Dear Mrs. McCarthy:

Thank you for your moving letter concerning the actions of your government following the bombing of Pan Am Flight 103. Although you said you had written before, the White House has no record that your letter was received.

Since the terrible bombing over Lockerbie, we have undertaken, with the British, the largest criminal investigation of its kind so that we can identify and bring to justice those responsible for this outrage. In addition, new procedures are being implemented to strengthen airline security for passengers travelling on American carriers.

Also, I recently established a Presidential Commission that will review aviation security, as well as the treatment of the families of the victims of terrorist acts. I have enclosed a copy of the Commission's charter for your review. Be assured that the issues you raised, particularly concerning what the government does to assist the victims of terrorism, will be carefully examined.

Please know, Mrs. McCarthy, that Daniel has not been forgotten, nor have you and your family. Barbara and I are keeping you in our prayers during this difficult time. It is our sincere hope that your faith and the love of family and friends are helping to ease your sorrow.

With our warmest personal regards,

Sincerely,

GEORGE BUSH

EXECUTIVE ORDER

PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION ON AVIATION SECURITY AND TERRORISM

By the authority vested in me as President by the Constitution and laws of the United States of America, and in order to establish a Commission on Aviation Security and Terrorism, it is hereby ordered as follows:

Section 1. Establishment. (a) There is established the President's Commission on Aviation Security and Terrorism to review and evaluate policy options in connection with aviation security, with particular reference to the destruction on December 21, 1988, of Pan American World Airways Flight 103. The Commission shall consist of seven members appointed by the President. Two members shall be Senators, and two shall be Members of the House of Representatives; they shall represent both parties equally. The President shall consult with the Majority and Republican Leaders of the Senate and the Speaker and Minority Leader of the House of Representatives in making appointments from the Senate and House of Representatives, respectively.

(b) The President shall designate a Chairman from among the members of the Commission.

Sec. 2. Functions. (a) The Commission shall conduct a comprehensive study and appraisal of practices and policy options with respect to preventing terrorist acts involving aviation. In conducting this effort, the Commission shall evaluate the adequacy of existing procedures for aviation security, compliance therewith, and enforcement thereof. The Commission also shall review options for handling terrorist threats, including prior notification to the public. Further, the Commission shall investigate practices, policies, and laws with respect to the treatment of families of victims of terrorist acts.

(b) Within 6 months of the date of this order, the Commission shall submit a report to the President, which shall be classified if necessary, containing findings and recommendations. If the Commission's report is classified, an unclassified version shall be prepared for public distribution.

Sec. 3. Administration. (a) To the extent permitted by law and fully protecting intelligence sources and methods and the ongoing investigations into the destruction of Pan American World Airways Flight 103 of December 21, 1988, the heads of executive departments, agencies, and independent instrumentalities shall provide the Commission, upon request, with such information as it may require for purposes of carrying out its functions.

(b) Members of the Commission appointed from among private citizens may receive compensation for their work on the Commission at the daily rate specified for GS-18 of the General Schedule. While engaged in the work of the Commission, members appointed from among private citizens of the United States may be allowed travel expenses, including per diem in lieu of subsistence, as authorized by law for persons serving intermittently in the Government service (5 U.S.C. 5701-5707).

(c) To the extent permitted by law and subject to the availability of appropriations, the Department of Transportation shall, among other Administrative functions, provide the Commission with administrative services, funds, facilities, staff, and other support services necessary for the performance of its functions, and the Secretary of Transportation shall perform the functions of the President under the Federal Advisory Committee Act, as amended (5 U.S.C. App. 2), except that of reporting to the Congress, in accordance with the guidelines and procedures established by the Administrator of General Services.

(d) The Commission shall adhere to the requirements set forth in the Federal Advisory Committee Act, as amended. All executive branch officials assigned duties by the Federal Advisory Committee Act shall comply with its requirements with respect to this Commission.

Sec. 4. General Provision. The Commission shall terminate 30 days after submitting its report to the President.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Ahern:

My heart goes out to you for the tragic loss of your son, John,
in the vicious terrorist attack on Pan Am Flight 103.

After meeting Monday with the representatives of families of those who died on that fateful day, I now have an even better understanding of the pain and anguish that you all feel. What troubles me the most is how insensitive the response to you may have seemed at times. I can assure you this was not intended.

I have directed Secretary of Transportation Samuel Skinner to take whatever steps are necessary to enhance the future safety of American citizens, including close cooperation with international aviation authorities. Also, I want to assure you that, from the moment this terrorist act occurred, the Secretary of State, the Attorney General, and United States intelligence agencies have all been working vigorously to identify the cowardly murderers responsible for this crime.
We will not rest until they are brought to justice.

