Laureates of the 1991 Kyoto Prizes

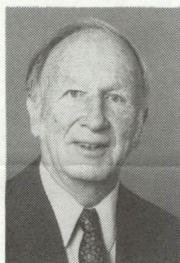

Advanced Technology

Michael Szwarc (U.S.A.) (born in 1909)
Professor, University of Southern California

A chemist who has made an outstanding contribution to the research and development of polymeric materials for the materials science, Professor Szwarc is best known for discovering "living polymerization," paving the way for new functional materials with indispensable applications in advanced technology, and providing many scientists and engineers (particularly polymer scientists) with significant and unprecedented methodologies for the design and synthesis of new polymeric materials.

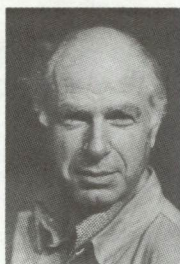

Basic Sciences

Edward Norton Lorenz (U.S.A.) (born in 1917)
Professor Emeritus, M.I.T.

A meteorologist who established the theoretical basis of weather and climate predictability, as well as the basis for computer-aided atmospheric physics and meteorology. Professor Lorenz made his boldest scientific achievement in discovering "deterministic chaos," a principle which has profoundly influenced a wide range of basic sciences and brought about one of the most dramatic changes in mankind's view of nature since Sir Isaac Newton.

Creative Arts and Moral Sciences

Peter Stephen Paul Brook (U.K.) (born in 1925)
Director, International Centre for Theatre Creations

A quintessential stage director who has exerted an extraordinary, worldwide influence over theater and drama for four decades, Mr. Brook has continually broken the bonds of theatrical convention with works that are at once extremely classical, yet fully contemporary, integrating both Eastern and Western theater at a level which transcends mere form.

Announcement of the 1991 Kyoto Prize Lectures and Workshops

The Kyoto Prizes and The Inamori Foundation

The Kyoto Prizes, as international awards, are presented annually by The Inamori Foundation to an individual or a group in each of the three categories, namely Advanced Technology, Basic Sciences, and Creative Arts and Moral Sciences. Each winning individual or group of the Kyoto Prizes is awarded with the Certificate of Recognition, Medal (gold) and Prize Money of ¥45,000,000. The specific fields are decided annually in each of the three categories. The laureates for the 1991 Kyoto Prizes have been chosen in the following fields:

- ★Advanced Technology: Materials Science and Engineering
- ★Basic Sciences: Earth and Planetary Sciences, Astronomy and Astrophysics
- ★Creative Arts and Moral Sciences: Theater, Cinema

The Inamori Foundation was established on April 12, 1984, funded by a donation from Kazuo Inamori, chairman of Kyocera Corporation and president of the Foundation.

AIMS: To contribute to human peace and prosperity by honoring those people who have contributed significantly to the betterment of mankind.
To provide research support and funding in the fields of science technology, and the creative arts and to promote international understanding in industrial economic and cultural development around the world.

Dr. Allan Bromley
Assistant to the President for Science & Technology
Old Executive Office Building - 360
17th & Pennsylvania Avenue, NW
Washington, D.C. 20506

Dear Dr. Bromley:

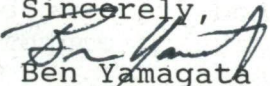

On September 24 & 25, 1991, the Electric Transportation Coalition is sponsoring "ride & drives" of electric vehicles similar to those being developed and tested by General Motors. The Coalition invites you to join us in this unique opportunity to take a test drive (or a test ride) in this environmentally important "new" technology.

We will have an electric Geo Storm at the RFK Stadium parking lot on September 24 & 25. (The Geo Storm is one of the vehicles being used to test components for the new electric vehicle that GM plans to produce in the mid 1990's.) GM will provide an electrically powered minivan to shuttle you from the designated pickup points to the Stadium for the rides. Other participants will include Members of Congress, their staffs and Administration officials.

With the action by the Senate and House with respect to omnibus energy legislation that contains provisions for electric vehicles as well as the recent action by the House Science, Space and Technology Committee to favorably report H.R. 1538, the National Electric Vehicle Act of 1991, the Coalition's planned event is very timely.

