COUNCIL OF ECONOMIC ADVISERS
EXECUTIVE OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT
WASHINGTON

December 26, 1990

MEMBER OF THE COUNCIL

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM:

JOHN B. TAYLOR JBT

SUBJECT:

Advance Durable Goods in November, Commerce
Department Release, Tomorrow, 8:30 a.m.

New orders for durable goods fell 10.5 percent in November, following a 3.6 percent rise in October. November's decline was larger than the 3 percent expected by private analysts. Although the decline in new orders was widespread across major industries, almost half of the decline was due to a nearly 40 percent drop in new orders for aircraft and parts. Orders for aircraft and parts had risen more than 20 percent in October.

New orders for nondefense capital goods fell 16.4 percent in November, and were down 6 percent after excluding the sharp decline in aircraft and parts orders.

Shipments of durable goods fell 3.6 percent in November, after a 1.5 percent increase in October. Almost all of the decline in shipments was due to a decline in motor vehicles and parts.

These data provide further indications of a fourth quarter decline in the industrial sector, and may suggest weakness carrying over into the first quarter of 1991.

THE SECRETARY OF COMMERCE
Washington, D.C. 20230

December 26, 1990

The President
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. President:

In accordance with Title 13, United States Code, Section 141(b), I am transmitting a statement showing the apportionment population for each State as of April 1, 1990, tabulated from the 1990 Decennial Census. The statement also shows the number of Representatives to which each State is entitled, using the existing size of the House of Representatives and the Method of Equal Proportions, as required by Title 2, United States Code, Sections 2a and 2b. Under Section 2a, you are to send this information to the 102nd Congress during the first week of its first regular session.

As noted on the enclosed statement, the apportionment population may be subject to change. Pursuant to a Stipulation and Order agreed to in litigation, I will consider the question of whether to adjust statistically the results of the 1990 Decennial Census to account for possible overcounts or undercounts of the population. My decision will be made in accordance with guidelines developed by the Department of Commerce and published in the Federal Register on March 15, 1990. It cannot be determined at this time, what effect, if any, a statistical adjustment will have on the apportionment or State redistricting.

If I decide that decennial census results should be adjusted statistically, the Census Bureau will publish corrected counts, if any, not later than July 15, 1991.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "R. Mosbacher", is written over the word "Sincerely,".

MEMORANDUM FOR: The Secretary

THROUGH: Michael R. Darby Michael R. Darby
Under Secretary and Administrator

FROM: Barbara Everitt Bryant Barbara Everitt Bryant
Director, Bureau of the Census

SUBJECT: 1990 Apportionment Population Counts

In accordance with the provisions of title 13, United States Code, section 141(b), I transmit herewith a statement showing the population of the 50 states and the District of Columbia on April 1, 1990, as ascertained by the Twenty-first Decennial Census of the United States. The statement also shows the number of Representatives to which each state is entitled using the apportionment population. The Census Bureau prepared these calculations using the existing size of the House of Representatives (435 Members) and the Method of Equal Proportions as provided for in Title 2, United States Code, Sections 2a and 2b.

The population counts set forth herein are subject to possible correction for undercount or overcount. The United States Department of Commerce is considering whether to correct these counts and will publish corrected counts, if any, not later than July 15, 1991.

CODIFICATION

Section, act Aug. 8, 1911, ch. 5, §§ 1, 2, 37 Stat. 13, 14, fixed the composition of the House of Representatives at 435 Members, to be apportioned to the States therein enumerated. For provisions dealing with reapportionment of Representatives and manner of election, etc., see sections 2a and 2b of this title.

Section, act Aug. 8, 1911, ch. 5, § 1, 37 Stat. 13, 14, fixed the composition of the House of Representatives at 435 Members, to be apportioned to the States therein enumerated. For provisions dealing with reapportionment of Representatives and manner of election, etc., see sections 2a and 2b of this title.