I know that no action by this government can restore the loss you have suffered. I also know that no guarantees are possible when dealing with a menace like terrorism. Our hope, though, is that stern measures can prevent other Americans from feeling the same pain you have felt.

Barbara sends her deepest sympathy along with mine. We will keep you in our hearts and prayers. God bless you.

Sincerely,

GEORGE BUSH

 My son, Lance was killed on Jan 103 - Dec 21, 1988. I'm a good business but now any girl my government.
 the people in America are more saving.
 I have a few questions I'd like someone to answer for me.
 I why is it difficult to get someone answer for the question of Jan 103

28th April 1989

Dear Mr. & Mrs. McCarthy,

A message from the Trustees to the relatives of those who were on board Pan Am Flight 103

All of the Trustees wish to extend to you and your family our heartfelt sympathy in your recent loss. The whole community of Lockerbie, who themselves have suffered so much as a result of the air disaster, would wish to join us in expressing our hope that you are now getting back to normality following such a senseless act of terrorism.

Our purpose in writing to you is twofold. It is a normal reaction to a major disaster in our country to launch an Appeal Fund and this was done very soon after the Lockerbie disaster. So far the Fund has raised £1.8 million. It is not the purpose of the Fund, nor would it be appropriate, to make a general distribution to the next of kin of all those whose lives were lost in the disaster. However, if any immediate relatives are suffering particular financial hardship we would like to know about it to see if we can assist. We know that no amount of money can compensate for the loss of a loved one and we do not wish to intrude into your grief; but if you feel we can help would you please contact Gordon Smith, the Trust Fund Manager.

Our second purpose in writing is to advise you that we wish to offer you and your family a lasting token of remembrance in the form of an inscribed bible or a suitable alternative book in accordance with your wishes. This could be passed on to future generations and we believe that such a book would be cherished by many families in future years. This will be additional to suitable forms of permanent memorials which will be located in Lockerbie and District.

We hope that all families who lost loved ones on Flight 103 will accept this offer and it would greatly assist us if you could complete and return the enclosed form or write a short letter to enable your wishes to be met.

Yours Sincerely,

Gordon Smith

Mr. Gordon Smith, Trust Fund Mgr.
The Lockerbie Air Disaster Trust
Lockerbie, Scotland

Dear Mr. Smith:

How nice to receive your letter of April 28th on behalf of the Lockerbie Air Disaster Trust.

Your two-fold offer is so consistent with the actions of the Lockerbie community ever since December 21st. We were impressed with your constables and your letter has fortified our desire to some day visit the community where our son Dan was last alive. It is with reluctance and a tinge of sadness to report that your expressions of comfort are and have been done with a great deal more grace than anything done by the hierarchy of my own government or by Pan American.

As to your offer of financial assistance. We thank you, but we are not in any such need. I believe my son Peter has sent a donation of $500 which we trust will be of some small assistance in your efforts.

As to the Memorial Bible, Yes-we would love to have this reminder of Dan, and we look forward to hearing from you.

With much admiration, we remain

Dear Mr. McCarthy

I acknowledge receipt of your request for a memorial bible. It may be some time before all the forms are collated, orders placed, etc but the Trust will fulfil your wishes as quickly as possible.

Thank you for your letter which I much appreciated. In corresponding with so many families united by this tragedy, I am conscious of the difficulties all are facing. I have never been able to remain totally detached, perceiving the administration of the Trust as some temporary responsibility, but rather that in some small way I have grown to know a little about each family.

I hope that some day you will be able to visit Lockerbie and that we shall have the opportunity to meet.

Yours sincerely

Dear David:

Many thanks for your letter. I did receive the lure you sent me, although I haven't had a chance to use it. I appreciate your thoughtfulness, and if I do catch an award-winning bluefish using your lure, I'll be sure to let you know.

Best wishes and thank you again for your thoughtfulness.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Boyer:

Thank you for your terrific letter. I always enjoy recalling the fist-pounding joke.

That lighthearted story cuts right to the heart of what makes America great. We are a country whose government is responsible to the people, which also means that we are responsible to each other. Thanks for the gentle reminder.

It's a wonderful privilege to be in the White House. You can be certain that I'll try my hardest to live up to your expectations of me as the President of the United States.

Barbara joins me in sending our best wishes.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Contu:

Barbara and I were deeply saddened by the bus accident that brought such pain to the families of Mission, Texas. At a time like this, words cannot adequately convey our sorrow. But we pray that the families and neighbors who were touched by this disaster are comforted in the knowledge that Americans from coast to coast are keeping them in their thoughts and prayers.