We are scheduled to meet at three different locations (Senate Dirksen Building, House Rayburn Building and the Forrestal Building) on September 24 & 25, to be transported to the Stadium. If you wish to participate, please contact Emily Voorhees at (202) 298-1813 to schedule the time and location in which you will be able to join us. We hope that your schedule will permit you to participate.

Sincerely,

Ben Yamagata

Dear Dr. Bromley:

On behalf of the GEM Program, I am pleased to invite you to attend a special television program and reception celebrating GEM's Fifteenth Anniversary. The show, "Partners in Progress: The GEM Story," will originate from Atlantic Video Studios in downtown Washington, D.C., on Thursday, October 3, 1991, 2:00 - 3:30 PM EST. The reception will be held immediately after the telecast's end at Atlantic.

You are also invited to join the audience on October 3rd, from 12:30 - 2:00 PM EST for the Second Annual "Why Graduate School?" teleconference entitled "What is Graduate School and How Do You Select One?" This year's program features graduate students from around the country discussing their graduate experiences with undergraduate science and engineering students.

We would be honored if you could join us for these celebration events. Your support of GEM and our goals means a great deal to us as would your presence on October 3rd.

To help us plan for these events, please RSVP by September 20th the GEM central office at Notre Dame and specify which events you are able to attend. Attached is a list of area hotels next door to the studios, if you are joining us from out of town. Directions to the studios and a reply card are also attached.

I hope to see you in Washington.

Sincerely,

Edward W. Seeberger

Honorable D. Allan Bromley
Assistant to the President for Science & Technology
Office of Science & Technology Policy
17th & Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W.
Washington, DC 20506

Dear Honorable Bromley:

It is my great pleasure to invite you to attend the signing ceremony formally establishing the Quality Education for Minorities in Mathematics, Science, and Engineering (MSE) Network on Friday, September 13. The Historically Black Colleges and Universities and predominantly minority institutions signing the MSE Network's Memorandum of Understanding are committing themselves to provide collaborative leadership in the mathematics, science, and engineering education of underrepresented minorities.

The MSE Network will be developing and implementing programs to increase minority participation in mathematics, science, and engineering. It will work with federal and state agencies; national and federal laboratories; industry, including small businesses; non-minority universities; two-year and four-year colleges; school systems; community groups; and other organizations interested in the mathematics, science, and engineering education of underrepresented minorities. The MSE Network will develop a detailed strategic plan for achieving increased minority participation in mathematics, science, and engineering fields.

The signing ceremony, including a buffet lunch, will be held in:

628 Dirksen Senate Office Building
Washington, DC
12:15-2:00 p.m.
Friday, September 13

The enclosed abstract summarizes the objectives of the MSE Network. Also enclosed is a list of the Charter Members of the MSE Network.

If you are able to accept this invitation, please RSVP to Esther Ntim at (202) 659-1818 by September 6. I look forward to our working together to address this important national need. Please contact Albert Bridgewater or me at the same number, if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Shirley M. McPay

Quality Education for Minorities in Mathematics, Science, and Engineering (MSE) Network

The objectives of the MSE Network are to:

- "Quadruple the number of minority students receiving baccalaureate degrees in the physical and life sciences and engineering, from about 17,000 in 1987 to 68,000 in 2000...
- "Triple the number of minorities receiving doctorates, especially in science and engineering. In 1987, just 389 American minority students earned doctorates in the science and engineering fields. In 2000, at least 1,200 should earn these degrees." (Education That Works: An Action Plan for the Education of Minorities, 1990)

In order to accomplish these objectives, the MSE Network will:

- Develop effective model instructional programs at participating institutions to provide quality precollege mathematics and science education for minority students;
- Develop effective model enrichment programs at member institutions to inform precollege minority students about their mathematics, science, and engineering career options;
- *Develop secure pathways to facilitate the transition of minority students from high schools and 2-year colleges into 4-year colleges;
- Develop effective model programs at member institutions to provide undergraduate minority students: early research experience with dedicated mentors and role models; and academic enrichment, mentoring, and counseling to enhance student self confidence, interest, and desire to achieve in science and engineering teaching, faculty, and research careers;
- *Develop secure pathways to facilitate the transition of minority undergraduate students into graduate schools;
- Establish partnerships among colleges and universities, school systems, Federal/State/local government agencies, major national laboratories and centers, industry, private foundations, and professional organizations, as necessary to achieve the objectives of the MSE Network;
- Develop specific evaluation plans and procedures for assessing both qualitative and quantitative changes; and
- Disseminate successful model programs nation-wide.