Section, act Aug. 8, 1911, ch. 5, § 1, 37 Stat. 13, 14, fixed the composition of the House of Representatives at 435 Members, to be apportioned to the States therein enumerated. For provisions dealing with reapportionment of Representatives and manner of election, etc., see sections 2a and 2b of this title.

(b) Each State shall be entitled, in the Eighty-third Congress and in each Congress thereafter until the taking effect of a reapportionment under this section or subsequent statute, to the number of Representatives shown in the statement required by subsection (a) of this section, no State to receive less than one Member. It shall be the duty of the Clerk of the House of Representatives, within fifteen calendar days after the receipt of such statement, to send to the executive of each State a certificate of the number of Representatives to which such State is entitled under this section. In case of a vacancy in the office of Clerk, or of his absence or inability to discharge this duty, then such duty shall devolve upon the Sergeant at Arms of the House of Representatives; and in case of vacancies in the offices of both the Clerk and the Sergeant at Arms, or the absence or inability of both to act, such duty shall devolve upon the Doorkeeper of the House of Representatives.

(c) Until a State is redistricted in the manner provided by the law thereof after any apportionment, the Representatives to which such State is entitled under such apportionment shall be elected in the following manner: (1) If there is no change in the number of Representatives, they shall be elected from the districts then prescribed by the law of such State, and if any of them are elected from the State at large they shall continue to be so elected; (2) If there is an increase in the number of Representatives, such additional Representative or Representatives shall be elected from the State at large and the other Representatives from the districts then prescribed by the law of such State; (3) If there is a decrease in the number of Representatives but the number of districts in such State is equal to such decreased number of Representatives, they shall be elected from the districts then prescribed by the law of such State; (4) If there is a decrease in the number of Representatives but the number of districts in such State is less than such number of Representatives, the number of Representatives by which such number of districts is exceeded shall be elected from the State at large and the other Representatives from the districts then prescribed by the law of such State; or (5) If there is a decrease in the number of Representatives and the number of districts in such State exceeds such decreased number of Representatives, they shall be elected from the State at large.

(June 18, 1929, ch. 28, § 22, 46 Stat. 26; Apr. 25, 1940, ch. 152, §§ 1, 2, 54 Stat. 162; Nov. 15, 1941, ch. 470, § 1, 55 Stat. 761.)

AMENDMENTS

1941—Act Nov. 15, 1941, provided for reapportionment based upon the seventeenth and subsequent decennial censuses.

1940—Act Apr. 25, 1940, provided for reapportionment based upon the sixteenth decennial census.

CONSTITUTIONAL PROVISIONS

Apportionment of Representatives among the several States, see Const. Art. I, § 2, cl. 3, and Amend. XIV, § 2.

TEMPORARY INCREASE IN MEMBERSHIP

Representation of States of Alaska and Hawaii in the House of Representatives as not affecting the basis of apportionment established by this section, see section 9 of Pub. L. 85-508, July 7, 1958, 72 Stat. 339, set out as a note preceding section 21 of Title 48, Territories and Insular Possessions, and section 8 of Pub. L. 86-3, Mar. 18, 1959, 73 Stat. 4, set out as a note preceding section 491 of Title 48.

SECTION REFERRED TO IN OTHER SECTIONS

This section is referred to in sections 2b, 2c of this title.

§ 2b. Number of Representatives from each State in 78th and subsequent Congresses

Each State shall be entitled, in the Seventy-eighth and in each Congress thereafter until the taking effect of a reapportionment under a subsequent statute or section 2a of this title, to the number of Representatives shown in the statement transmitted to the Congress on January 8, 1941, based upon the method known as the method of equal proportions, no State to receive less than one Member.

(Nov. 15, 1941, ch. 470, § 2(a), 55 Stat. 762.)

