Summarize your special skills or qualifications for this position.	I have worked with the cultivation of plants my entire life, and I would love to continue doing so through employment here. I am well versed in navigating conversations with customers, being efficient at my work, and quickly learning new things. Furthermore, I am proficient with using online platforms to reach a younger audience and thus promote the business to a bigger population. While the older workers of the company are well seasoned with experience, I can bring some advice as to reaching a younger community and expand the nursery's appeal.
