Dear Vice President Pandolfi:

Thank you for your letter of October 29 and invitation to the second meeting of the EC-US Joint Consultative Group on Science and Technology. I am pleased to inform you that my colleagues and I on the U.S. Delegation look forward to participating with you in this important event.

I have reviewed the draft agenda and have only one significant modification. I suggest that we add an item entitled Science and Technology Policy Development and Trends, immediately following the opening statements. You will recall that we had lively and active discussions on this subject when we met in February. I believe this item provides an opportunity to discuss broad policy issues. We may need to alter the time allocated to each item on the agenda to accommodate this change, but I will ask my staff to work with yours on this matter.

I am pleased with your suggestion to include two new agenda items: Public Understanding of Science and Technology, and Comparative Approaches to Research and Technological Development in less favored regions. On the later item I suggest we focus our discussions on broad issues as opposed to specific programmatic approaches for dealing with the problem.

I look forward to seeing you in Brussels in a few weeks.

Sincerely,

D. Allan Bromley

Dear Dr. Bromley,

It is my great pleasure to invite you to the next meeting of the EC-US Joint Consultative Group on Science and Technology (JCG). We are delighted to host the meeting here in Brussels on November 25-26, 1991.

As you and I earlier agreed, we should continue our dialogue on the topics we discussed in the previous meeting. I would like to suggest that we present and discuss reports on each of these areas and decide upon further actions to be taken.

In addition, I suggest to include two new agenda items : public understanding of science and technology, and comparative approaches to research and technological development in less-favoured regions. I think that these subjects lend themselves particularly well for discussion in the JCG.

I am sending you herewith a draft agenda in preparation of the meeting. I would welcome your possible comments and suggestions with regard to my proposal.

I am looking forward to seeing you in Brussels,

Sincerely yours,

F. M. Pandolfi

OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR

Dear Dr. Bromley:

Thank you for your kind invitation to participate in the first meeting of the U.S.-E.C. Joint Consultative Group (JCG) on Science and Technology on February 25, 1991. It is encouraging that the efforts of the Committee on International Engineering, Science and Technology (CISSET) have borne fruit and that you and Vice President Pandolfi have moved so quickly to initiate the JCG.

I have asked OES Assistant Secretary Curtis Bohlen to serve as my alternate for the meeting and that Deputy Assistant Secretary for Science and Technology Affairs, John Boright, also be prepared to attend on behalf of the Department.

Our two staffs have worked well together to organize our strategy for the meeting and will complete supporting documentation in the near future. In accordance with current planning, I will be prepared to make the U.S. presentation on R&D in Central and Eastern Europe.

I look forward to working with you on February 25. In turn, I would like to invite you to join us at the next CISSET meeting on March 1, at which time you could summarize the outcome of the JCG, and provide S&T highlights from the President's Latin American trip and the Administration's new R&D budget. I hope you can join us at that time.

Yours truly,

Reginald Bartholomew

Dear Allan:

Many thanks for your letter of January 22, 1991 inviting me to represent E.P.A. at the first meeting of the newly-established U.S.-E.C. Joint Consultative Group on Science and Technology. I would be pleased to represent E.P.A. and look forward to the discussions with great interest.

Since I may have to be absent during part of the meeting, I designate Erich W. Bretthauer, Assistant Administrator for Research and Development, as my alternate.

In addition, I would like the following individuals to attend as observers:

- Alan Hecht, Deputy Assistant Administrator, OIA
- Carl Mazza, Senior Science Advisor, OAR
- Carl Gerber, Senior Science Advisor, ORD

Thank you again for including EPA as a member of the U.S. delegation to this important meeting.

Let me know anything else we can do in the preparation or follow up. -Wam regards,

Dear Dr. Bromley:

Allan

I am glad to learn that the Ciset has endorsed the U.S.-E.C. Joint Consultative Group on Science and Technology. As the European Community prepares for 1992, such a mechanism can assist us all in making the necessary transitions such that existing cooperation in science and technology with member states does not suffer. Also, it will allow us to take advantage of opportunities for expanded cooperation and pave the way for necessary changes in approach. Working cooperatively with the E.C. on issues such as encouraging peaceful change and improving the environment will contribute to long-term stability and regional security. Your leadership in this area will, I believe, constitute a lasting legacy for the U.S. science and technology community.

I look forward to hearing of the continued progress of the Joint Consultative Group.

Sincerely,

Charles