* Secure pathways are formed by linking institutions and programs to provide students early research experience, academic enrichment, mentoring, counseling, and assurance that (if their performance meets expectations) they will be able to advance toward their educational objective.

August 26, 1991

91 AUG 27 P 1:31

OFFICE OF THE
DIRECTOR

The Honorable
D. Allan Bromley
Assistant to the President for Science and Technology
Old Executive Office Building, Room 360
Washington, D. C. 20500

Dear Allan:

On behalf of the National Coalition for Advanced Manufacturing, I am pleased to invite you to be the keynote luncheon speaker at our Annual Conference on Tuesday, December 10, 1991, at the Omni Shoreham Hotel in Washington, D. C.

The theme of this conference will be "Partnerships in Industrial Modernization: Industry, Government, and Academia Working Together." Using NACFAM's October 1990 White Paper, Industrial Modernization: An American Imperative, as a baseline, this conference will review federal policies in the areas of technology, technical training, and cost of capital. The conference will also feature presentations by the relevant federal agencies of their manufacturing-related programs. The results of the conference will be published in the form of a report that will serve as NACFAM's action plan for 1992.

We are expecting 200-300 attendees at this conference. These will be individuals from senior positions in many of the companies, national associations, state economic development agencies, and industrial training, tech transfer, and extension centers that are especially interested in revitalizing the domestic industrial base. The two other keynote speakers presently planned for the conference are Senator Jeff Bingaman and Roy Vagelos, CEO of Merck & Co., an esteemed business leader. A copy of the conference preview announcement is attached.

Given the excellent meeting they had with you last December and the cooperation that NACFAM enjoys with your staff, NACFAM's Board of Advisors especially wanted to invite you to present the keynote address on the Administration's perspective on the conference theme. Of special interest would be your view of how industry, government, and academia could interact to develop and deploy the innovative manufacturing process technologies that will be a critical determinant of America's future industrial strength, standard of living, and national security.

The other times for keynote speeches are at luncheon and at dinner on December 9. If you prefer one of these other times, please let me know soonest, so that I can try to arrange a change of schedule with Jeff Bingaman or Roy Vagelos.

I hope that you can join us at the conference. With best wishes.

Sincerely,

Leo Reddy
President

Advanced
Manufacturing
Conference

NACFAM '91

December 9-10, 1991

Congress and the administration are developing landmark legislation and initiatives that are having a significant impact on the advanced manufacturing environment in the United States. Critical issues such as technology policy, technical training, tax policy and more are emerging as the critical policy issues facing the nation. You and your organization can make a difference in how NACFAM policy on these issues is formulated. Meet program leaders who are changing the way government works with industry and learn about the new resources available, now, to strengthen your organization. Come to this important conference and engage in the national policy decision making process.

Purpose

- To review federal policies and programs related to industrial modernization and provide private sector views directly to government policymakers.
- To enable federal government agencies to present their full array of programs in this field.
- To allow for one-on-one consultations with federal program directors and networking.
- To provide details on new initiatives NACFAM is fostering in the fields of manufacturing technology R&D, industrial extension, technical training, tax policy and loan programs.
- To define a future platform for specific forms of industry/government/academic partnerships for consideration during the 1992 election year.

Sunday, December 8: Reception for Early Arrivals
Monday, December 9: Policy Day

Policyleaders from government, industry and academia will review progress toward achievement of the integrated strategy for federal action proposed in NACFAM's fall 1990 white paper, Industrial Modernization: An American Imperative. High-level panelists from government, industry and academia will examine the pros and cons of specific public policy initiatives in the fields of leadership, technology, human resources and cost of capital. Government and business community leaders will give keynote addresses. Social/networking events include continental breakfast, luncheon, reception, dinner and coffee breaks.

