THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

August 1, 1990

Dear Dr. Rosenfeld:

I am sorry about the administrative problems that led to your not being able to publish the article "Developing a Federal Role in the Renewal of Mathematics and Science Education." It is not that the piece was withdrawn; rather, it became clear that publishing an article on that topic coauthored by myself would require a lengthy internal review within the White House -- a process that has the potential to last for months. To avoid the need for such a review, I decided that it would be more appropriate for Mary Harley Kruter to publish the article under just her name.

Be that as it may, I would be happy to write a introductory remarks for the volume. I will work on them over the next several days and will send them, along with a signature and photograph, by your middle-of-August deadline.

Sincerely,

D. Allan Bromley