CERTIFICATES TO EXECUTIVES OF STATES

Section 2(b) of act Nov. 15, 1941, which required the Clerk of the House of Representatives, within 15 days of Nov. 15, 1941, to send a new certificate of the entitlement of a State to Representatives, if such a certificate had been sent prior to Nov. 15, 1941, under the provisions of section 2a of this title, was omitted.

§ 2c. Number of Congressional Districts; number of Representatives from each District

Census Fact Sheet

- o The total population of the United States counted in the 1990 census is 249,632,692.
 - The resident population of the United States (excluding federal military and civilian employees and dependents overseas) counted in the 1990 census is 248,709,873, an increase of 9.8 percent from the 1980 resident population of 226,545,805.
 - The Census Bureau last winter had projected a resident population of 250,172,000 based on the 1980 census, recorded deaths and births, and estimates of net legal and illegal immigration.
- o The new apportionment of the House of Representatives is in accord with previously published expectations.
 - The average size of a congressional district will be 572,466 people.
- o We believe that the 1990 census has been a very full, fair, and accurate process, characterized by transparency and openness. As a result, although the total population counted is somewhat higher than a number of observers had expected, the population shares among the states were in accord with expectations.
- o Questions on possible adjustments for undercount or overcount should be referred to Under Secretary Michael Darby or Deputy Under Secretary Mark Plant.

The figures were transmitted to the President by Commerce
Secretary Robert A. Mosbacher upon their receipt from Commerce
Under Secretary for Economic Affairs Michael R. Darby and Census Director Barbara Everett Bryant. Figures also were provided on final population counts for each of the 50 states and the District of Columbia.

The secretary also transmitted the official apportionment of the 435 seats in the U.S. House of Representatives among the 50 states.
The apportionment population includes the population of the 50 states plus the overseas military and other overseas federal workers and dependents not in the United States on April 1, 1990.
The population of the District of Columbia is not included in the apportionment population.

A total of 19 seats in the U.S. House of Representatives will be shifted as a result of the 1990 census. Eight states will increase their representation in the 103rd Congress, which will convene in January 1993. California will gain seven seats for a total of 52, Florida will gain four seats to 23, and Texas will gain three seats for a total of 30. Arizona (6), Georgia (11), North Carolina (12), Virginia (11), and Washington (9) each gain one seat.

Thirteen states will have less representation in the 103rd Congress. New York (31) will lose three seats. Illinois (20), Michigan (16), Ohio (19), and Pennsylvania (21) will each lose two seats. Iowa (5), Kansas (4), Kentucky (6), Louisiana (7), Massachusetts (10), Montana (1), New Jersey (13), and West Virginia (3) each will lose one seat.

An attached table lists the official 1990 census population for the United States and the number of representatives each state will be entitled to elect to the 103rd Congress, which is scheduled to commence in January, 1993.

The population counts set forth herein are subject to possible correction for undercount and overcount. The United States Department of Commerce is considering whether to correct these counts and will publish corrected counts, if any, not later than July 15, 1991.

clear, cold, perfect here

Dear Tim -

You shouldn't have done it; but,
I hastily add, I love my shirt. Now to get Saddam under control - then I can go to the keys, don my perfect

fishing shirt and go out for the 'big guys' -

I hope you, your Mom, and all had a very Merry one!

We sure did! -

Dear Bill - Bessie -

The Pixies are here --
well, some of 'em are still here.
They put that energy-giving burst into a family that has really enjoyed the Christmas. All were here - except 2 "grands"

I hope you all had a marvelous Christmas.

The older I get, the more
I realize how important friends
are. We are so lucky.

Thanks - Love -

Dear Velma, Masten too -

Thank you for that lovely Brooks tie; and Masten
the Pearl handled knife is a keeper. We had a great Cicy cold - lots of fires) Christmas
here with all our kids.

It was perfect; and I found myself counting my blessings for family and friends and saying a prayer or two for our noble kids in the Cubt.

I hope you, too, have
a Merry One. May thanks,
Cuz B/
