You're Welcome

Missionaries David and Lark Washington traveled in a car a long way to get to where they serve in Southeast Asia. Not many people could travel at the time in the country. People who left the country were not allowed to return to the country unless they stayed away from others. The missionaries made it safely to their home, but they were unable leave their home for a while once they arrived. They had some food, but needed to get food delivered to them as well. David would get on a ladder on the roof of his home to get the food. He also began to read his Bible as he sat on the ladder. People would come by and ask him what he was doing. It would give David an opportunity to tell the people about the Bible and about Jesus.

Pray for missionaries telling people about Jesus in Southeast Asia.

Pray that more people who live in Southeast Asia will want to know about the one true God.

Pray for courage for the new believers. Pray they will tell others in their villages about God.
