Dear Allan:

Sam and I hope you can join us for an informal sports evening on Saturday, February 22, 1992. The occasion is the Sixth Annual Cystic Fibrosis Tennis Gala at the McLean Racquet and Health Club.

This has traditionally been a small, fun-filled evening complete with round-robin doubles tennis and dinner in a very relaxed environment.

All of the proceeds will be used to fund on-going research projects aimed at eliminating cystic fibrosis ("CF"), the number one genetic killer of children and younger adults.

Enclosed is a further description of the event. Please respond to Gail Golay at (202) 736-8035. We hope you can join us!

Sincerely,

Mary Jacobs Skinner

Dear Dr. Bromley:

The Defense Science Board will hold its Winter dinner meeting on Wednesday, February 26, 1992 at The Army and Navy Club, 901 Seventeenth Street, NW, Washington, DC (on Farragut Square). There will be a social hour at 1900 hours, followed by dinner at 2000 and Representative Les Aspin has agreed to be our featured speaker.

If your busy schedule permits you to attend, please forward your check for $40.00 per person made payable to "Defense Science Board," to Mrs. Diane L.H. Evans, Defense Science Board, OUSD(A), Room 3D865, The Pentagon, Washington, DC 20301-3140, or call the DSB Secretariat at (703) 695-4157 to RSVP. This amount covers the dinner, tax, and gratuity. A cash bar will be available before dinner.

Since we expect a rather large turnout to hear Mr. Aspin, I would urge you to make your reservation soonest, but no later than Friday, February 21.

Dear Mr. Bromley,

On behalf of the National Geographic Society, I would like to invite you to a special preview screening of National Geographic EXPLORER's "Tides of War," a film we believe to be the most comprehensive record of the environmental impact of the war in the Persian Gulf.

The screening will take place in the Society's Grosvenor Auditorium on Wednesday, February 19, from 11:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon. Grosvenor Auditorium is located at 1600 M Street, N.W., Washington, D.C.

Renowned producer Michael McKinnon filmed "Tides of War" over the course of nine months, creating one of the most powerful environmental films ever to air on EXPLORER. Mr. McKinnon, producer of the award-winning "Arabia: Sand, Sea, & Sky," and co-producer of EXPLORER's "Kuwait's Killing Tide" and "Fires of War," will be at the screening to introduce his film.

"Tides of War" will be broadcast on Sunday, February 23, at 9:00 p.m., as part of TBS' special "Save the Earth" programming, a series of environmental films aimed at increasing public awareness of the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development to be held in Rio de Janeiro, June 1-12, 1992.

I hope that you will be able to join us for this special premiere event.

Dear Dr. Aylesworth:

Thank you for your letter of February 1, 1992, regarding your concerns for the future of young scientists and inviting me to meet with the Young Scientists's Network. I apologize for the much belated response.

Because we are concerned about the future of our upcoming scientists, I would have liked to contribute to your organization's efforts to this end. However, my schedule is extremely busy for the next several months and will, I am afraid, become even more so, so I must regretfully decline your invitation.

I appreciate your thinking of me and have passed your letter on to my staff for their consideration.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Dr. Bromley,

My Name is Kevin Aylesworth. I hold a Ph. D. in physics and am the founder of a group called the Young Scientists' Network. As you may recall, we spoke briefly after your address at the April 1991 American Physical Society meeting in Washington, DC. I would like to compliment you on the excellent job you are doing formulating science policy during these trying times.

The purpose of this letter is two-fold. First, I would like to give you a brief update on the employment situation as my generation sees it, and second, I would like to invite you or your representative to attend meetings of the Young Scientists' Network at the APS conferences this March and April.

You will probably not find it very surprising that my colleagues and I don't think that the job prospects for Ph.D.'s in physics have improved in the last year. In fact, the (necessarily) anecdotal evidence that we have been able to gather indicates that the situation continues to worsen. Last year the average number of applications received by physics departments for tenure-track positions was about 300. This year the average seems to be more like 400, with the largest confirmed number of applicants surpassing 800 (at Amherst College). Even though many universities continue to advertise, I suspect that about half will not be funded. The situation for industrial positions appears to be even worse.

It is my hope that you or your emissary will be able to attend one or both meetings of the Young Scientists' Network in order to speak to us and to learn more about our concerns. The meetings will be held on Wednesday, 18 March from 6:00pm - 8:00pm in Indianapolis, IN and on Wednesday, 22 April from 6:00pm - 8:00pm in Washington, DC.

