Bobby and LaKeisha Williams are church planting missionaries. They planted a church in the area where Bobby grew up. The Williamses are missionaries in North America. Sometimes God calls people to go to another country to tell people about Jesus, and sometimes He calls them to go to the people in their own community.

The Williamses know that people all around them in New Orleans, Louisiana, don't know who Jesus is.
Nine out of ten people in New Orleans don't go to church.

The Williamses started Next Level Church to minister to the community by preaching God's Word, helping meet needs, and hosting events like health fairs and a fall festival for neighborhood kids.

One way Next Level Church reaches out to the community is by offering Level Up Fitness Camps for kids. They teach the kids basic exercises and how to stay healthy while teaching them about Jesus.

You can support missionaries like the Williamses by giving to missions offerings.

Samuel Zwemer (zuh-WAY-mer) was one of the first missionaries to Muslim people. Samuel was born in the United States. When he was a little baby, his mother prayed that God would make him a missionary, and God did! Samuel knew he wanted to go to the place where the Muslim people were. Samuel felt sad for all of the Muslim people because they didn't know Jesus.

Samuel moved to a faraway country to tell Muslims about Jesus. It wasn't an easy job. But Samuel never stopped believing that it was exactly where God had called him to go.

Samuel wrote lots of books during his life, and he came back to the United States and talked to young people about going to faraway places to teach Muslims about Jesus. Many young people became missionaries because of his stories and the things he wrote.

Samuel lived to be 84 years old. He never stopped teaching young people about missions.
