ray also helps clients defensibly dispose of legacy data, achieve proportionality in legal holds, and implement best practices in eDiscovery and information governance.

Hon. M. Scott McCoy

Maricopa County Superior Court, Phoenix, AZ

M. Scott McCoy is a Commercial Court Judge of the Maricopa County Superior Court, where his calendar is comprised of complex civil and corporate litigation, frequently involving requests for temporary restraining orders, injunctions, and other extraordinary relief related to matters involving real estate, securities, trade secrets, and other intellectual property. He was an honors business student at the University of Southern California and graduated summa cum laude from the University of Arizona College Of Law in 1990. Judge McCoy served as a law clerk to Justice James Moeller of the Arizona Supreme Court before practicing complex civil litigation, becoming a partner in the Chicago office of Kirkland & Ellis and in Phoenix's Jennings, Strouss. Now In his 19th year on the bench, Judge McCoy has presided over hundreds of bench and jury trials.

Nathanial J. McPherson

Foley Hoag LLP, Boston, MA

Nathanial is an intellectual property trial litigator who focuses his practice on trade secrets and patent cases in federal and state courts and before the International Trade Commission. He also routinely advises clients on internal investigations and issues related to data governance and electronic discovery. With experience that spans two decades, Nate approaches each case from the perspective of a seasoned trial lawyer. He works closely with clients to thorough investigate matters as they arise and to develop effective strategies for successful outcomes, all while seeking to minimize disruptions to his clients' businesses. When further action is required, Nate draws on experience participating in more than hundred cases, including as outside counsel and previously as both an ediscovery and trial presentation specialist. The depth of his experience allows him to effectively represent and assist his clients through all phases of complex intellectual property litigation.

DIALOGUE LEADERS

Farhad Mirzadeh

Hausfeld, Washington, DC

Farhad is an associate at Hausfeld, where he focuses on complex litigation matters. He represents a diverse array of businesses and individuals, and his work has helped achieve millions of dollars for those affected by anticompetitive conduct. Farhad's practice stresses effectiveness in the discovery process, combining advanced tools with the latest trends to achieve favorable outcomes for his clients. Farhad earned his J.D. from The George Washington University Law School, where he served as Senior Production Editor for the George Washington Journal of Energy and Environmental Law.

Claudia T. Morgan

Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz, New York, NY

Claudia is eDiscovery Counsel at Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz, where she focuses her practice on electronic discovery and information management, both domestically and abroad. She has significant experience in responding to and advising on litigation in federal and state courts, regulatory requests for information, and internal investigations, and has managed all aspects of eDiscovery. She counsels clients on a range of information risk management issues, including eDiscovery and Records and Information Management (RIM) best practices and litigation preparation. She received a B.S.F.S. from Georgetown University and completed her J.D., with honors, from George Mason University School of Law.

Aaron Nash

Arizona Supreme Court Certification and Licensing Division, Phoenix, AZ

Aaron is the Director of the Arizona Administrative Office of the Courts' Certification and Licensing Division. The division regulates 10 professions under the Arizona Supreme Court's jurisdiction. The division investigates complaints, conducts audits, and staffs 11 related boards or committees. Previously, Aaron was the Court's Communications Director, serving as the media spokesperson and overseeing the judicial branch's internal and external communications. Before joining the Court, Aaron worked for 16 years with the Clerk of the Superior Court's office in Maricopa County, ending as Special Counsel and Public Information Officer. He advised the elected clerk and senior management on day-to-day operations and was the Arizona Association of Superior Court Clerks' legislative liaison. Aaron chaired the Arizona Supreme Court's Task Force on Countering Disinformation from September 2019 to March 2022 and has worked in state courts for nearly 30 years.

Dan L. Regard II

iDS, Washington, DC

Dan is an electronic discovery and computer science consultant with 25 years' experience in consulting to legal and corporate entities. A programmer and an attorney by training, he has conducted system investigations, created data collections, and managed discovery on over a thousand matters. Dan is responsible for the development and implementation of case and matter strategies that leverage technology in litigation and investigations. He has both national and international experience advising on such issues as electronic discovery, computer forensics, structured data, and information management. Dan is a frequent speaker, teacher, and publisher on issues of electronic discovery. Prior to founding iDiscovery Solutions, Inc. in 2008, he was the national director of e-Discovery for LECG, the national director of Electronic Evidence & Consulting for FTI Consulting, and was an electronic discovery and data analytics team leader in Analytical Dispute Services at Deloitte & Touche, where he managed multi-national, multi-jurisdictional, and multi-counsel litigation support projects. He began his career as the founder of a nationwide litigation-technology company. Dan is a director of the Institute of Computer Forensic Professionals, a long time associate of the Certified Fraud Examiners, and a board member of Georgetown Advanced Institute for e-Discovery.