NACFAM — A Strategic Catalyst for Change

NACFAM is a rapidly growing coalition of firms, centers and associations committed to action at the national level to facilitate the productivity, quality and competitiveness of U.S. industry. Specifically, NACFAM advocates the accelerated development and deployment of advanced manufacturing technologies, fundamental reform of technical and worker training and increased investment in plant and equipment.

Much of NACFAM's record of success derives from the coalition's ability to transform public policy options into concrete change. For instance, NACFAM's October 1990 white paper, Industrial Modernization: An American Imperative, proposed a strategy for federal action in the areas of leadership, technology, human resources and modernization incentives. Several of NACFAM's specific suggestions have appeared in federal policies, legislation and resource allocations.

DIRECTOR

Dear Dr. Bromley,

Do please join me in honoring the distinguished winners of the 1991 Albert Lasker Medical Research Awards. The Foundation's Awards Luncheon will be held at The Pierre Hotel, Fifth Avenue at 61st Street, at 12 noon on Friday, September 27th.

This year is the forty-fifth year of the presentation of these Awards. Since they were first established, forty-nine Albert Lasker Medical Research Award winners have later won Nobel Prizes.

Senator Tom Harkin, Chairman of the Labor, Health and Human Services and Education Appropriations Subcommittee, will be our Keynote Speaker. Dr. Michael E. DeBakey, Chancellor of Baylor College of Medicine, and Chairman of the Jury that selected this year's winners, will be the Honorary Luncheon Chairman. Dr. Jordan U. Gutterman, Professor of Medicine and Chairman of the Department of Clinical Immunology and Biological Therapy at The University of Texas M.D. Anderson Cancer Center, is our new Director of the Awards Program.

Please let me know that you can join us at the Awards Luncheon. We look forward to hearing from you.

With warm good wishes,

Sincerely

Mary Lasker

OFFICE OF THE
DIRECTOR

Dear Dr. Bromley:

For eleven years, a distinguished, diverse group has come to Hilton Head Island for a private party. It is unlike any other gathering we attend and is greatly enriched by new participants. We hope that, this year, your family can join us, as our guests, for either New Year's (December 28th - January 1st) or the January Holiday Weekend (January 17th - 20th).

What is this "Renaissance Weekend"?

- * Over meals, beach walks, golf and tennis, 100+ families make and renew acquaintance, exchange thoughts about current issues, and relax "off-the-record." More than two-thirds of last year's participants were previous guests, much like an "extended family reunion."
- * Some vignettes from last year: a Supreme Court justice, Nazi-refugee governor, and former Republican national chairman speculating about what Lincoln might say if he were alive today; the first Congressman/astronaut enthralling 10-year-olds at lunch with space tales; America's former Ambassador to Iran recalling his last moments with the Shah; a Federal judge walking off for a chat with his son, who had just advised how "Grade A" professionals can avoid getting "F's" as parents; national security authorities outlining Persian Gulf options; adventure travelers reporting on climbing the world's highest peaks, exploring Antarctica, photographing rural Pakistan, and hunting big game; a top environmentalist captivating a packed room on global warming while, poolside, a Wolf Trap performer engaged children in a sing-along on the same subject; and leaders from academe, business, science, and the media sharing what they would say if given one last chance to speak.

This tradition's background and other information are detailed in the enclosed materials. We shall be happy to provide your family's lodging, meals, golf, tennis, and bikes. Transportation and any other expenses will be your responsibility.

Please consider this occasion with your family, and return the green Registration Form if you can be with us or would like to be invited next year. Since our family is spending a few years in Australia (where I'm heading its first private university), feel free to phone our Renaissance coordinators, Jackie Kiss and Alice Settles (404-451-1992), in our Atlanta office. They will arrange your lodging and send you the specific program about ten days before our time together.

I hope to see you at Renaissance Weekend!

Sincerely,

Phil Lader

We'd love to have you with us!

