January 7, 1990

Dear Maureen,

Yes I am a note answerer, and a note writer, and a self typer because my handwriting is pretty awful.

You aks about Marlin:

He is a serious contender for the coveted Scowcroft Award. Marlin, though it is early in 1990, has already demonstrated an amazing ability to fall asleep at the drop of a hat. He needs to improve his record on sleeping in important meetings. The Scowcroft award gives extra points for he/she who totally craters, eyes tightly closed, in the midst of meetings; but in fairness a lot of credit is given for sleppng soundly while all about you are doing their thing. Here Marlin~~z~~ does very well.

As I say, it is early in January, but already, Marlin Fitzwater is building on last year's record. It was on a short hop from Texas to Alabama, early in the A.M. when most were just getting 'hyped' up for the day that Marlin, mouth open, head back, set a new high standard. It is said that 2 people were talking to him when he clonked out- an amazing performance.

Marlin is a hat man. Most men, at least younger men Marlin's age (younger by my guage) are careful about hats- not Marlin. Unafraid over what his peers might think, he'll try any hat. You might think this is trivial. I don't . I respect him for this-a trait some would consider eccentric.

You ask about tennis- Yes.

For awhile, when he was carrying excess tonnage the ranking commitee felt his claims of prowess in Kansas were a bit exagerrated-- the committee watched, saw some potential but couldn't picture the gazelle like qualities he claims he once ha

*a record
that brought his close
to 1989 mmw
to*

Page-2- The subject is Marlin...

Now, however, slim fast having hammered his body into hard rock muscle, those critics can see what he meant about himself when he said " I used to run like a deer and have the finesse, on the court, of a fox-owl combined. Yes. Tennis. He's into it.

Humorist you ask?. Of Course-

For the most part Marlin's jokes could be told over there at the DAR HQ- well not all of them, but many. He laughs well and others laugh with him. He better though, how could he survive in that breifing room if he couldn't laugh it up from time to time.

What else?-Let's see...

He's a classy guy and I depend on him, not just when we land but when we take off, too. He's my guy and I am proud to have him at my side.

Now off to the Presidential Lecture Series on the Presidency. If Marlin attends and makes a serious challenge for "Seaworth Award" points I'll add a P. S.

12/30

Dear Mr. President:

You have sometimes answered notes from reporters, so that I thought I would give it a shot!

I'm working on a profile of Marlin — against his will — and I wonder if you have any funny anecdotes or reflections about him.

Everyone says Marlin
is a horrible guy,
and I wondered if you could save him!!

P.S. ~~Happy~~
New Year!

Thanks for your consideration,
Maureen Dowd

Sunday, January 7, 1990

Dear Mr. President and Mrs. Bush,

Dane and I shall "always" remember last Friday night at the movies. While the film, despite vignettes sparking memories for this former forest service firefighter - and I suspect for a former aviator as well - was "forgettable", the company clearly earned a most memorable "high 10"! Thank you, both for including us and for letting us pre-empt the prime seats in Millie's row!

Working for you, warm and caring gentlemen and lady that you are, is a special privilege and great joy. So, too, is it both a challenge and an honor to try my very best to help you leave, as one of your many (over)

LEGACIES, a cleaner and a safer world for kids to come ...

On a more personal note, Mrs.
Burk, your tenacity in the pool is an inspiration for me to keep pushing to stay in some semblance of shape.

We were a bit tardy in getting our brood mobilized this morning and hence, John Harper told us, missed seeing you and Nancy in Church. Please give her our very, very best...

Again, many, many thanks for a most enjoyable evening - and Happy Anniversary!

Sincerely,

M.L. and Jane