DIALOGUE LEADERS

Hon. A. Joel Richlin

U.S. District Court for the Central District of California, Los Angeles, CA

Judge A. Joel Richlin is a U.S. Magistrate Judge for the Central District of California. He graduated from Northwestern University and received his J.D. from Loyola Law School Los Angeles. Judge Richlin began his career as a law clerk to three judges in the Central District of California for nearly five years, working at both the U.S. Bankruptcy Court and the U.S. District Court. Judge Richlin then worked in the Los Angeles Office of Foley & Lardner LLP, where he was a Senior Counsel in the Business Litigation Group. Judge Richlin left the firm to serve as in-house counsel for Prime Healthcare, one of the nation's largest hospital systems. Judge Richlin served as the Chief Litigation Officer and then General Counsel for Prime Healthcare, where he led a national legal department and was responsible for all litigation on behalf of the company's hospitals and other business units.

Chad Roberts

eDiscovery CoCounsel, pllc, Jacksonville, FL

Chad founded eDiscovery CoCounsel, pllc in 2013 after a successful twenty-year career representing consumers in complex litigation. He holds an Engineering Science degree from the Georgia Institute of Technology and graduated with high honors from Florida State University College of Law. He has been a litigation partner at both a large, multinational law firm (Holland & Knight, LLP) as well as a small boutique trial firm (Spohrer & Dodd, LLP) and has won multi-million dollar verdicts as lead trial counsel. At eDiscovery CoCounsel, pllc he focuses on discovery motion practice in State and Federal Courts, Information Governance, Analytics, and Information Retrieval technology.

Maria Salacuse

Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, Washington, DC

Maria is the Assistant General Counsel for Technology at the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission's (EEOC) Office of General Counsel. As the agency's lead eDiscovery counsel, she oversees EEOC's litigation support department and provides strategic advice and training to more than 300 attorneys, paralegals, and legal support staff on the use, retention, storage, retrieval, and preservation of electronically stored information in pending litigation. Prior to assuming this position, she was a Supervisory Trial Attorney in EEOC's Baltimore Field Office, where she litigated individual and systemic discrimination cases for 20 years, many of which involved ESI matters. She has worked with the EEOC in various capacities, including Trial Attorney, Attorney Advisor to former EEOC Chair Jenny R. Yang, and Administrative Judge. She is currently the President of the Federal Bar Association's Maryland Chapter, a member of the Federal eDiscovery Working Group, and a member of the Complex Litigation eDiscovery Forum. She is also an active member of The Sedona Conference Working Group 1, currently serving as a Steering Committee member. She is a frequent speaker at eDiscovery conferences and also is a guest lecturer at the University of Baltimore Law School on eDiscovery matters. Maria is a graduate of the University of Maryland School of Law and Georgetown University School of Foreign Service.

DIALOGUE LEADERS

Clinton P. Sanko

Baker Donelson, Chattanooga, TN

Clinton is the office managing shareholder of Baker Donelson's Chattanooga office, the chair of the Firm's eDiscovery and document review services, and a seasoned commercial litigation shareholder. He has been the lead lawyer on various high-stakes commercial litigation. He defended a client in two large multidistrict antitrust class actions alleging wage and compensation fixing of thousands of employees and independent contractors arising out of alleged information exchanges, benchmarking, and no-poach agreements. Clinton has also been appointed as the Special Master in a trade secrets dispute, and litigates noncompetition covenants and trade secret matters. As eDiscovery chair, he focuses on efficient, effective, and expeditious management of eDiscovery and document review.

Robb Snow

Prevail Legal, Inc., Montross, VA

Robb has more than 38 years of legal experience managing and supervising large complex litigation, litigation technology, and electronic discovery. Currently, he is a Senior Director for the Federal Government Sector at Prevail Legal, Inc., an industry-leading legal technology provider of AI-assisted testimony management and court reporting, as well as large-scale audio/video transcription and translation services. Prior to joining Prevail, Robb was Counsel in the eDiscovery Group of the Litigation Information Technology Unit in the FDIC's Legal Division. His responsibilities included assisting FDIC attorneys, and their outside counsel, navigate through high profile, time-intensive e-discovery issues. He joined the FDIC in 2010 after more than 23 years in private practice. Robb is an active member of the Sedona Conference, including Working Group 1 (Electronic Document Retention and Production), and the Technology Resource Panel. He is a member of the brainstorming group on Electronic Information in Government Proceedings, and was a drafting team member of The Sedona Conference Commentary on Information Governance, Second Edition (2019) and The Sedona Conference Glossary: E-Discovery & Digital Information Management, Fifth Edition (2020). He received his JD from The John Marshall Law School in Chicago, Illinois.