A Composite of Renaissance Weekend Panels 1981-1991

Renaissance Weekend is a private "house party," hosted annually since 1981 by Philip and Linda Lader, at which some 100+ families gather on Hilton Head Island, at their own expense, to share their experiences and views through informal panels, over meals, and on tennis courts, golf courses, bike paths, and the beach. The participants are leaders in business, education, government, law and medicine, sports, religion, the media, and the arts. Over the years, the group has become an "extended family": more than two-thirds of last year's guests were past participants. Their only common denominators are (1) innovative achievement on a national or regional scale, (2) a "renaissance" spirit and broad-ranging intellectual interests, and (3) personal qualities that allow them to enjoy an off-the-record, highly informal tradition.

Renaissance Weekend '92 Fact Sheet

New Year's

December 28, 1991 - January 1, 1992

January Holiday Weekend

January 17 - 20, 1992

Program & Activities: The Weekend consists of family recreation and informal, off-the-record presentations by the participants themselves. Simultaneous panels on various subjects, scheduled by the hosts, are listed on the Tentative Program mailed to participants ten days before the Weekend. Times are set aside for recreation and meals "on-your-own." All participants are encouraged to "come-and-go" as they like.

Dress: "Resort casual"; "coat-and-tie" for dinners.

First Day's Program: Begins at 6 p.m.; final day's ends at 1 p.m.

Sports: A dozen golf courses, more than 200 tennis courts, some 30 miles of bike trails, and ten miles of beach will be available.

Bikes: Available for rental at the Sea Pines ($10 for the entire Weekend) or Shipyard ($15 - Weekend) Bike Shops.

Indoor Pool/Health Club: Marriott's facilities will be complimentary to all Renaissance participants upon presentation of nametags, regardless of their choice of lodging. Players Club racquet/handball courts, etc. available at $7.50/person/day.

Tennis: Complimentary tennis at Shipyard's Racquet Club, adjacent to the Marriott, and at Sea Pines' Harbour Town Racquet Club (site of more nationally televised tennis than any other resort location) for all Renaissance guests registered with either Marriott or Sea Pines. At both resorts, complimentary tennis will be provided at two hours per room or villa per day.

Golf: Complimentary golf, $15 cart rental charge only, on Sea Pines' Ocean and Sea Marsh courses, as well as a limited number of complimentary ($15 cart rental) 10:00 a.m. - 1:00 p.m. starting times on Sea Pines' Harbour Town Links (where the PGA Heritage Classic is played), will be offered to participants registered in Sea Pines villas. Complimentary golf, $15 cart rental charge only, will be offered on Shipyard's courses to all participants. Starting times may be reserved by phoning, for Sea Pines, (800) 955-8337, or for Shipyard, (803) 785-2404, and identifying yourself as a Renaissance Group guest.

Transportation: Travel Agents International has arranged discount airfares with several carriers. For reservations, phone Ellie or Mary at (800) 673-6311 and refer to Renaissance Weekend. Commercial and charter flights are available from Charlotte (USAir) and Raleigh (American) direct to Hilton Head and return. From Savannah Airport (USAir, Delta, United, American), car rentals and limo service are available to the Island (45 minutes drive), but advance reservations are necessary. Most guests prefer renting cars at either airport to enjoy all the resorts' facilities. (Sea Pines is spread over 5,000 acres; the Marriott Resort is several miles from Sea Pines' Conference Center; and there is no public transportation.)

Lodging: Participants may choose from two principal alternatives. (All subject to 7% State tax.)

Marriott Resort Hotel (beachfront; indoor pool and health club; immediate access to Shipyard Plantation golf, tennis, and bike paths; daily housekeeping service; site of several Renaissance meals and New Year's party; approximately five miles from Sea Pines Conference Center by car or bike)

All rooms	$ 70/night
Suites	$175/night

(No charge for roll-away beds or cribs; two adults and two children may comfortably stay in each room.)

Sea Pines Plantation Villas (condominiums and homes throughout 5,000-acre resort community; some view beach, harbour, or golf fairways; all include kitchens; immediate access to Sea Pines golf, tennis, and bike paths; inquire for home rates) (Guests may request from three areas: South Beach, Harbour Town, or Conference Center vicinity.)

	Courtyard View	Harbour or Ocean View
1 Bedroom	$ 77/night	$105/night
2 Bedroom	$109/night	$136/night
3 Bedroom	$127/night	$161/night
4 Bedroom	$150/night	$192/night

(Daily housekeeping will be provided only if requested, with additional $18/BR/day charge. Please note on Lodging Reservation Form if housekeeping is desired, and be sure accurate service is noted on the resort's confirmation.)