Announcement and Call for Papers

2nd TOPICAL MEETING
on
INDUSTRIAL RADIATION
and RADIOISOTOPE
MEASUREMENT APPLICATIONS

IRRMA '92

RADISSON PLAZA HOTEL
Fayetteville Street Mall
Raleigh, North Carolina
September 8 - 11, 1992

MEETING SCOPE

The Isotopes & Radiation Division and the Eastern Carolinas Section (ECS) of the American Nuclear Society, in cooperation with Troxler Electronic Laboratories, Inc., the Center for Engineering Applications of Radioisotopes at North Carolina State University (NCSU), and the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers are pleased to announce the second Topical Meeting on Industrial Radiation and Radioisotope Measurement Applications. The meeting will be held September 8-11, 1992 at the Radisson Plaza Hotel in Raleigh, North Carolina.

The objective of the meeting is to bring together scientists and engineers from around the world who share a common interest in the use of nuclear radiation and radioisotopes for industrial measurements. The second meeting follows the successful first conference held in 1988 in Pinehurst, North Carolina. Scientists from 20 countries were in attendance and the proceedings were published in the International Journal of Radiation Applications and Instrumentation.

SESSION TOPICS

Sessions are planned and papers are being solicited in the following categories:

1. Industrial Radiation Gauges
2. Industrial Radiation Analyzers
3. Radioisotope Tracers in Hydrology
4. Radioisotope Tracers in Industrial Processes
5. Industrial Radiography
6. Industrial Tomography
7. Nuclear Measurements in Geophysics
8. Nuclear Measurements on Bulk Media
9. Nuclear Reaction Analysis
10. New Developments in Hardware and Software for Industrial Radiation Measurements
11. Nuclear Measurements in Process Control
12. Radiation Detection and Assay Technology

ACTIVITIES

Check-In and Registration:

Tuesday, September 8, 4:00 pm - 9:00 pm

Wednesday, September 9, 7:30 am - 12:00 noon

Wine and Cheese Reception:

Tuesday, September 8, 5:00 pm - 7:00 pm

Opening Plenary Session:

Wednesday morning, September 9

Technical Sessions:

Wednesday morning - Friday noon (Sept 9-11)

ACTIVITIES, continued

Industrial Exhibits:

Exhibits of State-of-the-Art equipment by international manufacturers will be on display.
Tuesday evening - Friday noon

Banquet:

Thursday evening

COSTS

Registration Fee $250.00
Registration fee includes copies of the proceedings & transactions, banquet, wine and cheese reception, continental breakfasts, and coffee breaks.

Guest/Spouse $100.00

Student Registration $80.00
Copies of proceedings not included in student registration fee.

Hotel Accommodations

Single or Double $70.00/night
Children under 18 free in parent's room.

SPECIAL REDUCED AIRFARES

American Airlines will offer special reduced airfares for attendees of the 1992 IRRMA meeting. Specific information will be sent in your registration packet.

TECHNICAL TOURS

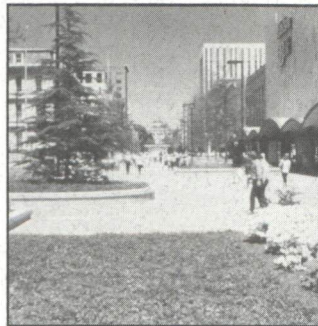

The organizing committee will arrange and make available several Technical Tours for the general and specific interest of conference attendees. Details will be announced in future correspondence.

SPOUSE/GUEST PROGRAM

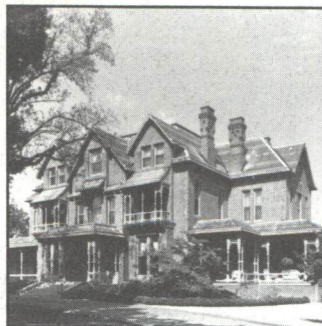

Spouses and guests of attendees are welcome! Special tours and activities are being planned for their enjoyment.

LOCATION

Raleigh, the capital of North Carolina, is a dynamic city offering a multitude of options for recreation during your free time at the IRRMA '92 meeting. The area's mild climate is enjoyable for most of the year with September temperatures averaging a warm 81°F during the day and a pleasant 60°F at night. Located in the Piedmont section of the state, Raleigh and the downtown area are a short 20 minute drive from the Raleigh-Durham International Airport.

Established in 1792 as the state capital, Raleigh, though a young city by European standards, has a history that reaches back to 16th Century England and Sir Walter Raleigh, the Father of English America. Historical attractions include the Executive Mansion, home of North Carolina's Governors. Completed in 1891, the mansion is an outstanding example of Queen Anne Cottage Victorian Architecture. The Oakwood Historic District that borders the mansion is an intact Victorian neighborhood with over 400 homes and is listed in the National Register of Historic Places.

Meeting attendees will enjoy the beautiful Fayetteville Street pedestrian mall which is anchored by the State Capital at the east end and the newly renovated Memorial Auditorium at the west end. Also, within easy walking distance of the hotel are the North Carolina Museum of History and the Museum of Natural Sciences. Visitors are also invited to tour North Carolina State University, The University of North Carolina, Duke University, and the Research Triangle Park.