When faced with tragedy, there is an enduring source of strength and consolation if we have the will and wisdom to turn toward it. It comes from knowing that God holds these wonderful young boys and girls in His loving arms.

May God bless you and continue to comfort and care for you in the days ahead.

Sincerely,

Dear Andrea:

Jeri Both wrote to tell me about your recent operation. As you go through this difficult time, Mrs. Bush and I want you to know that we are keeping you in our thoughts and prayers.

We've been told that your faith in God and your positive attitude toward yourself and others have been an inspiration to those around you. You have much to be proud of, and we hope that you will continue to draw strength from your many friends at Hopetown.

The Secret Service Agents, the White House Guards, the staff of the Correspondence Offices, and all those who met you during your tour of the White House send their warmest wishes to you.

Keep up the good fight, Andrea. May God bless you.

Dear Woodye Kaye:

We had a very nice visit with Paul's grandmother and aunt and uncle last week. I think they had a good, but hurried, time. I know we enjoyed having them at the White House.

Although I don't know what our schedule will be while you are in Washington, I have passed your letter on to our Scheduling Office. They will let you know if something can be arranged.

In the meantime, Barbara and I send our best wishes to you and your family.

Dear Mr. Easton:

Thank you for your nice note. Barbara and I were pleased to hear you enjoyed our televised tour of the White House. We feel the Presidential living quarters are such an interesting part of our nation's history that we were happy to have this opportunity to show them to the American people. Indeed, because ours is a "government of the people, by the people, and for the people," the White House really does not belong to us -- it belongs to all Americans.

Barbara and I appreciate your kind words and your support. God bless you.

Dear Lynn:

Thank you for your thoughtful and kind message.
I treasure your words of friendship and support.

How lucky you were to have Mrs. Stienle as a teacher last year. I'm certain that she is proud of you and your classmates for the personal decision that you've made to avoid drugs and to help our nation become drug-free.

Your words are encouraging, Lynn -- they tell me

Dear LaAnn - Dave,

Governor Sullivan told me of your donation of a lovely painting to the visiting Soviet delegation. This generosity and the spirit behind it is bound to have made a most favorable impact on our visitors.

Mike Sullivan said the gift was "anonymous". I will respect the anonymity but I just wanted to thank you.

If the Soviets have a little better feel of America's heartbeat because of your generosity then you've helped your country - Gratefully, Liz Paul

Dear Mrs. Warren:

Barbara and I were deeply saddened by the death of your husband, and we share in your sorrow.

As America's first Poet Laureate and as a three-time winner of the Pulitzer Prize, Robert Penn Warren will always be remembered with admiration and respect. In his poems and in the pages of his books we find lessons on justice, power, love -- on man struggling to learn his place in the world. He spoke to us in the accents of the American South about truths as ancient and universal as human history itself. America and the world have lost a writer, poet, teacher, critic, and philosopher of the first order -- a man who was what he wished to be: "an honest witness of his time." He will be greatly missed.

We send our deepest sympathy, with our prayers for strength and peace for you and your family in this difficult time. God bless and keep you.

Sincerely,

Dear Sergeant Washington:

Thank you for your thoughtful letter. I appreciate the sentiment that prompted you to write, as well as your generous offer to pass up a pay raise.

While your willingness to make sacrifices for the sake of our country is truly admirable, I believe that the men and women who serve in the Federal government should be adequately compensated. In order to attract and retain highly qualified persons, such as research scientists and managers with the skills necessary to direct the complex functions of Federal agencies, we must offer salaries that are competitive with the private and not-for-profit sectors of the economy. That is why I have asked Congress to increase the salaries for senior government executives. Of course, higher salaries must be accompanied by a strengthened relationship between pay and job performance, which is why my pay raise proposal also includes certain requirements designed to demonstrate excellence in job performance.

Nevertheless, we cannot agree more on the importance of setting an example of personal responsibility and concern for our communities. Government can do only so much in solving the problems before our country -- indeed, America's greatest strength has always been the hard work and generosity of individuals such as you.

Thank you for the service you have already rendered to our country as a member of the Armed Forces. All Americans are grateful to those who have dedicated themselves to protecting our freedom.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. President,

Greetings from Costa Rica. I saw in the local paper that you had accepted the invitation of President Arias to attend the conference on democracy here in October. Everyone is thrilled - the people of Costa Rica are big fans of yours.

As I've mentioned to you in the past, I have a food manufacturing plant in San José. You've emphasized many times the importance of strengthening the private sector in less developed countries, and I want you to know I am doing my part. Our company imports agricultural products from the U.S. as raw material, we employ 14 Costa Ricans, and we expect to have export sales of over one half million dollars for the year 1989.