(Reservations can also be made directly at the Holiday Inn, Hilton, or Days Inn, approximately five miles from Sea Pines.)

Reservations: Participants must request lodging directly by sending the Lodging Reservation Form, completed on the appropriate side, and reservation deposit to either Marriott or Sea Pines . . . in addition to returning the green Registration Form and registration deposit to the Renaissance Atlanta office. Lodging reservations will be confirmed by the respective resort. Rooms and villas will be held for Renaissance participants until 30 days before the Weekend and then will be available only as resort lodging space permits.

Cancellation: Changes and cancellation of reservations must be received by Sea Pines seven (7) days — and by Marriott, 48 hours — in advance of scheduled arrival for full refund. Please advise both the resort and the Renaissance Atlanta office if you must cancel.

Check-in/Check-out: All Renaissance participants should check in at the Sea Pines Welcome Center at Sea Pines Circle . . . and then, if appropriate, proceed to the Marriott. Check-in times are 4 p.m.; check-out, 12 noon. In most cases, rooms and villas become available earlier, and guests will be accommodated early on a space available basis. Late check-outs can be arranged.

Extended Stays: Participants are encouraged to come early or stay after the program. Informal activities will be scheduled for Friday dinner, Dec. 27th, and Saturday, Dec. 28th. Stated room/villa rates and resort privileges will be available upon specific request.

Payment: Lodging charges will be paid upon check-in. All questions must be referred to the respective resort.

Further Information: Please call Marriott, (800) 334-1881 or (803) 842-2400 in SC, or Sea Pines, (800) 845-6131, and be sure to tell the reservations personnel that you are requesting "Renaissance Group Reservations."

Further Information and Changes in Plans (regarding program and special arrangements): Renaissance Coordinators Jackie Kiss and Alice Settles may be reached at Renaissance Weekend, 4340 Georgetown Square, Suite 608, Atlanta, GA 30338; Telephone (404) 451-1992; Fax (404) 451-6620. During Renaissance Weekends, the Laders may be reached, for emergencies, in the late evenings at (803) 671-4811 or (803) 671-3741.

-- Please register ASAP or before October 15th to avoid the Wait List!!! --

Renaissance Weekend '92: Fact Sheet

Meals and Beverages: To keep costs down, all registered adult participants must be charged for the total "Common Meals" package. Also, the "head count" must be personally guaranteed by the hosts. Please note your arrival and departure times on the green Registration Form so the hosts can determine how many participants will attend the "pre-Weekend" dinner and the final brunch.

New Year's Weekend ("Common Meals" include Saturday, Sunday, Tuesday dinners; Sunday, Monday, Tuesday light breakfasts; Sunday and Monday lunches; Wednesday brunch; New Year's Eve party; Monday dinner/ Tuesday lunch "on-your-own")
$230 per person ("package" charge to all adult participants)
$100 per child (12-and-under) unless "no meals" specifically designated on green Registration Form

January Holiday Weekend ("Common Meals" include Friday, Saturday, and Sunday dinners; Saturday and Sunday breakfasts; Saturday and Sunday lunches; Monday brunch; Sunday night party)
$200 per person ("package" charge to all adult participants)
$90 per child 12-and-under unless "no meals" specifically designated on green Registration Form
("Fast food" restaurants are near Sea Pines' entry gate.)

Beverages: Cash bars will be provided at the parties ($4-cocktail; $2-beer or wine; $1-soft drink or juice). Drink tickets purchased at each resort may be used only at Renaissance functions at that resort (i.e., tickets purchased at Sea Pines cannot be used at Marriott).

Cancellation: The hosts regret there can be no reductions for early departures, absence from meals, or cancellation after 3 p.m., Dec. 23 or Jan. 13, respectively. Please advise the Renaissance Atlanta office as well as the resort by telephone and/or Fax if you must cancel.

Young People: Children and teens are most welcome at all functions!