The Radisson Plaza is a modern hotel that blends a striking state-of-the-art design with the warmth and charm associated with North Carolina. Accommodations include 362 luxurious guest rooms for your personal comfort and privacy, two fine restaurants, and a lounge for elegant or casual dining. The indoor garden court with swimming pool provides an excellent place to relax. Complimentary limousine service to and from the airport is provided and American Express, VISA, MasterCard, Diners Club, and Carte Blanche credit cards are accepted.

You are cordially invited to attend a reception honouring the delegates representing the United States, Japan, Europe and Canada
at the International Bioindustry Forum on Tuesday, March 10, 1992
5:30 - 7:30 p.m.
The Hay-Adams Hotel
Federal Suite
Washington, D.C.
hosted by the
Industrial Biotechnology Association

The International Bioindustry Forum (IBF), which represents the biotechnology industries in the United States, Japan, Europe and Canada, was established in 1990. It originated from the Japan-U.S. Business Council which had addressed biotechnology as one of its key interests.

The IBF seeks to promote and make accessible on a worldwide basis the benefits of modern biotechnology. To accomplish this aim, IBF shares information and coordinates policy statements on issues and scientific principles common to the development and commercialization of this advanced technology. Previous IBF meetings have been held in London and Tokyo. This is the first official IBF meeting held in the United States.

The Industrial Biotechnology Association (IBA), a trade association that represents 117 companies, is host for the meeting. IBA member companies are engaged in biotechnology research and development and manufacturing in the fields of health care, agriculture, food and industrial enzymes, and toxic waste degradation.

Dear Dr. Bromley:

You are cordially invited to attend a "Celebrate Engineering" luncheon as part of the National Engineers Week festivities on Tuesday, February 18, 1992 in Washington, DC.

The luncheon will recognize the outstanding leadership and contributions of Jack Kuehler, president of IBM and Honorary Chairman of the 1992 National Engineers Week. The Honorable Lamar Alexander, Secretary of Education, has been invited to keynote the luncheon.

The luncheon will be held at the National Press Club, Murrow-White rooms, which are on the 13th floor of the National Press Building, 529 14th Street, NW, Washington, DC. A reception beginning at 12:00 noon will be followed by lunch at 12:30 p.m. and our speaker.

We hope that you will be able to join with other representatives of the sponsoring and contributing Societies, corporate affiliates, All-Stars and other key participants in National Engineers Week at the luncheon. Please RSVP by Wednesday, February 12 to Cheryl Edmonds at 202-785-3756.

Dear Dr. Bromley:

On Monday, February 3, The European Institute will conduct the second meeting in its series of luncheon discussions for the "Project on Transatlantic Technology Cooperation" (PROTEC).

You are cordially invited to join us for a private luncheon discussion with Jean-Pierre Contzen, Director-General of the Joint Research Center, and Deputy Director General for Science, Research and Development (DG XII) of the Commission of the European Communities. The Joint Research Center of the Commission of the European Communities conducts scientific research on topics ranging from engineering to nuclear energy and the environment in its institutes located in Belgium, Germany, Italy and the Netherlands.

An expert in science policy, and in space and nuclear energy, in particular, Mr. Contzen has been Director-General of the Joint Research Center since 1986. He has served as Director for Prospective Studies for the Joint Research Center of the Ispra Establishment, and as Director of Programs of the Joint Research Center in Brussels. From 1981-1986, Mr. Contzen was the Director for Science and Technology Policy Coordination with Third World Countries in the Directorate-General for Science, Research and Development.

The luncheon will be convened from 12:00 noon until 2:00 p.m. in Executive Dining Room D-A of the World Bank, 701 19th Street, N.W. Washington, D.C. As we would like to seat you beside Mr. Contzen, please have your staff R.S.V.P. by telephone to (202) 895-1670 at your earliest convenience.

I hope that you will be able to join us on February 3.

Sincerely,

Jacqueline Grapin

Dear Dr. Bromley:

The National Security Industrial Association will hold its Thirty-eighth James Forrestal Memorial Award Dinner at the Sheraton Washington Hotel in Washington, DC, on Thursday, 12 March 1992.

The Honorable Richard B. Cheney, Secretary of Defense, has been selected to receive the Forrestal Award for 1991 and will deliver the Forrestal address.

On behalf of the Officers and Trustees of the Association, it is my privilege to extend to you a most cordial invitation to be one of our dais guests.

The Association would be very happy if your spouse or guest could also attend, for whom arrangements for seating at an NSIA table will be made.

Prior to the dinner in the Sheraton Washington Ballroom, and separate from the general reception in the Sheraton Ballroom Foyer, a special reception for dais guests will be held from 7:00 PM to 7:45 PM in the Delaware Suite.

We look forward with pleasure to having you with us.

Sincerely,