Daniel Stromberg

Outten & Golden, Charlottesville, VA

Dan is a partner and eDiscovery Counsel at Outten & Golden LLP. He is head of O&G's eDiscovery Practice Area, where he advises clients and case teams on discovery strategies, best practices, protocols, and technologies. He oversees discovery collections, managed review, and productions. He negotiates eDiscovery agreements and helps manage discovery strategy and processes in cases in all areas of employment law, including wage and hour and discrimination class actions. His practice particularly focuses on the use of technology to effectively advocate for sufficient and defensible discovery. Dan is an advisor to an AI litigation and eDiscovery SaaS provider and teaches electronic discovery at the University of Virginia. He earned his B.A., cum laude, from the University of Rochester and his J.D. from The George Washington University Law School. He is admitted to practice in New York, Virginia, and the District of Columbia.

DIALOGUE LEADERS

Cristin K. Traylor

Relativity, Richmond, VA

As Senior Director of AI Transformation & Law Firm Strategy at Relativity, Cristin leverages AI to address complex legal data challenges. She previously worked as Discovery Counsel at McGuireWoods LLP, where she led a diverse team of legal professionals providing discovery support and strategic guidance to firm clients. She was also a member of the Practice Innovation Office, overseeing the adoption of emerging technologies by the firm. Cristin has written and spoken extensively on discovery topics. She is currently the Assistant Chapter Director of Richmond Women in eDiscovery and Project Trustee of the EDRM Discovery Workflows Project. She is an active participant of Sedona Conference Working Group 1 and holds the Relativity Master certification.

Hon. Juan G. Villaseñor

Eighth Judicial District Court, Fort Collins, CO

Judge Juan G. Villaseñor was appointed as a District Judge by Governor Hickenlooper in 2018. Before his appointment to the bench, Judge Villaseñor was an Assistant United States Attorney for the District of Colorado (2008-18). There, he investigated and prosecuted civil claims and criminal matters. He also represented federal agencies and employees in a wide variety of defensive cases. Between 2014 and 2016, Judge Villaseñor was detailed to the U.S. Department of Justice's Office of the Pardon Attorney. Prior to become a federal prosecutor, Judge Villaseñor was an Assistant Attorney General in Tennessee (2003-08). At the beginning of his career, he was the Justice William J. Brennan First Amendment Fellowship Attorney with the American Civil Liberties Union in New York and a law clerk to U.S. District Judge William J. Haynes, Jr., in the U.S. District Court for the Middle District of Tennessee. Judge Villaseñor earned his A.B. from St. John's College, his J.D. from Vanderbilt University Law School and an LL.M. in Judicial Studies from Duke University School of Law.

Kenneth J. Withers

The Sedona Conference, Phoenix, AZ

Ken is the Executive Director of The Sedona Conference and a member of its Board of Directors. Since 1989, he has published several widely distributed papers on electronic discovery and given presentations at more than 500 conferences and workshops for legal, records management, and industry audiences. An Internet pioneer, Ken hosted a popular website on electronic discovery and electronic records management in the 1990's, co-authored The Internet Guide for Massachusetts Lawyers in 1997, and received the 1999 Lord Lloyd of Kilgerran

DIALOGUE LEADERS

Award from the British Irish Legal Education Technology Association for his postgraduate essay on the then-emerging field of eDiscovery. From 1999 through 2005, Ken was a Senior Education Attorney at the Federal Judicial Center in Washington D.C., where he developed training programs for the federal judiciary concentrating on issues of technology and the administration of justice. He also contributed to several well-known FJC publications, including Effective Use of Courtroom Technology (2001), the Civil Litigation Management Manual (2001), and the Manual for Complex Litigation, Fourth Edition (2004). Ken joined the staff of The Sedona Conference in 2006 and continued publishing scholarly articles, including Ephemeral Data and the Duty to Preserve Discoverable Electronically Stored Information in the University of Baltimore Law Review (2008); Living Daily with Weekley Homes in the Texas State Bar Advocate (2010); and Risk Aversion, Risk Management, and the Overpreservation Problem in Electronic Discovery in the South Carolina Law Review (2013). Ken received his J.D. from Northwestern Pritzker School of Law in 1984 and his M.S. in library and information science from Simmons University in 1998.