Children's Program: Children's activities (indoor games & activities, films, clown, touch football, etc.) will be organized each day during meeting functions, but there will not be the equivalent of full-time "day-care services." Because participants themselves, "au pairs," and Renaissance staff take turns supervising the children's programs, there will be only a $35 (New Year's)/$25 (January) per child charge for the entire Weekend for Children's Program participants, to be paid at the Children's Room door.

Baby-sitters: Participants are encouraged to arrange for small children and night baby-sitters. Baby-sitter lists are available from the Marriott Concierge and Sea Pines Reservations. Arrangements should be made by participants before arrival.

Teen Program: Some 30-50 teens and college students attend each year, have their own Conference Center "gathering place," organize their own activities or participate in any others, and develop their own discussions as part of the scheduled program.
(Participants are requested to indicate on the green Registration Form if they are willing to share talents or activities with the young people; e.g., guitar, folk-songs, gymnastics, story-telling. Favorite videocassettes welcome.)

Charges: Bills for Common Meals, Registration Fee, and incidentals will be sent a few days after the Weekends. Because each gathering is a private party and the hosts are personally responsible for payment to the resorts, your prompt payment would be appreciated.

Registration Fee: (paid by all participants to defray organizational, function, and common costs)

Individuals	Couples	Couples (with children 25 or under)	Additional Guests (including children over 25)
$225	$250	$300	$110/guest

(No Registration Deposit is required of New Participants.)

Lodging: Charges must be paid upon arrival. (Note Cancellation Policies overside.) Any questions should be directed to the resort.

Common Meals: A 15% service charge will be added to the Common Meals cost. Direct questions to the Renaissance Atlanta office.

Registration Directions

Invitation Policy: The gathering is a private party, and invitations are issued only by the hosts.

New Participants: New participants have been invited to both the New Year's and January Weekends. They may indicate their preference by checking the appropriate box on the green Registration Form and completing the Lodging Reservation Form accordingly. If their preferred Weekend is filled to meeting-room capacity, they will be put on the Wait List and notified by mail. They may then inform the Renaissance Atlanta office, by return mail, if they prefer to be registered for the other Weekend. Lodging changes must be made directly with the appropriate resort.

Past Participants: Past participants have been invited to either the New Year's or January Weekend. If they cannot attend that Weekend and would like to register for the alternate, they may complete the green Registration Form accordingly. If their preferred Weekend is filled to meeting-room capacity by those who were specifically invited for that date, they will be put on the Wait List for that Weekend and notified by mail. They may then inform the Renaissance Atlanta office, by return mail, if they prefer to be registered for the other Weekend. Any lodging changes must be made directly with the appropriate resort.

Regardless of the Weekend you prefer, please return as soon as possible

New Participants: (1) The green Registration Form to Renaissance Weekend, 4340 Georgetown Square, Suite 608, Atlanta, GA 30338 (No Registration Deposit necessary.)

AND

(2) If lodging is requested, the Lodging Reservation Form, with Lodging Deposit, to the Marriott or Sea Pines Resorts.

Past Participants: (1) The green Registration Form and $250 Registration Deposit (regardless of the size of your party) — check payable to "Renaissance Weekend" — to Renaissance Weekend, 4340 Georgetown Square, Suite 608, Atlanta, Georgia 30338

AND

(2) If lodging is requested, the Lodging Reservation Form, with Lodging Deposit, to the Marriott or Sea Pines Resorts.

If either Weekend is oversubscribed, participants will be selected from the Wait List by lottery in early December. So that final arrangements can be made, registration is requested as soon as possible, preferably before November 8th. For the past four years, a Wait List was organized by October 15th.

Dear Dr. Bromley,

You are invited to attend the third quarterly meeting of the Ocean Principals Group which will be held on 2 October 1991. I will host this meeting at U.S. Coast Guard Headquarters, 2100 Second Street, SW, Washington, DC 20593, room 2509, from 10:30 to 12 noon with luncheon to follow.

I am planning to report on our implementation of the Oil Pollution Act of 1990. Additional agenda items are requested for a more well rounded meeting. Please contact Mrs. Sadie Barnes at (202) 267-6695 to add an agenda item, and to report your attendance.

I look forward to seeing you on 2 October 1991.

Sincerely,

J. W. KIME
