THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

February 16, 1990

MEMORANDUM FOR JOHN H. SUNUNU

FROM: D. ALLAN BROMLEY DB
SUBJECT: THE COUNCIL ON COMPETITIVENESS

John Young, President and CEO of Hewlett-Packard, as you know, chairs the above mentioned Council comprising an outstanding cross section of U.S. industrial and academic leaders. They meet normally here in Washington and usually invite someone from the Administration or the Congress as their luncheon guest at the Madison Hotel. Roger Porter and I, for example, have met with them during recent months.

We in OSTP have been working with the Council in the development of both our own, and their longer range technology plans. John Young recently visited with me to discuss some of this activity.

At that time he asked me to remind you of their invitation to you to join the Council for its luncheon from 11:30 to 2:00 on Thursday, March 8. I think that you will find the members to be a very interesting group and they are very much interested in learning your views on the competitiveness question.

May I also remind you of your agreement to spend some time with Ian Ross and his semiconductor industry colleagues. If you would let me know a few dates that might be possible for you, I will try to get the group together. If you have no objections, might I also suggest that we include Tom Murrin of Commerce in the session.
