Asian/Pacific American Heritage Month, 1991 and 1992

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

With characteristic clarity and force, Walt Whitman wrote: "The United States themselves are essentially the greatest poem. . . . Here is not merely a nation but a teeming nation of nations." Those immortal words eloquently describe America's ethnic diversity—a diversity we celebrate with pride during Asian/Pacific American Heritage Month.

The Asian/Pacific American heritage is marked by its richness and depth. The world marvels at the wealth of ancient art and philosophy, the fine craftsmanship, and the colorful literature and folklore that have sprung from Asia and the Pacific islands. Whether they trace their roots to places like Cambodia, Vietnam, Korea, the Philippines, and the Marshall Islands or cherish their identities as natives of Hawaii and Guam, all Asian and Pacific Americans can take pride in this celebration of their heritage.

By preserving the time-honored customs and traditions of their ancestral homelands, Americans of Asian and Pacific descent have greatly enriched our Nation's culture. They have also made many outstanding contributions to American history. Indeed, this country's westward expansion and economic development were greatly influenced by thousands of Chinese and other Asians who immigrated during the 19th century. Today recent immigrants from South Asia are giving our Nation new appreciation for that region of the world.

Over the years—and often in the face of great obstacles—Asian and Pacific Americans have worked hard to reap the rewards of freedom and opportunity. Many have arrived in the United States after long and arduous journeys, escaping tyranny and oppression with little more than the clothes on their backs. Yet, believing in America's promise of liberty and justice for all and imbued with a strong sense of self-discipline, sacrifice, courage, and honor, they have steadily advanced, earning the respect and admiration of their fellow citizens. Today we give special and long-overdue recognition to the nisei who fought for our country in Europe during World War II. During one of America's darker hours, they affirmed the patriotism and loyalty of Japanese Americans and, in so doing, taught us an important lesson about tolerance and justice.

Time and again throughout our Nation's history, Asian and Pacific Americans have proved their devotion to the ideals of freedom and democratic government. Those ideals animate and guide our policies toward Asia and the Pacific today. The economic dynamism of the Pacific Rim is a crucial source of growth for the global economy, and the United States will continue working to promote economic cooperation and the expansion of free markets throughout the region. The United States also remains committed to the security of our allies and to the advancement of human rights throughout Asia and the Pacific.

The political and economic ties that exist between the United States and countries in Asia and the Pacific are fortified by strong bonds of kinship and culture. All Americans are enriched by those ties, and thus we proudly unite in observing Asian/Pacific American Heritage Month.

The Congress, by House Joint Resolution 173, has designated May 1991 and May 1992 as "Asian/Pacific American Heritage Month" and has authorized and requested the President to issue a proclamation in observance of these occasions.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, GEORGE BUSH, President of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim the months of May 1991 and May 1992 as Asian/Pacific American Heritage Month. I call upon the people of the United States to observe these occasions with appropriate programs, ceremonies, and activities.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this 6th day of May, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and ninety-one, and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred and fifteenth.

George Bush

Mr. Clayton Fong
Director of Public Liaison
The White House
Washington, DC 20500

Dear Mr. Fong:

May we congratulate you on your recent appointment to your new post, which clearly shows that the President is very serious in this Asian and Pacific American Heritage Month in keeping his pledge to our various communities to elevate people of merit to positions of responsibility. We are sure that you will do a great job in your new responsibility.

As you may know, I am writing you this time to ask for your help about a World Conference of Free Vietnamese that NCVA is helping to organize in Washington at the end of the month, from May 30 to June 1. NCVA, or the National Congress of Vietnamese in America, is a federation of Vietnamese American organizations across the United States, founded in August 1986. Since then, some 200 Vietnamese American organizations have joined or are affiliated with us. Because of our preeminence as a national organization, we have been asked to put together the World Conference of Free Vietnamese where representatives from all over the world, including Australia, France, Canada, Germany, etc. will join us in the U.S. to review the situation in Vietnam and study ways in which we can foster democracy and bring about a peaceful evolution towards more freedom and a market economy in that country.

Because of the importance of the occasion, we would like to invite you to be a keynote speaker at our conference. It is also our hope that the President give us a message, not merely to greet the event but also to give the encouragement to the peaceful struggle for Democracy in Vietnam, which is going on right now both in Vietnam and outside of Vietnam. That many Vietnamese, like Dr. Nguyen Dan Que (who is being nominated for the 1992 Nobel Peace Prize), are still in jail in Vietnam shows that the flame of Democracy is far from dying inside that country.

Enclosed please find a fact sheet on the Conference and a summary proposed agenda. It is our hope that your office would be kind enough to organize for us a White House Briefing on U.S. Policy Towards Vietnam on the morning or afternoon of Monday, June 1. As things are still flexible at this stage, we think we can accommodate you either way.

As the Conference Organizing Committee Co-Chair, I will shortly be in touch with your office to work out the details. Hoping that you can help us, I remain, dear Mr. Fong,

Sincerely yours,

Mary Chi Ray
