National Register of Historic Places – Withdrawn Property Listings

Scope and Content Note:
The National Register of Historic Places (NRHP) is the official list of the Nation's historic places worthy of preservation. Authorized by the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966, the National Park Service's National Register of Historic Places is part of a national program to coordinate and support public and private efforts to identify, evaluate, and protect America's historic and archeological resources.

- From the National Register of Historic Places site: http://www.nps.gov/nr/about.htm

The Withdrawn Property listing records are comprised of nomination forms (signed, legal documents verifying the status of the properties as listed in the National Register) photographs, maps, correspondence, memorandums, and ephemera which document the efforts to recognize individual properties that are historically significant to their community and/or state.

Arrangement:
The Withdrawn Property listing records are arranged by county and therein alphabetically by property name. Within the physical files, researchers will find the records arranged in the following way: Nomination Form, Photographs, Maps, Correspondence, and then Other documentation.

Extent:
The NRHP Property Listings for Withdrawn Properties total 32 Linear Feet.

Processing:
The NRHP Withdrawn Property listing records were processed and cataloged at the Intermountain Region Museum Services Center by Caitlin Godlewski, Hannah Gramson, and Carmen Sterk.

Processing Note: Reference numbers listed as “T_*State Abbreviation*00X” signify that the property information was returned to the state for updates or changes and was never returned to the National Register for formal listing. This resulted in the National Register retaining the informal property information with no associated reference number. Digitization project staff assigned these temporary reference numbers for ease of access.

Digitization Note: Back sides of photographs have not been digitized for the Withdrawn Property Listings. Photographs may be subject to copyright. Fair-use restrictions may apply.

Associated Material:
The NRHP Withdrawn Property listing records exist in conjunction with additional National Register of Historic Places records and National Historic Landmark records. Researchers may benefit from accessing these associated bodies of records for Withdrawn Property records:

- National Register of Historic Places – Single Property Listings
    - A county-by-county listing of individual properties
- National Register of Historic Places – Multiple Property Submissions
    - A listing of properties tied together by a single theme, concept, or context
- National Historic Landmark
    - A listing of nationally significant historic places designated by the Secretary of the Interior

Copyright and Restriction Notice:

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted materials. The various state privacy acts govern the use of materials that document private individuals, groups, and corporations.

Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a reproduction if the document does not infringe the privacy rights of an individual, group, or corporation. These specified conditions of authorized use include:

- non-commercial and non-profit study, scholarship, or research, or teaching
- criticism, commentary, or news reporting
- as a NPS preservation or security copy
- as a research copy for deposit in another institution

If a user later uses a copy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use," the user may be personally liable for copyright, privacy, or publicity infringement. This institution's permission to obtain a photographic, xerographic, digital, or other copy of a document doesn't indicate permission to publish, exhibit, perform, reproduce, sell, distribute, or prepare derivative works from this document without first obtaining permission from the copyright holder and from any private individual, group, or corporation shown or otherwise recorded.

Permission to publish, exhibit, perform, reproduce, prepare derivative works from, sell, or otherwise distribute the item must be obtained by the user separately in writing from the holder of the original copyright (or if the creator is dead from his/her heirs) as well as from any individual(s), groups, or corporations whose name, image, recorded words, or private information (e.g., employment information) may be reproduced in the source material. The holder of the original copyright isn't necessarily the National Park Service. The National Park Service is not legally liable for copyright, privacy, or publicity infringement when materials are wrongfully used after being provided to researchers for "fair use."

This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if fulfillment of the order is judged in violation of copyright or federal or state privacy or publicity law.
